

An Appeal.

Love the haunts of Nature,
Sunshine of the meadow,
Shadow of the forest,
Wind among the branches,
Rain-shower and the snow-storm,
Rushing of great rivers
Their palisades of pine-trees,
Thunder of the mountains,
Numerable echoes
Eagles in their eyries;—
These wild traditions,
Lay of Hiawatha!
Love a nation's legends,
Ballads of a people,
Voices from afar off
To pause and listen,
Tones so plain and childlike,
In the ear distinguish
They are sung or spoken;—
This Indian Legend,
Song of Hiawatha!
The hearts are fresh and simple,
Faith in God and Nature,
Love, that in all ages
Man heart is human,
In savage bosoms
Longings, yearnings, striving
And they comprehend not,
Feeble hands and helpless,
Blindly in the darkness,
Is right hand in that darkness
Lifted up and strengthened;—
This simple story,
Song of Hiawatha!

WHERE 'WE WILL' THERE'S A WAY
—Chicago's New Proverb.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

The case came up again that afternoon. Three times already the hearing had been postponed to give him a chance to find the missing witness. Without the testimony of the man who was lost it was certain to be decided against his client.

The case involved the title to a piece of real estate just outside the loop which was worth $30,000. With all the early records destroyed by fire, it was necessary for his client to prove title before the court. That had proved easy except for one essential detail. A certain Guy V. Gregory had sold to the father of his client forty-five years ago. He had searched the country for Guy V. Gregory or some of his descendants. He had spent hundreds of dollars in advertising; had employed detectives; had offered a reward of $1,000 for a clew to the man who had vanished. Three times the judge had adjourned the case for ninety days to permit the search to go on. Today it was again on the call. It would be idle to ask for a further delay.

A COLD gray mist hung over the city. Half a dozen blocks away it hid even the outlines of the tall buildings. A fine rain dripped from the clouds. The asphalt streets glistened black and shining under the electric lights that were burning back of every window. Meadows turned in between the marble columns which guarded the entrance of a twenty story office building. He was going to call at the office of his client and advise him that it would be useless to ask for further delay.

The express elevator stopped first at the tenth floor. As the conductor slammed his door shut to resume the upward flight the adjoining car shot down and came to a stop beside them. Meadows glanced carelessly at its occupants. He looked full into the eyes of a woman. A flash of delighted recognition came over the face of each of them. Marie Clayton! After ten years of absence and forgetfulness to be looking into her eyes again with less than two feet of space between them!

INSTANTLY his car shot up and hers dropped. He waved his hand and caught a glimpse of waving white from the well at his side. From a staid lawyer approaching middle age, with an important case on his mind, Meadows was transformed into a reckless young philanderer, with the remembered lure of a girl's smile as the most compelling thing in the world.

He rushed out of the car at the next stop and hurried into one that was descending. He was sure that Marie Clayton would wait for him on the ground floor. In his haste he found that he had taken a local car. It was crowded and stopped at every floor. It seemed to him that it took half an hour to get to the bottom. His eager eyes took in the whole scene at a glance—the impressive elevator starter in his blue uniform; a group of men whispering together in the center of the rotunda; clerks and tired business men climbing the stairs to the bank floor; the steady currents of people going in and out through the revolving doors. Marie Clayton was not in sight.

MEADOWS himself went slowly out into the street. The double flood poured by, two hundred men and women a minute going in either direction. He walked to the corner, crossed the street, and ascended to his own office on the fourth floor of the opposite building.

Marie Clayton! A flash across ten years! Then the veil dropped again. That was life in a big town.

At any rate it would be more professional to ask his client to call at his own office. He picked up the telephone receiver and gave the number. Strange voices answered; there was confusion and a crossing of wires somewhere on the system. He impatiently jiggled the receiver and called central. The wires were still crossed. The voices were clearer. Half a

ANOTHER of the articles by "Observer" on the situation in Mexico will be published in tomorrow's issue of The Tribune. The series will continue daily thereafter.

"Observer" returned to Chicago last Saturday from a three months' trip through Mexico. A preliminary article, reporting the battle in Monterey late in October was printed Monday morning.

The series beginning tomorrow will consider the whole problem of the harassed country and the relation of the United States thereto.

MEXICAN REBELS CAPTURE VICTORIA; HUNDREDS SLAIN

Capital of Tamaulipas State Lost to Federals After Bloodiest Battle of War.

TAMPICO ALSO TAKEN?

Carranza's Aid Demands Credentials of Hale and Negotiations Are at End.

HUERTA INCREASING HIS ARMY

Brownsville, Tex., Nov. 18.—Victoria, capital of the state of Tamaulipas, Merico, was captured by the Constitutionalists today after what Gen. Pablo Gonzales, rebel commander, describes as the bloodiest battle of the revolution.

Gen. Gonzales says hundreds of the federal garrison were killed. A large number of the federals made a last stand in the city after being driven from a convent. Every one of these was slain.

The greater part of the garrison of 8,000 men fled from the city after forty-nine hours continuous fighting. They retreated to Tula, where they were overtaken by the Constitutionalists and again decisively defeated this afternoon. They fled into the hills. Gens. Rabago, Arsemendi, and Eugenio Aguilar commanded the federals.

It is added that Gonzales sent a large rebel force to head off the federal reinforcements from Monterey and defeated them.

Losses of Rebels Small.

The Constitutionalists were reported to number about 5,000 men. Their loss was four officers and between thirty and fifty men, according to Gen. Gonzales.

Terrible destruction to property was done in the two days battle which raged throughout the principal streets of the city, and many handsome buildings not razed by shell were leveled by the torch.

Before the federals abandoned the city hundreds of rifles were piled in front of the arsenal and burned, but the Constitutionalists leader reported that many of these were salvaged. In addition 300 horses, as many saddles, four cannon, and much ammunition were captured. A number of prisoners were taken.

Gives Control of State.

The capture of Victoria gives the insurrectionary movement control of the entire state except the seaport, Tampico. A strong force of rebels is operating near this latter town, and an unconfirmed report today said it had fallen into their hands.

Gen. Luis Caballero probably will be named military governor of Tamaulipas, in the organization of the state by the Constitutionalists.

Gen. Gonzales made his report by courier to Jiminez and by telephone from there to rebel headquarters at Matamoros. He said that bodies of the dead littered the streets and lay thick through the courtyard and halls of the government palace.

Federals March on Juarez.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 18.—Federals are advancing north from Chihuahus City in the direction of Juarez, captured by the rebels on Saturday morning.

A battle took place between the advancing federals and the rebels' rear guard at Laguna, midway between Juarez and Chihuahua, last night. Pancho Villa, captor of Juarez, admitted this today. He also admitted losing five men, killed in the battle, but said the federals lost thirty-five.

Villa did not have any details as to the number of men engaged on either side.

Five hundred dollars was paid by Gen. Francisco Villa today to Mrs. Christopher Seggerson of El Paso as indemnity for the death of her son, Charles Seggerson, an American chauffeur, who was killed during the recent battle in Juarez.

DEMANDS HALE'S CREDENTIALS.

NOGALES, Sonora, Nov. 18.—Francisco Escudero, minister of foreign relations in the Carranza cabinet, asked William Bayard Hale, President Wilson's agent, to present his credentials before continuing further with the conferences which have been under way here informally for several days.

This was interpreted by many as a virtual demand for recognition of the Constitutionalists revolution before the diplomatic exchanges between the Carranzistas and the Washington government are concluded.

Escudero explained that the request was made so that the conferences could be made formal and concluded promptly. He said that heretofore Hale had been received unofficially and that the cabinet members had acted merely as individuals in the "exchange of impressions."

Says Exchange Has Ended.

"For our part the extra-official negotiations are ended," Escudero said. "We have asked Mr. Hale to present his formal credentials. I would receive them as minister of foreign relations and transmit them to my chief.

"We have been glad to meet Mr. Hale on terms of friendliness, knowing of his previous investigations in Mexico and in view of his relation with Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bryan. The cabinet members on previous occasions met as individuals only. Each was a mem-

MISSOURI DOCTOR SLAYS CHICAGOAN

Putnam Cramer, Advertising Agent, Killed by Dr. W. T. Elam of St. Joseph.

MEET IN KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Putnam Cramer of Chicago, advertising agent for a magazine, was shot and killed this afternoon by Dr. W. T. Elam, a wealthy physician of St. Joseph, Mo., former city physician and a member of the faculty of Ensworth Medical college.

The tragedy occurred in Cramer's room in the Hotel Baltimore and was the outgrowth of accusations made by Dr. Elam that Cramer had been too friendly with the physician's wife. The shooting grew out of a clandestine meeting of Cramer and Mrs. Elam in Kansas City about three months ago. Dr. Elam learned of the meeting and employed John T. Glynn, a detective, to follow his wife and Cramer.

The detective established to his satisfaction that the acquaintance of Cramer and Mrs. Elam was a mild bit of flirtation, and so reported to Dr. Elam. The latter, however, refused to be satisfied, and urged Mrs. Elam to institute divorce proceedings.

Meeting of Two Men Arranged.

In an effort to clear up the marital difficulties of the Elams, Glynn arranged a meeting between Cramer and Dr. Elam at the hotel this afternoon. Cramer came to Kansas City with a cousin, A. V. D. Rouseau, to explain to Dr. Elam there had been nothing seriously improper in his attentions to Mrs. Elam.

The four men met in the hotel lobby. After a few desultory remarks Dr. Elam said:

"I won't talk here where everybody can hear."

"Why, I've got a room on the second floor," Cramer said. "Come up with me and we'll talk it over. Just you and I."

Glynn was disarmed by Elam's frankness and did not follow them to the room.

A few minutes later Elam came down, not the least bit excited, and said, "I've done it. I knew he was lying, so I killed him."

Find Cramer Dead in Room.

The two men ran upstairs to the second floor and to the room of Cramer. He lay on the floor dead. A bullet just under his heart had ended his life.

Dr. Elam surrendered and was taken to police headquarters.

"All I have to say," he declared, "is that I am sorry for the trouble I have brought to my poor old mother. I am ready to hang tomorrow."

Mrs. Elam left St. Joseph several weeks ago, after telling friends she was going to visit her parents' home in Detroit, Mich. Dr. Elam married her thirteen years ago. She was employed at that time as his office girl.

While Elam was being taken to the police station Glynn related the rapid succession of events that led up to the tragedy.

Detective Tells of Flirtation.

"It began about three months ago," Glynn said. "The Western Union Telegraph company office called up Mrs. Elam at Dr. Elam's office in St. Joseph to deliver a message. Dr. Elam in an inner office listened on an extension telephone and heard the message."

The message requested that Mrs. Elam, who is 29 years old and attractive, meet Cramer at the Hotel Baltimore the following day. Elam did not tell his wife he had overheard the conversation. Instead he employed Glynn to trail Mrs. Elam to Kansas City and see what followed when she met Cramer.

Mrs. Elam took an interurban trolley car to Kansas City the next day. So did Glynn.

At the hotel Mrs. Elam and a woman friend who had accompanied her from St. Joseph met Cramer in the lobby. The three had luncheon together and then went to a picture show.

They returned to the hotel, sat in the parlor and talked a while, and then the two women took the interurban back to St. Joseph.

Glynn says he shadowed the women every moment they were here, and he saw nothing improper. He told Elam that. The husband, however, did not believe the detective.

Elam's List of Questions.

Glynn arranged the meeting for this afternoon.

In Elam's pocket was found a card on which he had written a list of questions that he apparently had intended to put to Cramer. Whether he asked those questions and what answer Cramer gave only Elam knows. Here are the questions:

1. Where did you first meet Mrs. Elam?
2. If met her in Chicago?
3. If so, how long together and where and how was time spent?
4. If ever corresponded?
5. Where did correspond to?
6. If so, how many times?
7. Would like to see letters, if possible.
8. Would like to have a picture.

Tragedy Unknown to Mrs. Elam.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Unaware of the fact that her husband killed a man in Kansas City this afternoon, Mrs. W. T. Elam went to the theater tonight. With her were friends whose business it was to keep the news from her until morning.

MRS. CRAMER PROSTRATED.

Cramer's Chicago residence was the Arcola hotel, 2800 Lake avenue. His wife was there yesterday. They had no children. Residents of the hotel said that late in the afternoon newsboys for afternoon papers were stationed about the hotel corners shouting: "Extra! All about the Arcola hotel murder!"

C. D. Corbin, 20 Walton place, a distant relative of Mrs. Cramer, said she had been prostrated by the shock.

"Mrs. Cramer fainted," Corbin said, "when she learned by telephone from an evening newspaper reporter that her husband had been killed. The hotel people sent up to find out why the telephone was disconnected and found her there in a collapse."

DETECTIVE SHOOTS BAD MAN IN ORDER TO SAVE HIMSELF.

Sergeant Riley Probably Fatally Wounds James Duggan, Ex-Convict, Who Made Trouble in Picture Theater

The crowd outside a motion picture theater near Thirty-fifth street and Archer avenue last night gazed at the brilliant lithograph announcements of the thrillers to be seen inside. While they pondered the manager of the theater bounded into the street and then called to a policeman.

Howard Riley and William Gaynor, two of the new second class detective sergeants, ran up.

"There's a tough guy in there and he's raisin' h——" said the manager. "He won't come out."

"Yes, he will," said Riley, and the sergeants bounded through the door. A few minutes later they emerged, dragging behind them James Duggan and Oscar Dolitteaux of 3247 South Oakley avenue. Duggan knocked Riley down. The sergeant's billy slipped from his hand and he drew his revolver, fired a couple of times in the air, and then to save himself shot his assailant in the stomach.

Duggan dropped. Gaynor hung to his prisoner, while Riley telephoned for an ambulance. The injured man was taken to the county hospital, where he is expected to die.

According to the police, Duggan was convicted of murder several years ago and served a short term.

STOCK DEALS COST CHARITY $105,000

Bequests Made by Capt. John L. Davis Squandered with Estate by Executor.

TOLD IN Y. M. C. A. PAPER.

John L. Davis (as originally estimated), $17,500.

The estate of John L. Davis was lost in speculation by the executor. Nothing was received by the association.

The above appears in the November edition of the Official Bulletin, the periodical of the Young Men's Christian association. It is all that is told of a story that hitherto has remained unpublished, a story of misplaced confidence, speculation on the grain market, and suicide.

John L. Davis was once a steamship captain. For years he commanded ships on the great lakes. Davis accumulated a fortune estimated at well over $100,000.

Bequeaths Fortune to Charities.

The life of persons who go down to the sea—or great lakes—in ships is not conducive to the acquiring of Chesterfieldian manners, nor the most affable of dispositions. Capt. Davis was no exception. In a number of ways he led a hard life. Withal, however, he possessed a kind heart and was inclined to be charitable toward his fellow human beings. This trait, when he made his will, led him to make the following bequests:

Home for Destitute and Crippled Children	$17,500
Disciples' Divinity house, University of Chicago	17,500
Young Men's Christian association	17,500

There were also three other beneficiaries, making a list of six residuary legatees. They were to receive the same amount, $17,500 apiece.

Nephew Made Sole Executor.

Sailors, however shrewd and cautious they may be in the matter of cargoes, salvage, and other business at sea, are proverbially simple when it comes to business ashore. Again, Capt. Davis was no exception. He had a favorite nephew. The fact that the latter was a relative, and apparently a "pretty good fellow," was enough for Davis. So he appointed the nephew, one Charles S. McCoy, sole executor of the estate, without bond or accounting.

In 1899 Capt. Davis died. The beneficiaries of his will several times met with the nephew and asked that the amounts specified be turned over to them. McCoy but them off with one excuse or another.

The next that became known was that McCoy was "on the wrong side of the market" and had lost the entire estate. About four or five years ago, driven to desperation by remorse, without money, and with but few to call him friend, McCoy put an end to his life.

Neither the Young Men's Christian association nor any other of the beneficiaries named received anything from the estate.

ARNOLD ASKS CITY TO FORCE TERMINAL UNITY

Citizens' Expert Says Roads Must Work on Fixed Municipal Policy.

AGAINST PENN DEPOT

Favors Three Interconnected Main Stations and Depressed Tracks.

WANTS STRAIGHT RIVER

Bion J. Arnold, the citizens' expert, presented his ideas on the solution of Chicago's railway terminal problem yesterday afternoon to the council committee on terminals.

Mr. Arnold's report involves enormous engineering projects, the expenditure of many millions, which will be regained, and practically a reconstruction of the entire terminal map of the city. The results, Mr. Arnold predicts, will benefit the public materially, aid the growth and prosperity of the city, and be of much financial advantage to the roads themselves.

His ideas for changing the terminal conditions follow the general lines advocated by John F. Wallace, the expert employed by the city council committee. Mr. Wallace proposed permitting the roads to work out the plan some time in the future. Mr. Arnold would start the job at once. If possible he desires the voluntary coöperation of the roads, acting jointly with the municipality. If they refuse, he urges the city to use a club, refraining from giving any privileges for terminals until the roads agree to work in harmony with the city.

Opinion of West Side Site.

Mr. Arnold in the following sentence summarizes his opinion of the proposed site at Adams and Canal streets for the west side passenger terminal:

"In general I regard the present location of the union station as one of last resort, incapable of future expansion, and not at all located with reference to the recognized trend of business movement southward, or in conformity with the general policy of coöperation between the roads in working out a better solution."

Four Basic Principles.

The four fundamental principles advocated by Mr. Arnold are:

1. Straightening of the south branch of the Chicago river, increasing the value of the land removed from the west to the east side of the river from $7,000,000 to $30,000,000; and the opening up of many additional north-south and east-west streets.

2. Depression and placing in covered subways of all railroad tracks between Halsted street, State street, Twelfth street, and Randolph street, except the tracks of the Chicago and Northwestern terminal, which are assumed to be reasonably permanent, and the tracks of the Illinois Central railroad company, and those tracks lying between Canal street and the river, but the last two to be somewhat depressed.

3. Development and more efficient use of present railroad property in the business district, and the probable ultimate rearrangement and better use of the outlying tracks leading to this district.

4. Provision for interconnecting the main railway stations, with additional suburban station facilities in such a manner as to inaugurate the principle of through routing between the different railroad systems, by means of which a high speed through routing service could be established between the different main divisions of the city and adjoining suburbs.

Only Three Main Terminals.

Applying these principles Mr. Arnold would have three main passenger terminals. One is to be the Illinois Central, the other to be on the west side, south of Harrison street, and the third is the present Northwestern station. He would eliminate the Grand Central, the La Salle street, and the Dearborn street stations for through traffic, although in a modified way he is not averse to continuing them as stations for suburban traffic.

In fact, he urges the present La Salle street station be used extensively for rapid local transportation. For all these stations he would have underground tracks and he would have those of the La Salle street station connected with a railway subway in La Salle street connected with tracks on the north side of the river.

Opposes Pennsylvania Plan.

Mr. Arnold is opposed to the freight terminal scheme of the Pennsylvania railroad on the west side. He says it is not necessary for this road to have this terminal in order to erect a passenger terminal west of the river.

The site for the passenger terminal is freely criticised because Mr. Arnold asserts its location does not permit of its enlargement later, when traffic needs demand. With the passenger station located south of Harrison street, he points out the opportunities for the spreading out of the facilities later.

The expert presented a plan of connecting the stations with a system of rapid transit. Although he predicts he will be laughed at, he urges the inauguration of a system of through routing of the suburban traffic on various roads with an interchange of equipment and the use of tracks.

Regarding the pending ordinance of the Pennsylvania group of roads the citizens' committee, which employed Mr. Arnold to make the report, made it plain later it will strenuously oppose adoption of the measure. Alfred L. Baker, Julius Rosenwald, Morton D. Hull, John W. Alvord, and other members of the citizens' committee were present to back up their views. Mr. Baker read a statement from the committee in which he said relative to the Pennsylvania ordinances:

"As a result of our consideration of Mr. Arnold's report we must of necessity be unalterably opposed to the salient features of the contemplated Pennsylvania railroad ordinance.

"The report demonstrates the impropriety of permitting the railroad to carry out its freight terminal plans as proposed and also tends to show that in the ultimate interest of Chicago the passenger terminal should be pushed south at least as far as Harrison street. But whether that site should be adopted or not, the Pennsylvania company in tying its freight terminal scheme to its new passenger station and seeking to make the one dependent on the other is endeavoring to coerce the city to give it its freight terminal grant at the price of affording the public proper passenger facilities, a position to which this committee cannot give countenance.

"The report also shows that unless the demands of the railroad company are subordinated to the needs of the city and coordinated with plans for its proper expansion and development, inestimable damage will be done to Chicago and the municipality may disable itself from dealing efficiently and effectually hereafter with this most important problem."

See Relief of Congestion.

As further indicating they had given the report of Mr. Arnold some consideration the statement of the citizens' committee, through Chairman Baker, says to the aldermen:

"In behalf of this group of citizens and executive committee, I herewith hand over to your honorable body the report of Mr. Arnold and earnestly urge that your committee, before reporting to the city council any ordinances relating to the proposals of the Pennsylvania railroad, give this report the careful and profound study which its importance demands, having in mind the future welfare of our great and growing city, and keeping in view that now, at this very moment, is the critical, the opportune time to adopt some general terminal plan which will not only prevent the already increasing burdensome congestion of railroad tracks in the central business district of the city and the placing of a barrier about the outlying districts, but which will also pave the way towards a gradual relief of congestion already existing.

Urges Use of Club by City.

"The open sesame for the accomplishment of this result is to have the city compel coöperation on the part of and between the railroads, and this task the city of Chicago, by taking a firm stand, can bring about with the same degree of success as has already been accomplished by it in connection with the surface and elevated railroads of the city.

"Through routing and universal transfers once appeared far removed. Unification seemed equally distant. These things today are accomplished facts. Today the coöperation and coördination of steam railroads entering the city of Chicago present the same problems, differing only in detail and perhaps degree."

Backed by Arnold.

This same view is reiterated by Mr. Arnold himself in his own summary of his conclusions.

"I am convinced," Mr. Arnold says, "that the city of Chicago should grant no further ordinances to steam railroads or other railway companies seeking to rebuild their present terminal facilities or construct new terminals unless the ordinances contain definite provisions making the following fundamentals mandatory upon the road or roads benefited by the ordinance:

1. An agreement to coöperate with the other railroads affected, and with the city in strengthening the south branch of the Chicago river, in some such manner as previously discussed.

2. The placing within a definite time of all tracks of the steam railroad companies in covered subways beneath the street level, within the district bounded by Twelfth street, Halsted street, Lake street, and the lake front (except the elevated tracks of the new C. & N. W. station and such tracks as are now or may hereafter be located within the present depressed area between Canal street and the Chicago river; also the tracks of the Illinois Central railroad along the lake front).

Demands Opening of Streets.

"3. An agreement to coöperate with other railroads and the city in working out a plan which will open from time to time some, and ultimately all or practically all, of the north and south streets between State street and Canal street, and all or practically all of the through east and west streets between Randolph street and Harrison street, and also Polk, Taylor, and Twelfth, Fourteenth, and Sixteenth streets, which are now blocked by railroad property.

"4. Concentration of long distance passenger traffic into the fewest number of terminals practicable, and at such locations as will offer the least obstruction to the extension of the business district consistent with reasonable accessibility therefrom.

"5. An agreement to coöperate with the other steam railway companies and the city in the development to its fullest extent, along the most efficient modern lines, of the property now owned by various railroad companies within or contiguous to the business district of the city, with the ultimate object of the complete development of such property, so that the property now occupied by the companies in the business district between State street and the river can be vacated and devoted exclusively to business purposes, or the surface released for railway purposes by placing the tracks underground and developing of the property above the surface for business purposes.

Want Pay for Inconvenience.

"6. Where streets or alleys are closed, temporarily or for long periods, an equivalent area or value commensurate with the period of occupancy shall be given in return by the railroad in widening other streets.

"7. The city to reserve control over all sub-sidewalk and sub-pavement space, not specifically vacated in the ordinance, that may be required for suburban transportation systems or other public utilities.

"8. An agreement to coöperate with the city in the establishment of elevated thoroughfares across the railway property lying between the south branch of the river and Canal street, and westward as may later be deemed necessary. This system to be coördinated with the bridge levels established by the city and with the necessary changes in north and south thoroughfares to equalize the grades, so as to facilitate vehicle traffic. The ordinance to provide means for ascertaining and finally to stipulate the division of cost of such changes proportional to the relative benefits derived by the city and the companies respectively.

"9. Provision for a marginal way or river road contiguous to the river, extending along the railroad property west of the river between Lake street and Sixteenth street, and the development of suitable docking facilities, municipal or otherwise, along the entire way, and underneath the bridge approaches where practicable.

"10. Provision in all passenger stations hereafter constructed for through connected or interchange tracks, so as to permit interchangeability of suburban service between roads operating in different parts of the city.

"11. An agreement to coöperate with other roads to interchange the use of coach yard facilities with each other, if necessary to carry out the through routing or interchange principle for suburban service.

"12. Commitment to the effect that the company will coöperate with the other roads in the working out of a general plan whereby the roads may be systematically grouped and brought into two or more terminal stations with the least amount of track occupancy.

"13. An agreement to coöperate with other railroads and the city in establishing universal facilities at Clearing, or some other point, by means of which package freight (less than carload lots), now interchanged in the downtown district, will be interchanged at such clearing point, and thus prevent hauling freight into the business center and back again, as is done at present—the effect of which would be to release present downtown freight facilities for the legitimate use of freight destined to and from the business district.

Removal of Rail Obstructions.

"14. By means of obstructions due to railroad occupancy which decrease the width of the river channel as now established, so as to permit the construction of bridges without encroaching upon this river channel.

"15. The granting of an ordinance to the Pennsylvania company for a passenger terminal need not be conditioned upon the granting of an ordinance to the same company for the use of the proposed freight terminal, for it is not evident that the company will need this additional territory for freight purposes for many years to come if the roads owning the property between Canal street and the river would coöperate in developing it to its fullest extent.

"16. By means of double decking Canal street it makes the property west of and contiguous to Canal street available for terminal purposes, and there is no reason why if, after analysis, additional property is ultimately needed for freight purposes, it should not be allowed west of and contiguous to Canal street, provided tracks are kept underground and the property developed overhead for business or manufacturing purposes.

City Should Regain Control.

"17. How far these recommendations are enforceable through the interstate commerce commission or the state public utilities commission should be a subject for further study, but Chicago should now avail itself of the opportunity to regain control of its traffic districts.

"18. Inasmuch as the Chicago plan commission has been established and has done such extensive and commendable work for the betterment of Chicago, which has been recognized by having certain of its recommendations carried out, such as the widening of Michigan avenue and Twelfth street, and the present Lake Front park, the city authorities should still further see that no structure is reared by any railroad company which will prevent the ultimate realization of such parts of the original plan laid down by Mr. Burnham as have met with the official approval of the Chicago plan commission. And it is possible that this commission, acting jointly with the railroads, might constitute the proper channel through which this or some other satisfactory plan may be carried out."

Importance of Co-operation.

All through the report Mr. Arnold emphasizes the importance of making some effort to get the railroads to agree with the city for an improvement of the terminal situation.

"Instead of mild acceptance of the companies' demands," the document says, "I ask for coöperation, and I believe if the matter is approached in this spirit by the city, that the great majority, if not all, of the railroad companies will approach the city in the same spirit, and that practical results will follow.

"Therefore, I take the position that in the matter of terminal development the city from now on should exercise careful, direct, and detailed supervision, in order to guide into the proper channels railroad development, enforced if necessary through the temporary withholding of desired privileges, if this coöperative spirit on the part of the railroads is not evident.

"In the absence of such a policy, the recommendation of Mr. Wallace for the city to enlarge, widen, or extend its streets and thoroughfares leading to the south, and not to permit further encroachment thereon, will become impossible of attainment.

"The easiest thing for the city to do is to require nothing and let the railroads have what they ask; the most difficult thing for the city to do is to require the railroad companies to carry out the plan best suited to the entire city, at their own expense; the just thing to do is to join with the roads in carrying out, on some equitable basis, a plan which will gradually put into effect such recommendations in this report and those of Mr. Wallace as are considered sound, and some practicable method should be formulated for such a procedure."

Supports Chicago Plan.

The Arnold report asserts the "city plan of Chicago as approved by the Chicago Plan commission should be supported." Mr. Arnold summarizes other observations as follows:

"A law has been determined for the probable growth and future development of the passenger busines of the territory surrounding Chicago, and from this, it is found that railway passenger traffic will increase very much faster than the population; train movement as the square and passenger as the cube of the population for which facilities must be anticipated.

"The development of the river frontage to its maximum capacity for rail-to-water service and the establishment of public markets and dock facilities are discussed and suggestions made for future development.

"It is shown that as high as eight miles of route and fifty minutes in running time can be saved by more direct routing.

Pooled Freight Facilities.

"The subject of freight terminal development has been approached solely from the viewpoint of what capacity can be developed from a given area. The area at present occupied by the several roads can be developed to a sufficient capacity to last for the distant future; the only consideration being that the railroads pool their freight facilities in the same manner that they have already, in groups, pooled their passenger facilities.

"This investigation has developed into such proportions and scope that if the conclusions of this report are not acceptable further studies must be carried out to determine the contested points."

Three plans for the elimination of the river kinks are suggested. One to begin the straightening south of Twelfth street. Another to begin at Harrison, and the third at Van Buren street. The shifting of property from the west to the east side of the river would increase the value of the property from $7,000,000 to $30,000,000. Mr. Arnold places the holdings of the roads in the business district at 26,500,000 square feet, estimated to be worth $99,375,000.

Aldermen Adjourn Meeting.

When the council terminals committee had listened to the reading of the summaries the session was adjourned until next week. The committeemen left later for the east to study electrification of terminals. Mr. Arnold accompanied the committee and they will be joined by Mr. Wallace in New York.

Representatives of the railroad employés were present and wanted to know whether or not the depressing and covering of tracks advocated by Mr. Arnold means electrification of the terminals. Mr. Arnold said that while he favored electrification of the terminals, the tracks can be placed underground without the use of electricity. This did not satisfy the union railroad men.

Members of the committee seemed inclined to believe the electrification of terminals will be injected into the subject before it has progressed much farther.

Mr. Arnold Tells What the Ordinance of the Pennsylvania Does and Does Not Do.

IN his report on the terminal problem in Chicago Bion J. Arnold includes an analysis of the terms of the pending Pennsylvania ordinance, as follows:

WHAT THE ORDINANCE DOES.

1. Closes 4,900 lineal feet of existing streets and 400 feet of existing alleys without compensation therefor.
2. Allows the company to occupy subsidewalk space 6,500 feet in continuous length.
3. Allows the company to occupy Canal street full width for 2,300 feet, or five blocks from Madison street to Carroll street, in addition to one full block of subsurface rights under Canal street, between Adams street and Jackson boulevard.
4. Prevents the construction of four track subways in Adams street or Jackson boulevard to the west (likewise Canal street or Clinton street) by permitting subsidewalk occupancy.
5. Permits the company to preëmpt public space beneath Van Buren, Harrison, Polk, Taylor, and Twelfth street viaducts, also beneath Madison street viaduct, aggregating 3,800 lineal feet.
6. Permits a hump of 30.8 feet above city datum in Canal street over the proposed station concourse with a minimum sidewalk elevation of plus sixteen feet along the proposed property frontage.
7. Makes impracticable the double decking of Canal street by inserting a hump of twenty-nine feet above city datum in Harrison street over railroad tracks as compared with twenty-two feet at the river bridge and twenty-one feet at Canal street.
8. Allows company to extend viaducts to Canal street, but the abutting grade of Canal street is indefinite.
9. Gives the company right to develop terminal structures east of Canal street, from Carroll to Madison, on property now owned by private interests, provided it can make arrangements with present owners for its occupancy.
10. Permits company to raise bridge approaches over its tracks considerably higher than the river bridges.
11. Introduces new river obstructions crossing the river and the company's property to a uniform grade on Canal street.
12. Authorizes company to construct without reservation subways connecting its station with subway lines to be built, with no power vested in the city for the reservation of streets or subsurface rights which may be necessary for future subways.
13. Gives the company right to elevate the east sidewalk of Canal street to suit its purposes without regard to the grade of Canal street.
14. Changes all crossings of Canal street with east-west streets on level to grades up to 2½ per cent, except at Harrison and Twelfth streets.

WHAT THE ORDINANCE DOES NOT DO.

1. Opens no new streets.
2. Widens no streets (except Twelfth street along the Pennsylvania company's freight property).
3. Leaves Canal street with more humps than ever and prevents carrying out of a reasonable plan of double decking this street.
4. Ordinance does not provide for the equalization of approach grades on viaducts contemplated improvement not clearly defined.
5. Makes no provision for the construction of a viaduct across the company's property at Monroe street to connect with the future Monroe street bridge.
6. Marginal way along the river bank absolutely prohibited, also, the development of rail-to-water transfer facilities.
7. Boundaries of district covered by ordinance not clearly defined.
8. Does not state clearly who pays for regrading of streets and approaches other than those on or over the company's property.
9. Apparently does not make necessary the regrading of Canal street simultaneously with the railroad improvement, thus making possible wide difference in elevations between the east sidewalk and the street.

PENNSYLVANIA FREIGHT TERMINAL ORDINANCE.

1. Depresses Canal street and adjacent streets to an elevation of about two feet above city datum at Sixteenth street, whereas the present level of the street is about thirteen feet and that of the viaduct bridge twenty-six feet above datum.
2. Permits earthen fill or other retaining method along the elevated right of way.
3. Permits a structure elevated to forty-three feet above datum over Eighteenth street and fifty-three feet above datum at the crossing of Sixteenth street and 080 line tracks.
4. Appears to be inconsistent in the statement of elevation of tracks of the upper warehouse level.
5. Closes 1,100 feet of existing streets and 1,200 feet of alleys without compensating therefor.

INSPECT SUBWAY IN PHILADELPHIA

Chicago Aldermen See System Including Both Elevated and Surface Cars.

APPROVE THE PRINCIPLE.

T. E. Mitten, in Luncheon Talk, Suggests Western City Make Small Start.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The greater portion of Chicago's aldermanic local transportation committee today agreed that the Philadelphia subway, containing both elevated and surface cars, was to be commended to Chicago's needs, in principle at least.

A number are holding out for a subway commencement for surface cars alone, along the lines of the Arnold board of supervising engineers report. The believers in the practicability of the Harrison "comprehensive" subway are both few and uncommunicative.

Thomas E. Mitten, best known to Chicago by his rehabilitation work for the Chicago City Railway company and now chairman of the executive committee of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company, proved himself, though diplomatically, an adviser of a small subway start for Chicago at a luncheon given the visitors.

Mitten Urges Better Terminals.

"Chicago has two great traffic problems," said Mr. Mitten in answer to a query by Ald. Al Mayer, "in the elevated and surface lines. In my mind, the most imperative solution is better terminal facilities for your surface cars. They are not now taxed to their capacity if proper terminal facilities were provided."

Mr. Mitten and President C. O. Kruger of the local company escorted the aldermen over the Philadelphia Rapid Transit system, some six or seven miles of double tracks, beginning at the Delaware river. The subway practically begins at this water front and the trains emerge on the elevated structure at the Schuylkill river, three miles west, running in practically a straight line. At the city hall, midway between the two rivers, the surface tracks are encountered, running outside the elevated lines from the west and looping around the city hall by passing under the main tracks.

Chicagoans Get Object Lesson.

Taken in conjunction, the aldermen believed the Philadelphia system was an object lesson for Chicago, as indicating what relief even a minor subway could give to such congestion as is found daily in Chicago's loop district. Particularly was this true of the surface cars, the capacity being 120 an hour.

For nearly half an hour the Chicagoans watched the speedy loading of surface cars at the city hall subway loop and compared the conditions with those that might arise by Lake Michigan. At this particular platform there are three loading stations, indicated by numbers. A transparency with the names of the various lines indicated at which station the car might be entered, avoiding all confusion.

The only problem that arose was that Chicago would have perhaps twenty different lines passing through a subway, whereas Philadelphia has six. Whether confusion could be smoothed out as easily as in this city was a question. Mr. Mitten thought it could be.

Elevated Trains Almost Noiseless.

Aside from the subway proper the aldermen found food for thought in various features of the elevated service. One was noiseless operation which would have sent members of the Loop Protective association into hysteria. This was accomplished by following the German system by having a roadbed of rock ballast. Side doors, clean, sanitary monolithic floors were other points that strongly appealed and will likely be put up to the Chicago elevated railways managers.

Following luncheon Mr. Mitten told of his famous coöperative labor policy which has enabled him practically to eliminate the union from control of his employés, yet keep every one contented. The reason is what is known as the "twenty-two per cent fund."

This fund is 22 per cent of the gross receipts which is set aside as a wage increase reserve, and is also used for old age pensions and accident insurance. The better service the employés give the larger will be the fund, and in two years the wages have risen from 22 to 30 cents an hour by means of this fund.

Aldermen See Cars Built.

The afternoon was occupied in an inspection of the surface lines and a visit to the Brill car works as the guests of President Samuel Curwen and Treasurer Edward Brill, the latter the last of the family that founded the plant.

As the aldermen watched the process of producing a car an hour they marveled at the claims of the Chicago surface magnates that no cars could be obtained for love or money.

Philadelphia is wrestling with the same problem as Chicago, the comprehensive subway. A. Merritt Taylor, director of the department of city transit, has planned a system of additional subways and elevated lines to cost nearly $60,000,000. Also, as in Chicago, the existing traction heads are awaiting more definite proposals on the part of the city.

Tomorrow will be occupied with an inspection of the New York Interborough system, taking Manhattan in the morning and Brooklyn in the afternoon. The new and uncompleted subway will be viewed on Thursday and railways terminals on Friday.

Water Pipe Extension Inves gation Shows "Gross Extravagance."

Lucas May Be Replaced; Co plete Reorganization Recommended.

There was a shakeup yesterday in water pipe extension division of the dep ment of public works. Two district f men—William H. Dunn and Thomas Rowan—were suspended, and Hugh L. Lu for five years superintendent of the divis may be replaced pending an inquiry.

City Engineer John Ericson took ac after a conference with Lawrence E. Gann, commission of public works, follow the submission of a report by efficiency perts of the civil service commission. report charged gross extravagances and efficiency.

Mr. Ericson at once wrote to the civil s ice commissioners suggesting they nam competent man to take Lucas' place pen a hearing before the commission. It hinted in the city hall that the commis might not sanction removal of Lucas, wh said to be the victim of a bad system.

Inquiry Covers Every Branch.

The investigation, which has been goin for more than a year, was conducted by G. Heckathorne. His findings were appro by J. L. Jacobs, efficiency engineer in cha and Maj. James Miles, examiner in cha The inquiry covered every branch of th vision. Particular complaint is made ag the varying cost of maintaining fire hydr

Among the recommendations for imp ing the service is that the entire water extension division be reorganized, tha pairing and maintenance of fire hydr and other work in the various district standardized, and that the accounting tem be changed so as to permit of det cost supervision.

It is specifically urged that "the us intoxicating drinks be prohibited du working hours."

The First, Third, Fifth, and Sixth dist are shown by the report to be espec wasteful in fire hydrant maintenance. two foremen suspended were from the T and Sixth districts. Other foremen u the ban were not disturbed, Mr. Ericson for fear of disorganizing the service at beginning of the winter.

Hydrant Maintenance Cost.

The following table, taken from the re shows the variety of hydrant maintena cost, figured on a unit basis:

District 1
District 4
District 5
District 6
District 7
District 8

The alleged inefficiency and conseq waste is said to have cost the city $60,0 hydrant maintenance alone during 1912. gineer Ericson said 62 per cent of this am could be satisfactorily explained. He ceded that many of the criticisms in the pert's report were founded on actual co tions, however.

Drew These Conclusions.

After showing in detail how the city been losing money from lax methods efficiency experts drew these conclusion

That the present system of cost account is antiquated and unsuitable to accura show existing conditions.

That the unit cost of many of the mai nance items of the water pipe extens division is excessive and extravagant.

That there is no uniformity as to the t and method of performance of maintena work in the eight districts.

That there is wide variation in unit cos lems requiring similar maintenance in several districts.

That the item "miscellaneous cost" is large a percentage of the total expense.

That excessive and unwarranted numb of caulkers, performing the work of consu laborers, timekeepers, and assistant fores are employed on maintenance work.

That the work of clerks, bookkeepers, cost accountants is careless and inefficien result of improper supervision and po designed accounting systems.

That the lack of proper discipline and su vision of the field forces results in exces cost and poor workmanship.

"This investigation was made at the gestion of Commissioner McCann," Engineer Ericson, "for the very purpo improving the system and standardizin work. Before this report was receiv asked for $10,000 in our appropriation fo pert assistance in fixing new standard

TWO SUSPENDED BY CITY ENGINEER

Water Pipe Extension Investigation Shows "Gross Extravagance."

DUNN AND ROWAN OUT.

Lucas May Be Replaced; Complete Reorganization Recommended.

There was a shakeup yesterday in the water pipe extension division of the department of public works. Two district foremen—William H. Dunn and Thomas F. Rowan—were suspended, and Hugh L. Lucas, for five years superintendent of the division, may be replaced pending an inquiry.

City Engineer John Ericson took action after a conference with Lawrence E. McGann, commission of public works, following the submission of a report by efficiency experts of the civil service commission. The report charged gross extravagances and inefficiency.

Mr. Ericson at once wrote to the civil service commissioners suggesting they name a competent man to take Lucas' place pending a hearing before the commission. It was hinted in the city hall that the commission might not sanction removal of Lucas, who is said to be the victim of a bad system.

Inquiry Covers Every Branch.

The investigation, which has been going on for more than a year, was conducted by W. G. Heckathorne. His findings were approved by J. L. Jacobs, efficiency engineer in charge, and Maj. James Miles, examiner in charge. The inquiry covered every branch of the division. Particular complaint is made against the varying cost of maintaining fire hydrants.

Among the recommendations for improving the service is that the entire water pipe extension division be reorganized, that repairing and maintenance of fire hydrants and other work in the various districts be standardized, and that the accounting system be changed so as to permit of detailed cost supervision.

It is specifically urged that "the use of intoxicating drinks be prohibited during working hours."

The First, Third, Fifth, and Sixth districts are shown by the report to be especially wasteful in fire hydrant maintenance. The two foremen suspended were from the Third and Sixth districts. Other foremen under the ban were not disturbed, Mr. Ericson said, for fear of disorganizing the service at the beginning of the winter.

Hydrant Maintenance Cost.

The following table, taken from the report, shows the variety of hydrant maintenance cost, figured on a unit basis:

District 1	$14.47
District 2	7.63
District 3	13.80
District 4	6.28
District 5	10.89
District 6	10.76
District 7	8.82
District 8	5.35

The alleged inefficiency and consequent waste is said to have cost the city $60,000 on hydrant maintenance alone during 1912. Engineer Ericson said 62 per cent of this amount would be satisfactorily explained. He conceded that many of the criticisms in the expert's report were founded on actual conditions however.

Drew These Conclusions.

After showing in detail how the city has been losing money from lax methods, the efficiency experts drew these conclusions:

That the present system of cost accounting is antiquated and unsuitable to accurately show existing conditions.

That the unit cost of many of the maintenance items of the water pipe extension divisio is excessive and extravagant.

That there is no uniformity as to the time and method of performance of maintenance work in the eight districts.

That there is wide variation in unit cost of items requiring similar maintenance in the several districts.

That the item "miscellaneous cost" is too high a percentage of the total expense.

That excessive and unwarranted numbers of outdoors, performing the work of common laborers, timekeepers, and assistant foremen, are employed on maintenance work.

That the work of clerks, bookkeepers, and cost accountants is careless and inefficient as a result of improper supervision and poorly designed accounting systems.

That the lack of proper discipline and supervision of the field forces results in excessive cost and poor workmanship.

"This investigation was made at the suggestion of Commissioner McGann," said Engineer Ericson, "for the very purpose of improving the system and standardizing the work. Before this report was received I asked for $10,000 in our appropriation for expert assistance in fixing new standards."

KLIO ASSOCIATION OFFICERS ADMIT FINANCIAL TROUBLE.

Voluntarily File Schedule in County Court, Giving Assets as $1,585 and Liabilities $3,178.

The Klio association yesterday filed a voluntary schedule in the County court giving its assets as $1,585 and its liabilities as $3,178. It was signed by Mrs. Florence O. McCleland and Mrs. Belle C. Chadwick, president and secretary of the association.

Members ascribe the causes of the downfall of the organization to mismanagement of former officers; the complete change in the board of directors every two years; "bad location" of the lunch room; recent typhoid scare which caused the lunch room to be closed, and a quarrel which nearly disrupted the association.

"A few years ago we had lots of money," said one of the members last night. "Then a president sold our $11,000 worth of bonds and put the money into a checking account. That same year we gave $3,000 to charity. The money soon dwindled."

Mother and Children Are Forced to Go to the Neighbors.

TWO VAN MEN SWOOP DOWN.

Use Advantage of Widow's Absence with Her Sick Son.

Mrs. Ida Andres of 2925 East Ninety-sixth street was forced last night to accept the hospitality of her neighbors.

Mrs. Andres, several months ago, bought several articles from the General Furniture company at Ninety-second street and Houston avenue. In May her husband, an expert egg candler, died of tuberculosis, cutting off her principal support. His death left her fighting to take care not only of herself but of her seven children, of whom Edward is the oldest. He is 18 and sickly, as events proved.

Illness Brings Catastrophe.

For some time, in spite of the husband's death, Mrs. Andres was able to pay her installments on the furniture. Then Edward became ill and the payments lapsed. On Monday Mrs. Edwards took him to a hospital.

It was in Mrs. Andres' absence there came two van men of the furniture company and started to remove the furniture. It was easy, for Lillian, who is 16, and Lawrence, who is 14, were away and in the house was only the "little mother" of the family, 12 year old Violet, and the three younger children, Louise, Julia, and Grace. A neighbor protested, and the van men stopped work.

"It's ain't square, Joe," said one finally. "Come on away."

They went back to the store, where their confession of unwillingness to take a stove away from a 12 year old girl did not receive a favorable hearing. They were sent back, this time with a "credit man," on whom the neighbor's pleas and Violet's tears had not the slightest effect. He superintended the work of tearing out the only stove in the house, ripping up the oilcloth, and taking mattress and curtains.

Furniture People Worried.

Perhaps the man took too much, for yesterday the van returned. Mrs. Andres refused to accept the furniture, her attorney advising her the concern had taken goods it never owned and was liable for damages. The van came back twice more, the last time with more furniture than was taken away, and perhaps today Mrs. Andres will decide to take it.

"It's a mistake," said Charles Kaufer, manager of the concern; "we want to make good."

Man Who Is Prosecuting Pickpockets Warned to Desist or Be Slugged by Thugs.

G. H. Cotter of the Cotter Cleaning company, 922 Laflin street, last night received a threat over the telephone that if he did not desist from his prosecution of the pickpockets who held him up in October he would be waylaid and beaten. He was advised to keep away from court on Saturday when the cases come up under penalty of serious injury. The informant said Mr. Cotter would be beaten to such an extent he would not be able to attend court. He appealed to the police for protection.

SAYS KIN WRECKED ESTATE

Mrs. Nichols Accuses Sister-in-Law of Dissipating Fortune.

ONLY $20,000 NOW LEFT.

Declares She Caused Disinheriting of Grandson by Undue Influence.

An allegation that a $2,000,000 estate has shrunk to $20,000 in less than a year is made in a suit filed in the Superior court yesterday by Lillian M. Nichols, guardian of Charles H. Nichols, minor, against Carrie M. Tyler, executrix, in an effort to set aside the will of Mrs. Abbie Nichols.

Mrs. Nichols died on Nov. 29, 1912. When the will was probated it was found that Carrie M. Tyler, Mrs. Nichols' daughter, was bequeathed all the property, to the exclusion of Charles H. Nichols, Mrs. Nichols' grandson.

The bill alleges that previous to the death of Charles M. Nichols, favorite child of Mrs. Nichols, Carrie M. Tyler had not been on good terms with her mother. Following his death, however, it is said her entire attitude changed, and that due to her mother's increasing age and the consequent weakening of her mental faculties, she was able to gain control of her will and to fraudulently influence her in the making of her will.

It is alleged that during the years previous to her death, with the aid of Charles Morrison, a brother, Mrs. Nichols was induced by Carrie Tyler to transfer the bulk of her property to her, so that at death only $20,000 of an estate of $2,000,000 remained. It is further charged that Mrs. Tyler convinced her mother that the grandson, Charles H. Nichols, was the illegitimate son of Charles M. Nichols, and so poisoned his grandmother against him.

FINES KEEPER OF GLENCOE INN.

Court Imposes $150 on Charge of Keeping Gambling House for Boys.

George Ligare, caretaker of the Glencoe Inn, did not express himself as in favor of Glencoe reform last night. During the day he was fined $150 and costs for keeping a gambling house where boys of 17 to 20 years played. He pleaded not guilty, but after listening to the testimony of some of the boys captured in the raid he admitted they had gambled on the third floor of the inn several times and paid him $1.50 for the use of the room. Several of the boys have pleaded guilty.

Arrest Comrade of Slain Man.

Birnamwood, Wis., Nov. 18.—Joseph Lock was arrested here today, charged with the murder of John Schuler, near Webster, S. D., last April. Schuler was found with his skull crushed on a farm near Webster. Lock, it is alleged, was traveling with Schuler at the time.

CLOAK MAKER FOILS THUGS

Prevents Theft of Money He Was Carrying to Pay Employes.

SHOUTS AND IS BEATEN.

Other Crimes of the Day Include Two Thefts of $1,000.

Armed thugs invaded the downtown district again yesterday in the middle of the afternoon and tried to rob Isaac Yastrow of the cloak manufacturing firm of Yastrow & Henderson of $2,350 he had just obtained from the bank for pay roll and other purposes.

The pair apparently knew something of Yastrow's time for going to the bank, because when he climbed to the second floor of the building at 337 South Market street the gaslight in the corridor was out and the hall was quite dark.

There was still enough light for him to see a revolver shoved into his face, with one of the robbers ordering him to keep quiet and turn over his money.

Instead of obeying Yastrow clutched his pocket and yelled. The thugs struck him violently, then bolted downstairs and down the street.

There were plenty of other activities by the crime league, varying from jewelry robberies to safe blowing expeditions, among them these:

$1,000, Adams Express company; wagon thief.

$25, Hera Drug company, 1201 Ogden avenue; safebreakers.

$1,000, La Salle cigar factory, 71 East Forty-third street; burglars.

$7, Thomas Connolly, Ogdensburg, N. Y.; pickpocket.

$127, W. G. Testmeier, 6408 South Halsted street; forgery.

The window smasher was also about, but got little for his pains in breaking the window of a shoe store at Dearborn and Van Buren streets, for all four shoes he pulled through the hole were for the right foot.

BIDS MAYOR SHUT CAFE-FLAT

Lawyer Says Building Department Ought to Deny Permit.

POINTS POLICE POWERS.

Asserts Abe Lewis' Place Will Hurt the Community.

Just why the building department issued a permit for the construction of the peculiar building now being completed at California avenue and Madison street should be investigated by Mayor Harrison, believes one Chicago attorney.

He is Edgar J. Cook, with offices at 1040 Otis building. After reading THE TRIBUNE yesterday, in which the construction was described and in which it was stated Abe C. Lewis intends running the place as a saloon and "ladies' café, while an adjoining stairway will lead to the rooms of a "Miss Kitty" next door, Attorney Cook wrote a letter to Mayor Harrison.

The letter was as follows:

I desire to direct your attention to page 7 of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE of the above date (yesterday), and more specifically to an article entitled "Café-Flat Stirs Neighbors," which I believe to be of sufficient importance for your immediate attention.

That a building permit has been issued for the construction of such a building should be the subject of rigid investigation, for if similar laxity should take place in the building department and become prevalent the tendency to evil will be an existing fact. There can be no doubt but that the erection of such a structure can have no other than a pernicious influence upon the morals of the community.

The police power of the state, it seems to me, is as much within the use of the building department, and the examination of specifications in the granting of building permits, as far as the morals of the community are concerned, as it is within the use of the executive, and therefore it should be as much the duty of the commissioner of buildings to protect the morals of the community as it is to protect it from personal injury.

SCHOOL TRIES OUT COMMISSION RULE

Lake View High Pupils Adopt Government Elected to Office by Themselves.

SUASION CHIEF METHOD.

Offenders Against Discipline or Morals Will Be Talked Out of Wrong.

"Say, old man, constant swearing will hinder you in acquiring a good, forcible, polite English language vocabulary."

That, in substance, is ordinance No. 1, commission government, Lake View High school.

"Your slit skirt is so becoming, dear, but really they're going out of style at Lake View, so many of the girls have decided not to wear them."

That is ordinance No. 2, and applies to the feminine population only.

The two ordinances are merely an example of the character of the government which the high school commission government is going to enforce.

Here Are the Officials.

Charles Fischer is president of the commission and in charge of the committee on morals, dress, courtesy, school spirit, and honesty. The other commissioners are June Delang, in charge of attendance; Wilma Lloyd, in charge of school improvements; Kenneth Gram, in charge of public health, and George Peck, in charge of public safety. All were elected by the students after primaries. Each commissioner has thirty deputies beneath him, who have charge of the work of one of the committees in one room.

The foundation stones of the school government will be tact and diplomacy, according to Fischer.

"We don't intend to punish any one," he said, after he was installed in office. "We are going to use individual work. If one of my deputies sees a pupil smoking a cigaret in the basement, spitting on the floor, placing odorous chemicals in the gymnasium, swearing, acting discourteously, or 'starting' anything, he will just talk to him.

"He'll try to mention casually that such things ought to be stopped. If he has any trouble he'll report the case to me and I'll work on the offender. We have a bunch of good fellows in the school and we don't expect much trouble."

How the Girls Go About It.

"An example of the way we're going to act is shown by a massmeeting of girls we held a few days ago, before the commission government went into effect," said Miss Delang. "Some of the girls talked over the matter of slit skirts. We decided they weren't exactly becoming to high school girls. We held a massmeeting and put it up to every one. It was decided to eliminate the slit skirt, and every girl who had one went home and sewed up the slit without a murmur."

TANGLES TANGO WEDDING TALE

Guest Gives Information That Castles Danced During Ceremony—Dancing Came Afterward.

An invitation was extended to THE TRIBUNE by Mr. M. Bernstein to cover the wedding of Miss Florence Eisendrath to L. M. Stein at the Blackstone hotel Monday evening. The reporter was asked to wait in an ante-room until after the wedding.

Later a guest who assumed to be delegated to give out the details of the event said that Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle, the dancers, had led the wedding march by dancing "The Castle Walk" to the air of Lohengrin.

The story to this effect was printed yesterday. Its only basis in fact was that the Castles danced a few steps after the wedding—but not during the ceremony. Mrs. Castle was matron of honor at the wedding.

BAR OUT THE JAPS, FEDERATION SAYS

Big Labor Body Demands Exclusion of All Asiatics from United States.

BARRIER FOR CAUCASIANS

Wants Literacy Test for Europeans and Would Check General Immigration.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 18.—With only five dissenting votes, the American Federation of Labor today passed resolutions demanding the exclusion of all Asiatics and a literacy test for Caucasians.

The executive council of the federation is instructed to consider the inadvisability of the establishment of a department of immigration and the appointment of a press agent or correspondent to keep up correspondence with European labor and other papers, in order to give publicity to the existing condition of workers of all nationalities in the various industries of this country.

Copper Lands Resolution.

The attack on the alleged illegal holdings of copper lands by companies operating in the Calumet, Mich., district, forecast yesterday during the discussion of a resolution urging support of the striking copper miners, was begun by the federation today when a resolution was introduced demanding that the federal government begin legal proceedings to recover the land alleged to have been obtained by fraud. The resolution was referred to the committee of the executive council.

The convention made rapid progress with the report of the committee on the report of the executive council, instructing the council to continue its efforts to obtain limitation of injunctions, seamen's legislation, workmen's compensation, increased compensation for postoffice clerks, more facilities for the federal department of labor, a federal bureau of health, additional safety appliances on railroads, including automatic stops, and abolition of convict labor.

Kills Benefit Amendments.

The federation voted down two constitutional amendments having to do with the payment of strike benefits. Advocates of the amendments declared the Industrial Workers of the World had accomplished much that the federation had been unable to do because of the provision of the constitution making strike benefits available only to those who had been members of a union at least a year.

"I have heard enough about Industrial Workers of the World charging the American Federation of Labor with not doing its duty," President Gompers declared. "It will be a sorry day for labor when we stoop to meet the frivolous, purposeless charges made by that sort of people."

Two Physicians Testify and Urge Against Corporal Punishment—Defense Opens Today.

Pontiac, Ill., Nov. 18.—The civil service commission trying Dr. Marshall, former physician of the state reformatory here, today sought expert testimony on practices common among boys in the penal institutions. Dr. Marshall is charged with striking boys.

Dr. R. B. Singer of Chicago testified there are general symptoms by which the practice may be determined. He advised against corporal punishment except in extreme cases. R. E. Vonkleinsmid of the Jeffersonville reformatory said his experience on this subject was limited.

Another gang of "cartoon swindlers" is loose on the north side. Three men appeared at various saloons yesterday, saying they were preparing a book of drawings and had been sent there "by the Press club and John McCutcheon." In some cases they are said to have made collections on their confidence game. Nothing is known of the gang except that they are using the names of their "backers" without any authority.

TAKE VICTORIA; HUNDREDS DIE

ber of the cabinet, true, but the cabinet did not meet.

"The exchange of impressions now has ended."

Change in Carranza Stand.

The announcement of the Constitutionalists' demand disrupted the situation with the effectiveness of a bomb. No one on the American side expected a request for formal recognition of the insurgents, even in the event that permission to import war munitions from the United States were granted.

Gen. Carranza at the beginning of the negotiations specifically said the Constitutionalists were not seeking recognition—in fact, did not desire it—and only wanted the embargo on the importation of arms lifted.

The only credentials Mr. Hale presented at his first meeting with Carranza are said to have consisted of a personal letter from President Wilson saying that Mr. Hale was a personal friend and an unofficial investigator for the United States.

Were Mr. Hale to present the credentials now asked for, the act would be tantamount to a formal recognition of the Constitutionalist revolutionists as a defacto and established government.

DEMAND HANDICAPS WILSON.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The demand by Carranza that William Bayard Hale be given official credentials before treating with him has upset the plans of the administration and given a new turn to the Mexican situation. President Wilson will decline to accede to the demand, and if Carranza stands pat this latest scheme to circumvent Huerta will fail.

If the president were to give Mr. Hale credentials accrediting him to Carranza as an envoy he would in effect be granting recognition of the Carranzistas as an entity independent of the de facto government at Mexico City. Such recognition of Carranza would precipitate a crisis in Mexico City, and Huerta undoubtedly would retaliate by handing Chargé O'Shaughnessy his passports.

Much as the president may sympathize with the cause of the revolutionists, and much as he may wish to end the Huerta régime by encouraging and assisting Carranza, he does not care to precipitate such a crisis at this time.

Carranza Flushed by Success.

Statements given out by Carranza to the effect that he would not tolerate the interference of the United States in the internal affairs in Mexico have made it almost impossible for President Wilson to do anything with the revolutionists. Their recent successes have made the Constitutionalists so confident of ultimate victory over Huerta that the United States can no longer claim possession of a trump card in the offer of raising the embargo on arms.

It has been admitted here that Carranza dare not accept aid of the United States with any strings tied to it, and it is equally well understood that the suggestions of Hale did have a number of conditions attached to them. Much of the Carranza support would turn against him were he to enter into a bargain with the United States by which the Washington government was given any means of controlling or supervising his actions.

HUERTA INCREASING HIS ARMY.

Mexico City, Nov. 18.—President Huerta's friends say he has given them no indication of changing his mind about not resigning, and is proceeding with the affairs of the government with all equanimity.

They add that he regards as probable intervention by the United States, and an order was sent today to the state governors to report immediately how many soldiers they can have ready by Nov. 20.

The officials' explanation of this is that it is merely part of the plan, announced in a recent decree, increasing the army to 150,000.

The recruiting campaign by conscription is being carried on vigorously, and there is little doubt that the number of men now ready for service is greater than the supply of rifles.

New Congress at Work.

The committees of the new congress had under consideration for several hours today the credentials of the new members. President Huerta is said to be preparing his message for delivery on Thursday.

The complexion of the preliminary organization of both branches of the new Mexican congress is regarded here as putting the final touch to President Huerta's defiance.

Surprise was caused here today by the publication of dispatches from Washington, indicating that President Wilson does not contemplate any active measures to support the warning given by John Lind to Gen. Huerta against permitting the new congress to convene.

The departure of Americans from Mexico continues, although in decreasing numbers, which indicates that the great majority of those intending to leave have already gone. A train for Vera Cruz with scores of refugees aboard was held up tonight in the freight yards by the burning of several oil tank cars.

INSURGENTS FREE AMERICANS.

Vera Cruz, Nov. 18.—The United States battleship Nebraska, now at Tampico, reports that all the American women and children recently held by the insurgent leaders at Tanguijo, have been allowed to leave that place and have arrived at Tampico.

Fifty-four Americans, mostly women and children, arrived here today from Mexico City. Some of them have booked to sail for the United States on board the steamship Morro Castle, which sails Nov. 20. The others intend to remain here awaiting developments in the situation.

Evaristo and Daniel Madero, relatives of the late President Francisco Madero, and Leandro Aguila and his son, who have been confined for several weeks in the fortress of San Juan Ulua, charged with sedition, were released today on bail. The Maderos were arrested in October at Monterey and brought to Vera Cruz. The United States government notified the Mexican government that it would regard with displeasure any accident to the two prisoners.

REBEL'S WIRE STRENGTHENS BELIEF IN FRANCIS DEATH

Wife of Former Alderman Gets Telegram from Gen. Pancho Villa Telling of Train Wreck.

Mrs. JoJseph H. Francis, wife of the former alderman of the Thirty-fifth ward, reported killed by rebel Mexicans, received a telegram from Gen. Pancho Villa of the rebel forces, which seems to strengthen the belief that the Francis killed was her husband.

The message was dated Nov. 16, from Chihuahua, and was sent by the Western Union through the United States signal corps on the border, according to John Francis, a son. It stated that Francis was one of seven Americans on a federal troop train when it was blown up. Every one on the train was killed.

"My father was a soldier in the United States army," said Mr. Francis. "He was of an adventurous nature, and a soldier of fortune. It would have been just like him to have gone where there promised to be some excitement."

Mrs. Francis, who is living at the Cottage hotel, 1006 West Monroe street, said she saw her husband a week ago Monday. He said he would step out for a minute or two. He has not returned since.

WOMEN VOTE FOR ALDERMEN.

Evanston Suffragists for First Time Cast Ballots for City Fathers—Cast One-fourth of Total Votes.

Women voted for an alderman yesterday for the first time in the history of Evanston. Attorney Frank P. Murray was elected from the First ward to succeed C. D. Congdon. He was unopposed and received eighty-four votes. One-fourth of the votes were cast by women.

The Evanston city administration is seriously considering the use of schoolhouses as polling places.

The crowded voting places in some precincts and the fact that women are to vote in the future caused Mayor Smart to appoint a committee to devise a plan by which schools may be used.

The first two women to cast a vote in a municipal election in Evanston were Mrs. Jacob Klein of 1616 Sherman avenue and Miss Ida West of 1600 Orrington avenue.

GOTHAM GANGS BATTLE; 3 SHOT

Many Wounded on Lower East Side—Police Arrest Seven on Breaking Up of Fight.

New York, Nov. 18.—One of the most spectacular gun battles among gangsters in this city in recent years was fought at the doors of a clubhouse on the lower east side late tonight. Three men were seriously shot, many others were wounded, and seven were arrested after police reserves finally dared to break up the fight.

EXAMINES DEALS OF FRISCO HEADS

Commerce Commission Begins Inquiry Into Causes for Receivership.

SYNDICATES MAIN ISSUE.

B. F. Yoakum Questioned on Sales of Smaller Roads to Parent System.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 18.—The alleged partnership of officials of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad in syndicates that promoted small railroads that later were sold to the Frisco was inquired into at the hearing before Interstate Commerce Commissioner Clark here today as to the causes of the present receivership of the line.

Benjamin F. Yoakum, chairman of the Frisco board of directors when the road went into receivership, was the only witness of the day. D. E. Brown, examiner for the commission, asked most of the questions.

Brown made public data which he had compiled showing that in the ten years prior to the receivership Frisco securities had been sold for $32,000,000 less than their par value.

Several Smaller Lines Involved.

Among the subsidiary lines concerning which questions were asked were the St. Louis and Oklahoma City; the Iberia and Northern; the St. Louis, Oklahoma and Southern, and the St. Louis and Gulf. As to the Iberia and Northern syndicate, Mr. Yoakum testified he transferred his interest in that road to the Frisco for what it cost him plus 6 per cent interest.

Mr. Brown said the record showed $212,000 was paid to Yoakum.

Other syndicates concerning which Mr. Brown questioned Mr. Yoakum following the records, were the Oklahoma City and Western, on which, according to the records, a syndicate had made $369,000 on an investment of $2,007,000 and the Arkansas Valley and Western, in which "a 'Frisco official without a voice in the acquisition of new lines," made $23,000 on a $118,000 investment.

Gives Reasons for Receivership.

Mr. Yoakum gave his reasons for the receivership, which may be summarized as follows:

One—The failure of the road to sell Arizona and New Mexico lands for $6,000,000 or $7,000,000. By this deal the 'Frisco hoped to get enough money to meet pressing obligations.

Two—The loss sustained by the 'Frisco on an investment in Texas and Louisiana pine lumber properties.

Three—A loss of more than $150,000 each year on the ownership of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois. This ownership extended over eleven years. The two roads have been severed under the receivership. Before the receivership the 'Frisco failed in an effort to sell a half interest in the road.

EXPLOSION IN ALABAMA MINE; 9 KILLED; 12 OTHERS MISSING

Officials at Acton Say Death Toll Will Not Exceed Fourteen—Rescue Crews Take Out Five Alive.

Acton, Ala., Nov. 18.—Nine miners are known to have been killed and at least a dozen others were still missing at a late hour tonight as the result of an explosion this afternoon in the Alabama Fuel and Iron company's mine No. 2, near here.

Five men had been taken out of the mine alive by rescue crews up to 11:30 o'clock tonight.

At that hour mine officials expressed the belief that the death toll would not exceed fourteen, although estimates of the number of missing varied at from twelve to thirty.

Acquitted of Murder Charge.

Samuel Kitchilsky was acquitted of the murder of Morris Shindel, a tailor, by a jury in Judge Charles A. McDonald's court last night. The defendant pleaded self-defense and the unwritten law.

One of the best merchants we know said: "Making money is easy: the hard thing is to be sure to give real value and service for it." That merchant failed to grasp the essential fact that his effort to give value and service is the very thing that made the other part easy.

The success of this great clothing business has come that way; giving value. Our $25 suits and overcoats are merely another step. We've always made suits and overcoats to sell at retail at $25, but our effort at value giving has steadily intensified; and it finds its best expression today in the clothes we make to sell at $25 and up.

But there are good ones at $18 and $20

John Burroughs, the distinguished naturalist and author, writes: "I am sure I have been greatly benefited by Sanatogen. My sleep is 50 per cent better than it was one year ago, and my mind and strength are much improved."

Arnold Bennett, the famous novelist, writes: "The tonic effect of Sanatogen on me is simply wonderful."

Prof. Thos. B. Stillman, M. S., Ph. D., the well-known research chemist, New York, writes: "The chemical union of the constituents of Sanatogen is a true one, representative of the highest skill in the formation of a product containing phosphorus in the organic phosphate condition, and so combined that digestion and assimilation of Sanatogen are rendered complete with the greatest ease."

And Sanatogen will do the same for your Health

IT is literally true that Sanatogen has brought grateful help and a new enjoyment of life to multitudes. Wherever people suffer from nervous starvation, feeling "run-down" and exhausted, Sanatogen daily imparts new strength and vitality.

And Sanatogen will go on doing this so long as the strife and stress of modern life sap our innermost strength. You, who are nervous may well remember that thousands praise Sanatogen for its grateful tonic and sustaining effects, restoring nerve health and vigor—the will and the power to do. You who need building up should remember that as an upbuilder of blood and tissue, Sanatogen is used daily in the best hospitals and sanitariums. And you who may be skeptical, remember that over 18,000 practising physicians, over their own signatures, have recited the remarkable results which they have seen Sanatogen produce in their patients.

Therefore, may we not say: Sanatogen will do the same for your health.

HUNT FOR PAWNED LEWINSOHN GEMS

Creditors Told Vanished Banker Took Wife's Jewels to Help Finances.

INTEREST IN BUILDINGS.

Daughter Tells Bankruptcy Hearing She Was First to Learn of Father's Flight.

Creditors of "Sollie" Lewinsohn, missing professional bondsman and head of the private Traders' bank, yesterday began a search for $5,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry believed to have been pawned.

Mrs. Rachel B. Lewinsohn, wife of "Sollie," testified in a bankruptcy hearing before Referee Frank L. Wean her missing husband pawned several diamond rings, pearl necklaces, and other jewelry before he vanished two weeks ago.

It developed also that Dave Lewinsohn, owner of the Congress café and brother of "Sollie," was appealed to for financial assistance for his brother. According to Miss Beatrice Lewinsohn, Sol's daughter, who followed her mother on the witness stand, Dave refused to come to his brother's rescue.

"I learned of father's disappearance before mother did," said the girl. "I hurried up before mother found it out and went down to my uncle in our electric car. My Uncle Eppstein was with me. He went upstairs first to see if I could come up. I went up and met Dave Lewinsohn and asked him to help father, as I was afraid he was in financial trouble."

Didn't Want to Buy Car.

"What did he say?" asked Attorney Harold White, representing creditors.

"He said, 'What's the use? He is so heavily in debt now it won't do any good.' Then I asked him to buy our electric car. He said he didn't want it."

Miss Lewinsohn said she always had an account at the Blackstone and Stratford hotels and at the Vogue. She said she paid her entertaining bills at these places out of an allowance of from $5 to $10 a week from her father and from money she received as gifts from other relatives. She said she got $200 on her last birthday from "Uncle Eppstein."

In a safety deposit box she said she had a gold watch and some "other trinkets," and she admitted having had a checking account at the Douglas State bank. The fixtures of this institution later were used for "Sollie's" private bank. She said she recently pawned a pearl necklace with a diamond clasp and a gold chain set with diamonds at the First State Pawners' society for $150.

Moves to Another Flat.

Mrs. Lewinsohn said she had moved since her husband's disappearance from 928 Hyde Park boulevard to a six flat building owned by Lewinsohn at 3581 Grand boulevard. She said Lewinsohn paid $27,500 for the property, but could not say what equity her husband had in it. Another piece of property on Grand boulevard and one in La Grange, she said, Lewinsohn owned.

She said she sold the electric car to an automobile company for $1,000, of which she received a check last Sunday for $700, the remainder to be paid when the car is sold.

"When did you pawn your diamond rings and earrings?" asked Attorney White.

"I don't remember," she said. "It was some time in the spring."

"What did Lewinsohn pawn?"

"O, many things. A diamond bracelet worth $250, several diamond rings, and other jewelry. I don't know what it was worth."

"What has become of Lewinsohn's big automobile?"

"I don't know. It was a White six. I suppose he sold it. We let our chauffeur go, I know that. The car cost us $7,000."

J. R. M'CABE FREED BY COURT.

Former City Clerk Says Woman Accusing Him Boasted She Got Revenge by False Charges.

Mrs. Margaret Riordan, 315 South Homan avenue, failed to appear yesterday to press the charge of disorderly conduct on which she caused the arrest of Attorney John R. McCabe, former city clerk. Judge Dolan dismissed the case.

"I have witnesses," said Attorney McCabe, "who will testify that Mrs. Riordan has said she got revenge on me and got my name in the papers with a charge she cannot support. I ask the court either to dismiss the case or continue it until the woman can be brought into court."

In her original unsupported statements Mrs. Riordan charged that McCabe had slapped her and that he had received hundreds of dollars from her to carry on his campaign for city clerk.

HOME RULE BILL WILL NOT PASS MARQUIS OF LANSDOWNE SAYS.

Present Measure, He Holds in Speech at London, Is Impossible—Outlines Plans of Unionists.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The Marquis of Lansdowne, in a speech at Brighton today, said that whatever kind of a home rule bill is finally passed it will not be the present bill.

He added he was not attracted by the scheme to exclude Ulster for a term of years from the effect of the bill, but that the Unionists are willing to examine any proposal of the kind. The proper solution, he added, is a general election. Failing that, the Unionists are ready to consider special terms for Ulster.

If both these plans are rejected the Unionists would give Ulstermen, inside and outside of parliament, every encouragement to resist application of the act.

FAMED TEACHER OF SINGERS DEAD

Mme. Mathilde Marchesi Succumbs in London at the Age of 87 Years.

TRAINED MANY STARS.

Acceptance of Pupils Gave Them Record on Which to Base Lives.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Mme. Mathilde de Castrone Marchesi, considered the most famous vocal teacher in the world, died here today at the age of 87.

For years she had a studio in Paris and many of the grand opera singers were recruited from the ranks of her pupils. Among them were Etelka Gerster, Emma Calvé, Emma Eames, Sybil Sanderson, Emma Nevada, and Mme. Melba.

Mme. Marchesi became noted for her salon in Paris. She had a stage and scenery mechanism, and each year her pupils presented a grand opera there. In the presentation she choose only those who showed remarkable talent, and managers from all over the world attended the yearly performance to select new members for their companies.

This performance was considered an official introduction of the pupils. Other vocal teachers later imitated the salon system of introducing their pupils, but the idea was abandoned several years ago, when Mme. Marchesi retired from active teaching.

First Work in Concert.

Mme. Marchesi was born at Frankfort-on-the-Main and was named after her mother, Mathilde Graumann.

Her first work as a singer was in concert work. She traveled throughout several of the countries of Europe, and later decided to give up active singing for teaching. She joined the Vienna conservatory as a teacher in 1854.

A few years later she left Vienna and taught in Paris and then in Cologne. Finally, however, she decided to build her school in Paris, and in 1881 settled there.

By that time her reputation as a teacher had spread and a large numbe of pupils flocked to her school. Some of her pupils wee of the nobility and others were of poor families and working their way through school. She made no distinction on account of wealth, but was always said to have been critical as to the progress of the pupils and the tone of voice they developed.

Husband Also Was Famed.

Her husband, Salvatore Cavalieri de Castrone, Marchese della Rojata, was also a singer of note. He was interested in the development of his wife's school up to the time of his death. He made his debut in New York in 1848.

Her daughter, Mlle. Blanche Marchesi, is a concert singer and has frequently visited the United States.

Mme. Marchesi took an active interest in the teaching of her vocal students up to two years ago.

CHICAGOANS AMONG PUPILS.

Among the tsudents of Mme. Marchesi were many Chicagoans. She was well known here, and a large number of the vocal teachers in the local schools knew her personally.

STRIKE SPREADS IN NATAL

Practically All East Indian Laborers Have Laid Down Tools.

INCIDENTS FOSTER UNREST.

Worker Flogged to Death and Others Kept from Emigrating.

DURBAN, Natal, Nov. 18.—The strike of East Indian laborers spread today to the south coast. Practically every one of the 1500,000 workmen of East Indian blood in Natal had laid down his tools at noon.

Ill feeling among the East Indians has been considerably augmented by two incidents which occurred during the last twenty-four hours. The first of these was the death from flogging of a laboser in the coal mining town of Dundee, twenty miles north of Ladysmith. The second incident was the arrest of 2,000 East Indians who attempted to cross the border from the Transvaal into Natal.

Federal Law Forbids Emigration.

The federal law of the Union of South Africa prohibits the emigration of Asiatics from one state to another. The 2,000 East Indians from the Transvaal had planned a demonstration in sympathy with the strikers in Natal.

The strike has already paralyzed industry throughout Natal. The most alarming menace in the present situation is the likelihood that the strike will spread to the other states of South Africa.

Workers Riot in Ladysmith.

LADYSMITH, Natal, Nov. 18.—About 1,000 East Indians started rioting here this afternoon. Their leaders claimed that they were entitled to equal rights with white men. The mounted police finally dispersed the mob, but the East Indians appear to be dangerously inflamed.

The disaffection is regarded here as so grave that a force of armed townsmen is being enrolled and the police have been provided with revolvers.

COUNTESS' TRIAL DRAGS IN ROYALTY

Notorious German Woman, Said to Have Bought Title, May Call Princess.

CHARGE OF FRAUD MADE.

Matrimonial Bureau Venture and Usury Land Her in the Courts.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BERLIN, Nov. 18.—The trial of the Countess von Treuberg, once known as the most fashionable demimondaine of Berlin and Frankfort, on charges of fraud and usury began here today and attracted a large number of fashionable folk because of the scores of society leaders whose names have been drawn into the case and the romantic life of the accused woman.

The countess, who was born in 1873 in Frankfort, was the daughter of an impecunious laborer. Her beauty and escapades brought notoriety before she was 18 years old. A few years later under the name of Pussy Uhl she was the most admired and most feted woman of her class. She rapidly acquired a fortune and acquired the title of countess by offering, it is alleged, $6,000 to the Count von Treuberg for the right to call herself his wife.

Among the many ways of making money adopted by the countess were a matrimonial bureau and a money lending business. One of the charges against her is that she defrauded one of her clients in the matrimonial bureau out of $75,000.

The Princess Alexandra of Isembourg has been subpœnaed as the introducer of the client to the countess. It is stated that Princess Louise of Belgium, daughter of the late King Leopold, and members of several noted families of Germany have also been cited to give evidence. Some of them have refused to appear, preferring to incur the risk of having to pay a fine.

Period Furniture:
"Chippendale"

The Dining Room Suite illustrated above is an excellent example of that particular design known as "Chippendale."

Thomas Chippendale was an English designer, and probably the first whose work was so impressive and distinct that his name followed the design, while before his time (1750) we find little mention made of any particular maker or designer.

It was his ability to assemble harmoniously in his designs ideas picked up in his travels that created for him a lasting name.

We find incorporated in his work features that are distinctly "Gothic," "Rococo" and "Chinese" in detail, the ball and claw foot being adapted from the Dragon so prominent in "Chinese" decoration and carving.

The Suite illustrated is of graceful proportions and beautifully finished in dull antique mahogany.

In addition to "Chippendale," we show an excellent assortment of other Period Furniture"—"Jacobean," "Heppelwhite," "Sheraton," "Adam," and an unlimited variety of Colonial and Mission designs at very moderate prices.

We invite you to call and see these beautiful examples of the cabinet-maker's art, whether or not you intend to purchase.

MEXICAN ATROCITIES.

Such extenuation as can be considered, and it is not much, as relieving the barbarity of the Constitutionalists in Mexico in executing prisoners is that the custom is one of this gentle country and that it is practiced without hesitancy by the federals.

The officers shot by the Constitutionalists had been, when advantage favored them, murderers themselves and we are willing to believe that Carranza would not have been the first one to start this interchange of favors. Villa, perhaps, would. The odor of this patriot is not one of sanctity or benignity.

We doubt if any army would tolerate the summary execution of its own officers and men, when captured, without reprisal. It would be justified in holding the officers of the enemy responsible for this inhumanity, in treating them as offenders against the rules of war and in executing them as murderers.

"Observer," in his articles in THE TRIBUNE, has described the mode of war in Mexico as one of considerable regard for life in battle and of no regard for it at all afterwards. Acts of hardihood, of courage, or what would be courage if it did not have a tincture of foolishness, are frequent.

"Observer" saw Constitutionalists ride their horses into the streets of Monterey and stop to shriek insults at the federal infantry firing down the street from positions 100 or 200 yards away. It wasn't doing their cause any good and if Mexicans aimed when they shot it wouldn't have done the shriekers any good.

For the most part a Mexican battle displays a tender regard for a whole skin, not a cowardly regard but a considerate one, and that, combined with general bad shooting, operates to keep the element of ferocity and its consequent bloodshed out of the engagements. "Observer" noted the complete absence of determination in attack and defense, not surprising in the federal infantry recruited by seizure of jobless men and by the enlistment of convicts.

Constitutionalists proceed upon the theory that a battle begun Monday in one place is just as well continued next Wednesday in another and their attack on strategic points generally lacks decisiveness. With any determination and with a little more military sense they would have captured and retained Monterey.

They are forced to shift the scene of war by their lack of commissary. They feed off the country and when they have taken all the horses, killed all the stock, and swept the land bare, they move to another locality where they may obtain food.

The ferocity which is wholly lacking in the engagements comes out when either side has prisoners. The men in the ranks frequently save their lives by changing sides. The officers are executed. The Constitutionalists show regard for noncombatants which the federals do not, the latter butchering as their fancy or suspicion directs them.

The extenuation in the case of the Constitutionalists, as stated, is that their own officers and men are executed—a cry of "Viva Carranza" is sufficient evidence of guilt anywhere in Mexico—and the Constitutionalists are within the law of reprisal. It is no strain on their consciences. They have no method of caring for prisoners. Privates might be disarmed and turned loose, but it would be useless to put the officers on honor and parole them.

All this is urged for an understanding of the situation, not in mitigation of it, and the Constitutionalists undoubtedly made a big mistake when they chose a border town like Jaurez for the application of the rules of war as Mexicans know them.

Just when they needed the aid of their best appearance the healthy ruffian Villa stages an exhibition of qualmless murder which sickens the Americans who find it under their eyes. It strengthens the prevailing opinion that Mexico is hopeless in control of either breed of cats and that opinion is not the most rational for America to hold at the present.

If Mexicans would kill more men with muskets in their hands and fewer with their hands tied behind their backs, they might reach a settlement without provoking an American indignation which may have a hurrying effect on American judgment.

THE TERMINAL PROBLEM.

A hasty survey of Mr. Bion J. Arnold's report on the terminal problem is sufficient to disclose the great weight and importance of his analysis of our difficulties and needs and of his conclusions and recommendations. Mr. Wallace's report was suggestive yet disappointing. Mr. Arnold seems to have availed himself of his longer acquaintance with Chicago and its traffic conditions to produce a weightier body of observations. This is natural and not a criticism of Mr. Wallace, whose ability and sincerity are unquestioned.

The Arnold report invites the most thorough study and consideration not only by the city authorities but by the various citizen organizations which have taken so public spirited an interest in this vital problem and by the intelligent public generally. The terminal situation is now so presented to the public and public opinion is so ready to focus upon it that precipitate action would not be tolerated by the community. The time, in fact, is ripe for the adoption of a far sighted and comprehensive terminal policy.

That is what Chicago imperatively needs, as any reading of Mr. Arnold's report emphasizes. Chicago surely is strong enough and wise enough to confront and master this problem.

Meanwhile, as Mr. Alfred Baker remarks in his acute and forceful statement transmitting the Arnold report, two salient things-to-be-done appear upon the threshold of intelligent action.

One of these is to insist that the Pennsylvania passenger plan shall not be inextricably interlocked with the Pennsylvania freight plan.

The other is to insist that the city shall use all its resources without delay to induce and if necessary to force all railroads to cooperate in a general plan which shall not only relieve present conditions but provide for a healthy city expansion and for a meeting of conditions resulting therefrom.

As to the first proposal, it is plain that such merits as the passenger plan has—and upon these merits Mr. Arnold's comment should be carefully noted—ought not to be used as a trading basis to impose upon the city for all time a seriously defective freight plan. Chicago has a right to the best possible passenger terminal and the best possible freight system—both, not one. The need for the former may be more dramatic and may come home to the general public with more force because of the disgraceful shed which has so long done duty as the Union station. But the freight plan is more important and should be dealt with squarely without consideration of imaginary concessions in the way of a monumental passenger terminal.

As to the second proposal, it is the very first factor essential to the proper solution of our terminal problem through the creation and consistent maintenance of a comprehensive municipal terminal plan. We cannot have such a plan without the cooperation of all the roads, and if this unanimous cooperation is not voluntary the paramount interest of Chicago should rule. Every resource, direct and indirect, should be drawn upon promptly to compel cooperation.

With the Wallace report and the Arnold report and the various plans hitherto presented and discussed, the city is in a position to solve this, perhaps the most vital of our municipal problems, both for immediate relief and healthful future growth.

A WRONG ATTITUDE.

The principle of "collective bargaining," of letting men in an industry state their grievances and make demands upon employers through representatives from their union, apparently has not dawned upon the mine owners of the Michigan copper country. A strike of 15,000 is now rounding out its fourth month there because the employers refuse to recognize the union of their employés and to treat with its representatives.

An investigation of the strike by the federal labor department, by the Survey, and by a committee of the Copper Country Commercial club—which certainly cannot be charged with being unfriendly to the mine owners—all brought out the fact that the hatred for the miners' union on the part of the employers is alone responsible for this bitter struggle. Offers of mediation and arbitration by the federal and state labor departments were rejected by the mine owners. They cannot reconcile themselves to the thought of permitting their workers to be members of a labor organization.

Secretary of Labor Wilson rebuked the mine owners for this attitude the other day in no uncertain terms. His criticisms can hardly be called undeserved. The attitude of the employers is the wrong attitude. Labor's right to organize is too ancient to be assailed.

THE Democratic attorney general of Illinois is going to show his rock ribbed Democracy by sacrificing the state civil service laws to the sacred memory of the post-election Democratic saint, Andrew Jackson.

ONE million dollars could be saved by cutting out politics in county administration, says Commissioner Board. This sum to be appreciated should be expressed in terms of the suffering and destitution it would relieve. Politicians must be paid though the poor suffer, and the irony of it is that the poor chiefly keep in office the politicians who pad pay rolls, grant improvident contracts, and otherwise waste or misapply the public funds. That is the tragedy of ignorance.

WHAT if the key to the Mexican deadlock were the key to the presidential champagne closet? The W. C. T. U. should make a lot of this point.

THE GOVERNMENT'S POSITION ON MILK.

MILK has a high bacterial count when it is dirty, or old, or warm. When it is clean there are few bacteria to multiply. When it is cold the bacteria multiply slowly. When it is young the bacteria have not had time to multiply.

To see that milk is cold inspectors are provided, but as these inspectors cannot stand over every milk producer as the meat inspector stands on the killing floor, the inspection service needs to be supplemented.

To see that milk is cold ordinances are passed and inspectors provided, but controlling the temperature by law has proved difficult.

To watch milk to prevent the sale of old milk has proved difficult. The method worked out to check the man in the field, to make certain that the milk sold is clean, cold, and fresh is the bacterial count.

At this point comes the crucial test. Right here is to be fought out the battle for standards of wholesomeness in milk. Such standards have been indorsed not only by the national government but by the state and municipal governments—at least by a large number of them. They represent a crystallizing, a focusing of all the talk about clean milk.

These standards are being fought as were the fat standards ten to twenty years ago.

The bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture has just issued a bulletin which sets forth:

"All statements that the department of agriculture has abandoned or will abandon the bacterial examination of milk shipped in interstate commerce as a means of determining its cleanliness and fitness for human consumption are without foundation. While the department has not fixed any specific bacterial count as a standard in the enforcement of the food and drugs act, it does use bacterial examinations in reaching its conclusions, and will continue to use these methods, irrespective of what action any association may take.

"The only change in the policy of the department has been to discontinue basing prosecution upon a bacterial examination of a single specimen. It now collects a number of samples at different times and examines them. If the bacterial examination shows the milk is not clean but is not a serious menace to health, and the bacterial deviation from clean milk is a small one, the department, through the bureau of animal industry, endeavors to teach better methods. If this fails, the department prosecutes the offender."

This statement of the position of the national government commends itself as being fair to consumer and producer.

REPLY TO P. S.

You are evidently a conscientious, intelligent man. I am sure you will take such precautions as are necessary. Especially avoid kissing. Have your own cups, forks, and spoons. Write the Tuberculosis Institute for its pamphlet telling you what to do and what not. Have the laboratory examine your sputum. Yellow and black sputum may be from the nose or upper throat and of no consequence. The black may be soot.

NEEDS MENTAL TREATMENT.

A. O. writes: "A young lady of my acquaintance has been, or appears to me to have been, mentally unbalanced for several years. These are some of her actions: She is highly nervous and will get extremely angry at times when others are not thinking of such a thing. She will throw knives or anything she gets hold of into the wall, or shove the dishes on the table, or slam the doors. She will jump up of a sudden and slam things on the floor and threaten to knock people over or to gouge their eyes out. She is of an exceedingly jealous nature, and has an evil look when in these spells. She is also forgetful. She has a brother in an insane asylum and her father's family seems to have insanity among the members. Does she inherit it from him, and can she be cured? She also takes spells of laughing and seems unable to control herself. Is there danger of her doing any harm to those about her when in these spells? What in your opinion is the matter with her?"

REPLY.

In spite of the insanity in this girl's family I should not judge from your letter that she is insane. I do not think she will harm any one. That does not mean that she does not need mental treatment.

My advice to you is to see the county physician, Dr. H. I. Davis, at the detention hospital, on Wood street near Polk. He is there in the forenoon. A few weeks in this institution, or in some other, should enable the girl to get herself under control.

SANITARIA ABOUT DENVER.

M. writes: "I wish you would let me know if you know of any camp or tent colony at Denver for tubercular patients. There is a boy, 18 years old, a printer by trade, who has just started for Denver. I imagine, from what he has told me, that the disease has advanced pretty far, as he says he has had four or five hemorrhages. The boy has little money, probably $100 in all, and, if there is a colony where he could live for two or three months at a nominal sum each week, I wish to write to him of it as soon as possible."

REPLY.

If the boy is a member of the International Typographical union and has been for five years, he is entitled to free care in the Union Printers' home at Colorado Springs. The tuberculosis directory gives the following list of sanitaria in or near Denver:

Agnes Memorial, Association Health farm, the Home, Mrs. Lare's Tent sanitarium, National Jewish hospital, Jewish Consumptive Relief, Sunlight, Swedish National, Evangelical Lutheran, Fern Hill.

It is most unfortunate that cases of this class go to Denver or elsewhere searching for a climate cure. With the little money at his command he stands but a slim chance of improving. He probably will shortly be penniless and helpless among strange people. His chances would have been better at home.

SHOULD EXERCISE MORE.

Daily Reader writes: "May a baby two months old have orange juice? In taking the blood pressure of a young lady 24 years of age, the diastolic pressure was found to be considerably below normal. What does this indicate?"

REPLY.

1. Yes, if needed.
2. She should exercise more. She needs to build up her muscle tone.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1913: By the Brentwood Company.]

ALTHOUGH Eduardo Dato is one of the most eminent lawyers of Spain, and recognized both at home and abroad as the leading authority on everything relating to Spanish jurisprudence, the Conservative administration which he has just formed at Madrid can hope at the best for a brief existence.

The country bids fair, ere long, to be plunged into the throes of another of those cabinet crises, which contribute so much to interfere with the normal course of government and to place difficulties in the way of the rapid development of national prosperity.

Señor Dato, a minister of the interior in the cabinet of Señor Silvela, which followed Señor Sagasta's defeat after the war with the United States, has only a section of the Conservative party upon whose support he can rely. The bulk of the party, both in the cortes, and throughout the country, remains faithful to the former Conservative premier, Maura, and to his chief lieutenant, ex-Minister of the Interior La Cierva.

Now both of these statesmen have not only declined to grant their assistance to Señor Dato but have even proclaimed that he will find them arrayed against him.

When the Liberal government of Count Romanones was compelled to resign the other day, owing to a defeat in the cortes, resulting from a split in the Liberal party, the king, in accordance with the obligations imposed upon him as a constitutional monarch, invited Señor Maura to form a Conservative administration.

Señor Maura announced to the sovereign that he would only undertake the task on the understanding that all the colleagues of his former cabinet, of 1900, would be included in the new government, and that he would be permitted to carry on unaltered the reactionary program which brought about its downfall.

Alfonso XIII. would not consent to this. He felt that it would be not only a casting down of the gauntlet to the forces of the revolution, but that it would have the effect of driving the bulk of the Liberals into the revolutionary ranks.

Señor Maura made no secret to the king that he would make it his duty to undo as far as possible, everything that had been done by the various Liberal cabinets during the past four years.

The Republicans, who had abstained from any active measures against the dynasty while the Liberals were in power, and had even manifested good will towards the young monarch, caused him to be warned that, if he entrusted the premiership to Señor Maura, they would feel compelled to inaugurate revolutionary risings and labor disturbances throughout the peninsula.

They have no such pronounced aversion for Señor Dato, whose conservatism has always been of a much less reactionary character in questions relating to the state, as well as to the church.

This, however, does not mean that they will support him, and with the entire Liberal party and the larger half of the Conservatives against him, it is difficult to see how he can remain in office beyond the impending general election.

A general election is imminent. It is inevitable after the transfer of power from one party to another.

Since, at present, the Liberals possess a large majority in the lower house, naturally arrayed against Señor Dato, he is obliged to make an appeal to the country and to use every sort of official pressure and kindred methods to obtain at the polls a Conservative majority in the cortes for his new administration.

This would be easy were the Conservatives united. But since they are divided and full of animosity towards one another, it is difficult to see how, even with the help of the authorities in the towns, cities, and rural districts, he can hope for a working legislative majority.

The Liberal party is similarly divided. In fact, it was a split of this kind that brought about the downfall of Count Romanones, the dissidents being led by Garcia Prieto, Marquis of Alhucemas, and by his father-in-law, Señor Montero Rios, former president of the cortes and of the senate, and chief of the Spanish plenipotentiaries for the negotiation of the treaty of peace with the United States that brought the war of 1898 to a close.

They differed with Count Romanones about the attitude of his government towards the Barcelona strike, about his failure to reconcile the Moors to Spanish rule in Morocco, but more especially about his "Mancomunidades" measure, which provides for decentralization and for the extension of much larger powers to provincial councils, municipalities, and local administrations generally.

While this measure is a popular one throughout the country, especially in the northern portion of the kingdom, the dissident Liberal leaders claim that it is calculated to encourage regionalism, particularly in Catalonia, to a degree that can not but endanger the unity of the nation.

Spain is now confronted by two alternatives; a reconstruction of the present Conservative cabinet, with the elimination of Premier Dato, and the inclusion of the masterful, ultra-conservative leaders, Señor Maura and Señor La Cierva; or, what is far more probable, a reconciliation of the dissident factions of the Liberal party and its return to power at an early date in an administration that will include some members of the Romanones cabinet, as well as the Marquis of Alhucemas and some of his followers.

This is undoubtedly the course that will appeal to King Alfonso, who has shown in many striking ways during the last four or five years that he leans strongly towards Liberalism, and is disinclined to identify himself with the reactionary type of Conservatism represented by ex-Premier Maura.

Incidentally it is pleasant to note that the change of cabinet at Madrid has brought no change in the personnel of the Spanish mission at Washington, and that the advent to office of the Dato administration has not interfered with the promotion of Señor Don Juan Riano y Gayangos from the rank of minister to that of ambassador.

Most of his diplomatic career has been spent in this country as secretary of legation, chargé d'affaires, and as minister plenipotentiary, and there is no member of the foreign service of Spain who possesses a more extensive acquaintance with men and conditions in America, or who is more favorably known in this country than this former trusted member of the household of Queen Christina, when regent, who has now received so well deserved advancement to the highest grade of the diplomatic profession.

Last summer my mention in these columns that the Turkish ambassador at Washington, while forbidden by his religion to partake of the grape juice offered by Secretary of State Bryan to the foreign envoys at the banquets given by him in their honor, and my explanation that the prohibition of the Koran was directed, not against alcohol, but against the juice of the grape, whether fermented or unfermented, brought me letters from scores of whisky distillers in the country asking for further explanations and for the quotation of the precise verses in the Koran dealing with the matter.

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW.

Today is Tuesday, and my task is plain:
I'll get a mess of fluffy stuff together
That makes no great demand upon the brain—
Light as a swallow's feather.

This sort of thing will keep me for a week,
Despite the ever rising cost of groceries;
I'll keep the pot a-boiling, so to speak,
With jingles and jocoseries.

That done, on Thursday I can put aside
All airy nothings, feeble, ineffectual,
And do a piece of work that's dignified
And highly intellectual—

Something designed to keep my name alive,
A household favorite in the great hereafter—
A century or two, or four, or five!
[Applause and laughter.]

Today is Tuesday, and my job is clear:
With these few graceful stanzas I've commenced it.
On Thursday— Hum! I'm much inclined to fear
I shall be up against it.

BIRTH REGISTRATION IN ILLINOIS

Chicago, Nov. 17.—[To the Friend of the People.]—In your column in the issue of Nov. 6, in reply to a statement from Robert Sweitzer, county clerk, concerning the registration of births and deaths, you say: "So far as the registration of deaths is concerned, registration is complete. The provision for registration of births was not taken advantage of until two years ago." Both of these statements are incorrect.

The reason why Illinois is not in the registration area is because the registration of deaths is not complete. There is no compulsory registration of deaths in Illinois outside of municipalities having a compulsory burial permit ordinance. The compulsory burial permit feature of the Illinois registration law was repealed by the Illinois state legislature in 1903, at the instance of Senator Burnett and Mr. Miller, the former speaker of the house, because they claimed that "it was too much trouble for their constituents to obtain legal permits to bury their dead."

Concerning births, there is no registration area for births wholly acceptable to the census bureau anywhere in the United States. So far as the registration of births under the present law is concerned, it is fair to state that for ten years probably 50 per cent of all births occurring in Illinois have been properly registered. For example, in 1907 there were 76,921 births reported to the Illinois state board of health, in 1908 there were 79,365, and in 1911 there were 82,181.

DUMPING IS STOPPED.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—[To the Friend of the People.]—The property owners in the block on North Rice street, between Leavitt street and Hoyne avenue, are protesting against the dumping of ashes in the alley of such block by the owner of the factory across the alley. If this is continued it will raise the alley so much above the lots that when it rains the water will flow down into the surrounding lots. What steps can be taken to have this matter adjusted, and has the owner of the factory any right to continue this dumping? J. A.

On Nov. 11 the owner of the factory was notified to stop dumping cinders in the alley and must have been put there since that time. Investigation shows the alley is not above grade.

Jefferson avenue and Rosalie court were changed to Rosalie avenue by ordinance passed by the city council April 14, 1913. In an ordinance passed by the city council Oct. 6, 1913, Rosalie avenue was changed to Harper avenue, which is the present name for the street in question.

Though many, both on the bench and off the bench, are spineless, I believe 1,000 determined men can be induced readily to contribute $100 each for evidence that will lead to the conviction of the party who put up the money for Donahoe—right down to date.

HIGHER-UPS IN FUNK CASE.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Why don't you put up $5,000 to head a fund as a reward for the apprehension and conviction of the men higher up in this Funk case? Add it to the amount Funk has put up, and ask for popular subscriptions. It seems to me you could make a big pot on this and do a lot of good at the same time. SEX LITERATURE.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Permit me to add my commendation to the criticism of sex literature by the Woman's club. It appeals to me as the sanest expression they have given forth in a long time. We have had enough of this nasty dissection of the indecent and the unmentionable in literature, in pulpit, in clubs made up of morbid women and effeminate men, in schools and on the stage. If these same women will just practice what they preach by refraining from purchasing these same books and by rigidly refusing their children access to them, they will eventually be found unprofitable to the diseased minds who produce them.

Early in my life I learned the sensible doctrine that it is not the best policy to "wash your dirty linen in your front yard." I believe we will best overcome evil by emphasizing the good and wholesome in life. Most children are pure minded, and I question the advisability of forcing them to take a bath in the "mire pond" till circumstances make it absolutely necessary.

THE NEGRO IN CHICAGO.

Gary, Ind., Nov. 16.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Permit me to thank you for the very noble stand you have taken, setting forth the conditions of my (the colored) people and the disadvantages they must undergo to exist not only in Chicago, but all over this our beloved America. We also rejoice to know that notwithstanding all of our disadvantages we are slowly but surely advancing.

D. M. WASHINGTON, Y. M. C. A.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I desire to thank you and Mr. Henry Hyde for the excellent articles on "Negroes in Chicago." It is precisely the racial situation in our city, and I hope the article will do much to relieve it. What the negro race needs most locally is the loyal and impartial support of the entire press, and it is pleasing to know that THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE is bringing about this movement.

FENTON JOHNSON, 3026 Vernon avenue.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I have read with considerable interest the article on "Racial Prejudice" by Henry M. Hyde.

As a well wisher of the negro I am in accord with Mr. Hyde. Even the better class of negroes—and more particularly the recent Johnson fiasco—are becoming more prominent, untrustworthy and extravagant.

I believe that employers of the negro generally will bear me out in the statement that the average negro cook will waste enough good food in cooking for a family of four persons to feed well at least two others.

They are restless, forever seeking change, show no gratitude for favors extended, and decidedly dislike to work. It is my experience that one white man will do as much work and do it easily and pleasantly—as two negroes.

It is for these reasons that employers are refusing employment to negroes, and which I myself have been reluctantly compelled to do both in my home and in my office.

H. H. A.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In your issue of Nov. 12 you had an article dealing with the position of the negro in Chicago and the growing antipathy against mixing up the races in most of the ordinary walks of life.

Will you allow me to give an example of a position out of the ordinary successfully and efficiently occupied by a colored man in Chicago?

In the engineering department of the Commonwealth Edison company one of the assistant engineers is colored. He is also a graduate of Harvard university. He is also a very good lawn tennis player and last year played in the final game (singles) in the company's annual tennis series. He was a good loser. He also seems to be quite well liked by his associates.

URGES LEVEL RATE FOR ALL TAXICABS

Aldermen Hear Plea by Committee from Association of Commerce.

WALDEN SHAW IN FAVOR

Suit May Be Started to Ascertain City's Power Over Parmelee Company.

The council committee on taxicab rates was urged yesterday by a special committee of the Association of Commerce to draft an ordinance forcing all motor livery vehicles of Chicago to operate on a common meter basis. In this way, it was urged, uniform rates might be maintained and overcharges prevented. The Walden Shaw Taxicab company joined in the request.

Attorneys for the Frank Parmelee Transfer company contended, however, that this company, which has the exclusive privilege of standing its vehicles on private railroad property, was not amenable to any city rate ordinance. The company has its own tariff which is declared to be higher than rates fixed by the council.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Hornstein furnished the council committee with an opinion that the Parmelee company is subject to regulation as long as its motor vehicles carry city licenses. He said the licenses make them common carriers like the cabs which solicit business on public thoroughfares. The Parmelee lawyers said they were not required to carry the licenses and intimated they would be discarded.

McInerney May Bring Test Suit.

In the meantime, however, City Prosecutor James McInerney may bring a test suit against the Parmelee company. He was given a copy of Mr. Hornstein's opinion.

The council committee hearing developed that the Parmelee cabs charge 75 cents inside the loop for one passenger and 25 cents for each additional passenger. A charge of 75 cents for the first mile outside the loop is charged by the company and 50 cents for each additional mile, it is said, also 25 cents for each additional passenger. On flat rates by the hour is charged, the time being fixed from the departure until the return of the empty cab to the starting point.

Companies operating under the ordinance charge 70 cents for the first mile and 40 cents for each additional mile for one or more passengers. On flat rates a charge is made only while the passenger is in possession of the car, excepting when the trip is outside the city limits, when round trip rates prevail.

New York Rates in Evidence.

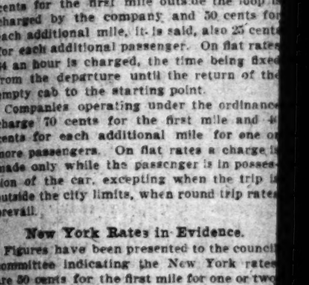

Figures have been presented to the council committee indicating the New York rates are 30 cents for the first mile for one or two passengers and 40 cents for each additional mile. The rate increases in New York when three or more passengers are carried.

Representatives of the Walden Shaw company presented comparative figures from eighteen of the largest cities of the United States in support of its contention that the average rate in Chicago is lower than New York, on a par with St. Louis, and in excess only of the rates in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Detroit, Milwaukee, and New Orleans.

According to the Shaw figures the average trip in Chicago is five and one-quarter miles and the average number of passengers to a trip one and one-half. It is upon this average that the comparison with other cities is made.

The Shaw representatives also informed the committee there are 1,130 livery motor cars in Chicago, of which it was declared only 230 carry taximeters. The others charge a rate, it was asserted, from 15 to 50 per cent higher than the cars carrying meters.

DUMPING IS STOPPED.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—[To the Friend of the People.]—The property owners in the block on North Rice street, between Leavitt street and Hoyne avenue, are protesting against the dumping of ashes in the alley of such block by the owner of the factory across the alley. If this is continued it will raise the alley so much above the lots that when it rains the water will flow down into the surrounding lots. What steps can be taken to have this matter adjusted, and has the owner of the factory any right to continue this dumping? J. A.

On Nov. 11 the owner of the factory was notified to stop dumping cinders in the alley and none have been put there since that time. Investigation shows the alley is not above grade.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—[To the Friend of the People.]—What have they named Jefferson avenue, street beginning at Fiftieth and Lake Park avenue? When they put up street signs they put up Rosalie avenue. In about two weeks they came along and took signs down. Since I have heard some one disliked the name and has had influence enough to have it changed to Harper avenue. H. J. B.

Jefferson avenue and Rosalie court were changed to Rosalie avenue by ordinance passed by the city council April 14, 1913. In an ordinance passed by the city council Oct. 6, 1913, Rosalie avenue was changed to Harper avenue, which is the present name for the street in question.

MANY WEDDING PRESENTS RECEIVED AT WHITE HOUSE.

Gifts to Miss Jessie Wilson and Francis B. Sayre Chiefly Adapted to Household Needs.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—Gifts in great numbers have been received at the White House during the last few days for Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson and Francis B. Sayre, who are to be married a week from today.

Most of the gifts are of a useful nature, more adapted to household needs than ornamental. Miss Wilson is busily occupied in writing personal letters to the givers. Several of the presents have come from the embassies and legations.

Cut glass, furniture, dishes, silver services, and bric-à-brac and a variety of domestic articles make up the bulk of the gifts thus far received, though some beautiful jewelry also has been received.

The senate's wedding gift to Miss Wilson was finally selected today. It is a silver service of fifteen pieces, with its chief feature a tea set of five pieces. It also contains a hot water kettle, large service tray, chocolate pot, ice cream dish, two compote dishes, and four candlesticks.

REDUCE TAX BOOK CLERKS

Scheme Said to Obviate Necessty of Surplus of Extra Help.

Plans to save the county $100,000 in salaries of clerks employed on tax books were discussed at a joint meeting yesterday of members of the board of review, board of assessors, and the finance committee of the county board. Reviewer Thomas J. Webb was intrusted with the task of ironing out opposition to the movement.

The finance committee proposes that the same set of clerks follow the books from the assessor's office to the board of review, thence to the office of the county clerk, and finally to the county treasurer. In this way it is believed experts may be employed the year round, thus obviating the necessity of a surplus of extra help.

The assessors applied to the reviewers for an increase in their regular force with a minimum of extra men. The reviewers under the law are empowered to pass on the clerical staff of the assessors. The finance committee, which provides for the pay of the clerks, protested against the demand of the assessors. If the county clerk and county treasurer agree the system probably will be installed.

HURLEY AN ENVOY TO ADVANCE TRADE

Chicago Man Will Go to South America to Help Commerce with U. S.

MORE CREDIT IS NEEDED.

Redfield Confers with Agent, Who Will Try to Increase Exports.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—E. N. Hurley, the Chicago manufacturer and banker, today accepted the appointment of United States trade commissioner to South American countries, which was offered to him by Secretary of Commerce Redfield. After a conference with the secretary Mr. Hurley left for Chicago to prepare for an extended tour of Latin American republics.

Mr. Hurley's mission will be to canvass the commercial situation in South America and recommend methods by which American manufacturers and exporters may acquire and expand markets for their goods beyond the equator. The commissioner will go to South America with other members of the Illinois Manufacturers association, which is conducting a similar inquiry in its own interest. After this delegation returns Mr. Hurley will remain to investigate trade opportunities particularly in Brazil, Uruguay, Paraguay, the Argentine, and Chile.

Will Help Small Producer.

In giving his instructions to Mr. Hurley, Secretary Redfield laid stress on the desirability of developing commercial opportunities for the small as well as the large producer. Although the United States, he said, had made wonderful progress in acquiring foreign markets, it has been the large exporters who have reaped the harvest.

"Our efforts will be devoted largely to investigating the problem of developing credit for American producers and exporters," Mr. Hurley said. "In this respect American manufacturers at present are decidedly at a disadvantage. When a German manufacturer discovers an opportunity of extending his trade in a foreign country he goes to a German bank for the money to finance his enterprise. The bank in going into the venture is backed by the German government and the bank receives 25 per cent of the profits.

Plan Bad for Banks.

"I am opposed to this plan under which the foreign business gets into the hands of the banks. It should remain in the hands of the business men. The plan is a bad one for the banks, too, for with such burdens they are likely to get into trouble in times of financial stress. I believe a more satisfactory plan of assisting American exporters can be devised.

"We also must devise means of bringing the American producer into touch with the foreign consumers.

STERILIZATION LAW IS VOID.

Supreme Court of New Jersey Knocks Out Statute in Regard to Criminals and Defectives.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 18.—The Supreme court of New Jersey today set aside the act of 1911 providing for the sterilization of epileptics, the feeble minded, criminals, and other defectives.

A test case was instituted in the court before the law was carried into effect.

DRAMA OF CHANCE IN A SKYSCRAPER

dozen people seemed to be talking at once.

"KEEP out! Yes. O, get off this wire, can't you! Yes, this is Guy Gregory. What's the matter with this service? Lexington hotel." There came a chorus of angry voices, all scolding at once.

Meadows dropped the receiver. The missing witness! His name at least, and that of the hotel where he might be stopping! In a taxi that skidded dangerously over the black asphalt Meadows rushed south. Guy Gregory was in. Yes, it was Guy V. Gregory. Been a miner for twenty years in the northern part of Mexico. He had sold that lot. Sorry he had, too. Worth enough now to support him well in his old age. No, we old miners in the Mexican mountains don't see the papers very often. Certainly he'd testify. Going to be busy all day, though. But he'd come down to Meadows' office that night.

MEADOWS dined alone at his club and blew himself to a jubilee bottle of wine. It was an unbelievable coincidence. But when a telephone system with a hundred thousand miles of thin copper wire stretching all over the city gets an attack of nerves unbelievable coincidences are bound to happen. The smile in the eyes of Marie Clayton came back to him. If it hadn't been for that, now, he shouldn't have called up his client; shouldn't have struck the crossed wires just at that moment; shouldn't have found the missing witness. He owed her another good turn.

At 7:30 o'clock Meadows was back in his office. His client and the marvelous Guy V. Gregory were due presently. Meadows stood in his window and looked out. Across the street rose the huge bulk of the Mastadonic building. A thousand lighted windows glared at him. Behind each window a small cell, in which the spiders of business spun their webs all day. Now they were given over to janitors and scrub women—not quite all, though. Directly opposite and one story below his own a man sat at his desk. Beside him sat his stenographer. Meadows looked down on them quite as if they were a couple of insects under the microscope of a scientist.

The man was apparently dictating. Presently he stopped, leaned over and kissed the girl. Meadows strained his eyes. And then he gasped. For the girl was Marie Clayton.

THE man kissed her again. The old villain. There came into Meadows' mind a flash of inspiration. Here, perhaps, was a chance to pay his debt to the girl.

Across the windows of his office was shamelessly blazoned in gilt letters the name of the amorous wretch. Meadows picked up the telephone directory and looked up the name and number. The wires were working properly now. From where he sat Meadows could see the man get up—with what he fancied was a start—and go to the telephone.

"Hello. Is this Mr. Black?"

"Yes."

"Mr. John J. Black?"

"Yes."

"Stop kissing your stenographer," snapped Meadows.

There was an indignant sputtering at the other end of the wire. "Stop kissing your stenographer," repeated Meadows, in a cold, impressive voice.

"Who the devil is this talking?" stammered Mr. Black.

"This, sir,"—Meadows lowered his voice to an icy whisper—"this, sir, is your conscience!"

As he hung up the phone his client and Guy V. Gregory came into the office together.

LEWIS' EX-CLERK HELD AS FORGER

Senator Seeks Indictment of Moulthrop by District Grand Jury.

PINDELL WILL GET POST.

Bryan Denies Report Russia Has Rejected Peoria Man as an Envoy.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Following the appearance of Senator Lewis before the district grand jury today, Sydney Moulthrop, his discharged clerk, was brought to Washington tonight and lodged in jail on charges of forgery and of sending threatening letters to the senator and President Wilson. The grand jury heard the senator's charges against Moulthrop, but did not return an indictment today.

Moulthrop declined to discuss the published letter from Senator Lewis to Henry M. Pindell of Peoria regarding the Russian ambassadorship which the former clerk is alleged to have revealed.

"My lips are sealed on that matter," he said. "I want to deny, however, that I wrote any threatening letters either to the president or Senator Lewis."

Arrested in New York.

Moulthrop was arrested in New York this morning on a warrant sworn out by Senator Lewis charging him with forging his name to a check for $240. He was also held on the charge of sending threatening letters through the mails to Senator Lewis and President Wilson.

Besides Senator Lewis, J. R. Sullivan, the senator's private secretary, a local bank cashier, and a capitol policeman appeared before the grand jury. They all testified regarding the attempted passing of the check. The policeman alleged Moulthrop had confessed in Lewis' office after he was arrested. Senator Lewis then refused to prosecute him because of the plea of his mother.

Will Not Drop Pindell.

It is said the president has no intention of dropping H. M. Pindell of Peoria from consideration for ambassador to Russia as a result of the Lewis-to-Pindell letter incident and the resulting sentiment stirred up against the Peorian. It is not known just when the president will send Mr. Pindell's name to the senate, however.

Secretary Bryan this afternoon denied Russia had rejected Mr. Pindell. So far as he knows, Mr. Bryan says, the Peorian is most acceptable to Russia.

PILLS CAUSED CHILD'S DEATH.

Secretary of Confectioners' Association Proves Candy Was Not Reason for Fatal Illness.

On Nov. 11 THE TRIBUNE printed an item reporting the death of a little girl at the county hospital as the result of "eating colored candy." Walter C. Hughes, secretary of the National Confectioners' association, writes to say that a thorough investigation shows that death was caused by poisoning not from colored candy but from pink colored pills which her father had bought for medicinal purposes. The little girl got hold of the box and ate its contents, taking approximately one-third of a grain of strychnine. This was the cause of her death.

DELVE INTO COAL TRAFFIC

Counsel at Commerce Commission Inquiry Hear Rail Men.

QUESTION OF PROFITS NEXT.

Absence of Space Blamed When Loading Capacity Is Doubted.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 18.—Attorneys for the interstate commerce commission who are conducting the inquiry into the rates and practices of the anthracite coal carrying railroads delved deeply today into the subject of transportation facilities.

Operating officials of the Delaware, Lackawanna, and Western, the Lehigh Valley, and the New York, Ontario and Western were placed on the stand and led through an exhaustive examination.

The information obtained will be used by the commission as the basis for comparing coal rates and general merchandise rates in connection with the services given and the profits derived in each case. The question of profits may be reached tomorrow if the commission can finish the examination of operating officials of the Erie, Pennsylvania, and Reading, who are to appear at the morning session.

Counsel for the Plymouth Coal company, one of the chief complainants against the roads, examined the witnesses as to whether coal cars were always loaded to their full capacity.

The company asserts that it has been discriminated against because it has been unable to obtain a sufficient number of cars. The witnesses in each instance insisted that there was no vacant space.

From Motor Age, October 23, 1913

Read the clipping from Motor Age. The six-cylinder has had its day in Europe; no new "sixes" have been announced for two years. Many have discontinued making them. So the "fours" predominate today. A year or two from now a report of the Chicago Show will read much the same.

Why? Because a well made four-cylinder car is the most serviceable automobile that can be designed. It is most economical, most efficient, most dependable, most durable, easiest to handle. If you want the utmost of those things worth while in an automobile, buy a Cadillac "four." It is the only high-grade "four" of such acknowledged excellence that its makers are not obliged to build a "six" to "get the business" of a public too easily enthused over new ideas. The Cadillac public is a sane public, a known quantity, a sure market.

The much desired smoothness, freedom from vibration, and a wide variation in car speed on direct drive are all obtainable in the 1914 Cadillac. The two-speed direct drive rear axle gives you the choice of two different ratios between engine speed and car speed. On "high" rear axle gear you can drive forty miles an hour with a slow running, vibrationless engine. On "low" rear axle you can drive slowly enough in traffic. Both of these on direct drive, remember, and the axle gears are changed by electricity. You just press a button. Take a ride with us and be convinced.

I am determined that you shall receive value for your money and unending satisfaction when you deal with us. If you ever feel slighted, see me personally.

The Limousine $3250

The car illustrated above offers everything you expect to find in a $7,000 limousine—luxurious comfort, highest quality upholstery, all possible conveniences and appointments—plus a few refinements of body design not found in any other car. What is more important, it is a Cadillac. That means you get your money's worth to start with—plus a constant, economical service and freedom from repair expense which you cannot buy in any other car at any price.

OUR greatest hit this season is the great showing we've made of the authentic models in Balmaccan overcoats, the ultra smart London style. You know it; loose, baggy, hangs from the shoulders with a flare; sleeves large and roomy under the arms; "swagger" is the word.

In rough cloths; chinchillas, double thick Elysians and tweeds, the new "Blarney duffle," one of the best fabrics ever known; and many others. Take one look at these Balmaccans. $25, $30, $35, $40, $45, $50.

You'll find us specialists in chinchillas; you don't know how many different variations of weave that word includes until you see our chinchillas.

Crombie Scotches, the most famous of them all, in great variety; Montagnacs from Sedan—they're really chinchillas, the shaggy surface as soft as fine silk; German and Austrian chinchillas, and the best of American products. We're really headquarters for these serviceable, warm, wealthy weaves.

$18, $20, $25, $30, $35, $40, $50, $60.

Chinchilla overcoats for boys; blues, grays, browns; made for the comfort of the lads in cold weather, for school or dress-up service. You'll find just what you and your boy want here in chinchilla overcoats, shawl or adjustable collars, at $5 to $20.

We shall sell now a very special velour hat, Valdez green, brown or black, at $5. It is such a velour hat as you'd expect to pay, and be willing to pay, $8 for. The real aristocrat of velour hats. We're glad to be able to offer you such an extreme value in velours at $5.

Land Show

ONE of the many gripping, fascinating scenes from "Hiawatha"—the most famous of all aboriginal love legends, immortalized by Longfellow, played by full-blooded Ojibway and Iroquois Indians at the 1913 Land Show. Pau-Puk-Keewis, the Indian gambler and man of cunning, leaps from the rocks to escape the fury of the Indian braves. Every part thrillingly and realistically acted. Most marvelous scenic effects—real Indian village and forest. Wild war dances—mystic Indian rites.

The tragic love story of Hiawatha and Minnehaha, the beautiful Indian maiden, is presented in all its reality. by the very Indians who treasure the legend as a part of their tribal history. Hiawatha councils with his warriors at the camp fire; sings his love to Minnehaha; Minnehaha dies of famine—these and other stirring scenes of this renowned Indian folk story enacted on the largest stage in Chicago.

Ne-ah-tuk, or "Witch Wood," the wise squaw of the tribe, a century old, will stir the medicine pot and daily make the brilliant-colored war paint for her braves.

In contrast to them, you will see what civilization has done for the once fierce and relentless Sioux Indians. By arrangement with the Government, some of the Indians, who are excellent farmers, will exhibit their farm products.

RESIGNS AS HEAD OF N. Y. CENTRAL

William C. Brown Gives Failing Hearing and Need of Rest as Reasons.

BOND ISSUE ALSO MOTIVE?

Fight on Financial Plan by Senate Held Factor; A. H. Smith May Be Successor.

New York, Nov. 18.—[Special.]—William C. Brown, president of the New York Central lines, resigned today. The resignation takes effect on Jan. 1. It is not known who Mr. Brown's successor will be, but the man most talked of is Alfred H. Smith, senior vice president.

Mr. Brown's retirement closes a period of railroad service lasting more than forty-four years, twelve of which have been spent with the New York Central lines. Failing hearing and a desire to retire from active work were his reasons for resigning.

His resignation was not unexpected, as it has long been rumored that Mr. Brown wanted to go to his farm in Iowa as soon as he could see an opportunity to give place to a younger man.

His resignation carries with it a resignation from the presidency of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, the Michigan Central, and the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis.

Considered Resignation Two Years.

"I have for two years contemplated asking to be relieved of the very exacting duties and responsibilities of the position of chief executive of the New York Central lines," Mr. Brown's statement to the directors said. "I have been in railroad service continuously for more than forty-four years—twelve years with the New York Central lines, five years in charge of the operation and maintenance of the property, two years as senior vice president, and five years as president—and feel that I have earned that freedom from care, hard work, and responsibility which can only be secured by retiring from active service.

"In addition to my desire to be relieved of the burdens and responsibility of my position I am admonished by my failing hearing that I cannot without serious embarrassment continue to perform the duties of the position either in the board room or in frequent important conferences in which I must necessarily participate.

"For those reasons I beg to very respectfully tender my resignation as president, effective Jan. 1, 1914.

"In leaving the service I desire to express my sincere and grateful appreciation of the cordial coöperation which has always been extended to me by this board, and of the loyal, intelligent, and efficient support and assistance rendered by all the officers of the company."

Other Motives Thought Factor.

It is probable Mr. Brown foresaw that extra burdens soon would be added to his shoulders and felt that with business slowing up to a certain extent it was the best time for him to step down.

Bankers of the system have said that the New York Central would need $225,000,000 within the next decade and the Lake Shore $100,000,000. In view of this the issue of $167,102,000 to cover the consolidation of the two properties was proposed. The proposal is under fire from the senate and the interstate commerce commission. Friends of Mr. Brown have pointed out that he would have nothing to gain and everything to lose if the plan failed.

Mr. Brown is 60 years old and was born in the town of Norway, Herkimer county, N. Y., on July 29, 1853. His father was the Rev. Charles E. Brown. His railroad education began at the age of 16 at Thompson, Ill., as a section hand with the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul.

Will Talk Compulsory Education.

W. L. Bodine, superintendent of compulsory education, will lead a delegation to St. Louis on Thursday to attend the annual convention of the National League of Compulsory Education Officials. Mr. Bodine is president of the league. Among those going are John D. Shoop, Mrs. Florence Vosbrink, and James B. Dibelka.

INDIANS COME FOR OPENING OF U. S. LAND SHOW TOMORROW.

Ojibways Who Will Take Part in Production of "Hiawatha" at Coliseum Are on the Ground.

The United States land show at the Coliseum will open tomorrow morning. The party of Ojibway Indians, who are to take part in the production of "Hiawatha," arrived last night. They were met at the station by Francis M. Cayou, former football player on the Carlisle and Illinois elevens, who will have charge of the play.

Chief Wabanosa, who took part in the original production when it was given as a surprise for Miss Alice Longfellow when she visited the tribe in 1901, is with the present company, as is Mrs. Stevenjohn, daughter of the hereditary chieftain of the tribe, Barghauhjenee. Wabanosa will take the part of the arrow maker and Mrs. Stevenjohn that of Nokomis.

The party comes from the Ojibway reservation near Garden River, Ont., where the tribe has lived for generations. They are descendants of the tribe whose legend Longfellow made famous.

UNABLE TO AGREE ON WATER POWER

Divided Report Will Be Presented to the Conservation Congress.

SPLIT OVER FRANCHISES.

All Factions United on Three Essentials Which Must Be Followed.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—Unable to agree on a federal water power policy, the national conservation congress water power committee presented a divided report here today at the opening session of the annual meeting of the congress. There were three reports, in fact, one from the majority, another from the minority, and a third enunciating certain general principles on which the committee was unanimous.

Exceedingly lively debate is looked for when the subject is discussed at tomorrow's session, which will be presided over by Walter L. Fisher, former secretary of the interior.

Divided as to Franchises.

The main failure of the committee was its inability to agree as to the method of granting water power for franchises. The majority favored the "indeterminate franchise with no fixed term limit." The minority would allow a period of not exceeding thirty years, during which the franchise would be irrevocable except for cause. The minority specified ownership "by an unlawful trust, or in restraint of trade," as sufficient for immediate termination of franchise.

The committee agreed that compensation for the privilege of water power use "shall be reserved to the government, state or federal, from whom the privilege comes."

In making its united report the committee declared that while "finding a difference of opinion among its members as to certain details of the subject," it felt "keenly the consequences which would follow a failure to agree upon a constructive program of progress."

Agree on Three Essentials.

Both majority and minority reports asserted that "there are three essentials of a sound water power policy—prompt development, prevention of unregulated monopoly, and good service and fair charges to the consumer." Both said that "the regulation of service and charge is usually a state or local function," and that it should be "exercised by the nation only in interstate industry."

The minority report added: "And when the failure of other agencies leaves the consumer at the mercy of a corporation," while the majority report said, "and possibly when the failure of other agencies might result in abuse."

PLAN BIG GOOD ROADS DAY

Country County Board Members Issue Invitations for Dec. 1

TO FORM PERMANENT BODY.

Lincoln Highway Officer Says Chicago Has Given $500,000.

Over the signatures of John J. Gard, E. M. Board, Avery Coonley, A. M. Anderson, and Harley B. Mitchell, country members of the Cook county commissioners, invitations were issued yesterday for a "Great Big Top Notch Good Roads Day" on Monday, Dec. 1.

The object of the meeting, which will be in progress throughout the day, is, according to the invitation, to form a permanent organization of township officials from the country towns.

The Hotel Sherman has been selected for the convention. The morning session will start at 10 o'clock. An attempt will be made then to organize the township officials. After luncheon a special train will be provided to take visitors for an inspection of the concrete road now being constructed at Niles Center. After the inspection a dinner will be served at the Hotel Sherman.

Among the speakers engaged for the dinner are A. D. Gash and S. E. Bradt of the state's highway commission, A. N. Johnson, state highway engineer; Edward N. Hines, "father of concrete roads in Wayne county, Michigan"; William G. Edens, president of the Illinois Highway Improvement association; Coroner Peter M. Hoffman, and an assistant from the government road office at Washington.

Chicago already has contributed nearly $500,000 toward the proposed Lincoln highway, which will reach from the Atlantic to the Pacific, according to H. J. Larsen, vice president of the highway association.

Physician Gives Recipe for Gray Hair

A Well-Known Physician and Author Gives Simple Home Recipe That Will Darken Gray Hair.

Dr. Stanton Burroughs, the well-known physician and author, recently made the following statement: "Gray hair can be easily darkened by the following simple recipe which you can mix at home: To seven ounces of water add a small box of Barbo Compound, one ounce bay rum and one-quarter ounce glycerine. Apply it to the hair every other day until the desired shade is obtained. It not only is an excellent hair darkener but at the same time removes dandruff and other ills of the scalp. I use it myself and have no hesitancy in recommending it to my patients. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost."—Advertisement.

MRS. CHARLEMAGNE TOWER JR. SUES FOR $200,000 DAMAGES.

Case Against Father-in-Law, Alleging Alienation of Husband's Affections, Unique in Quaker Court History.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 18.—Two hundred thousand dollars is the amount of damages asked by Mrs. Georgenna Burdick Tower, who declares she is the wife of Charlemagne Tower Jr., and who has sued Charlemagne Tower Sr. for alleged alienation of the affections of his son.

The complainant began her suit against Mr. Tower Sr., who was former American ambassador to Germany, on Oct. 9, but did not file a statement of damages until today. She declares in her suit she was married to young Tower in New Haven, Conn., in June, 1911, while he was a student in a New England university and she alleges that since then Mr. Tower Sr. has induced young Tower to leave her.

The amount of damages asked is said to be the largest ever filed in this city in a suit of this character.

Next Time You Build a Bridge

It will save time if you get Murray O'Neil, a builder and something more—in Rex Beach's new novel, "The Iron Trail." This is O'Neil's story. He's no handsome, dashing hero, but a tall, heavy man of forty, with slightly graying temples and the facial marks of strenuous endeavor. But he can love and fight and build. The story certainly is Alaska.

THE CORYSTON FAMILY

¶ Heckling a woman is a ticklish sport, especially when the woman is Lady Coryston. And, sure enough, she lifts it to the heights of a battle of ideas, and a fine warrior she is—in the finest story Mrs. Humphry Ward has ever written. This new book is called "The Coryston Family."

THE DESIRED WOMAN

¶ Blaming the woman won't do, and Will N. Harben shows why in his big new novel called "The Desired Woman." It shows what a man can make of his life when no forces but those of his own consciousness are brought to bear. "The Desired Woman" might have been an objectionable story in some hands. But not in his. All Harper books are clean.

THE PASSIONATE FRIENDS

¶ No man's woman would she be, this heroine who is not a mere character, but a living reality in the pages of H. G. Wells's new novel. In it Mr. Wells says some sharp things about our right to live our own lives. He tells us how one man and one woman did it in this new book which is called "The Passionate Friends." It is a good story—and much more.

Two Plays Presented at the Fine Arts.

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

MR. SHAW and Mr. Kenneth Sawyer Goodman were the collaborators in the entertainment last evening at the Fine Arts, Mr. Shaw with "Widowers' Houses" and Mr. Goodman with "A Game of Chess." Both were applauded sincerely, but the native product suggested the greater enthusiasm—a bit of patriotism which perhaps Mr. Shaw will excuse, considering the circumstances. Loud was the outcry for Mr. Goodman at the end of his small play, and he paid his admirers the gracious tribute of remaining away from view. It was a showy little thing, "A Game of Chess," full of the sinister, the suave, the violent serenity, and the graceful artifice of the dilettante. Although Russian in theme, there was no bomb in it. Low, tense, vivid—and polite conversation with an odd twist in the story, served very well as a substitute, and if it had been in a commercial theater "A Game of Chess" would have been set down as a "hit."

So, indeed, would "Widowers' Houses." It did act with fine effectiveness, contrary to the expectations of those of us who depend canily on the views of transatlantic commentators for our impressions of Mr. Shaw's plays. We were able to laugh, excessively, it may be, at times at Mr. Cokane, that absurd little popinjay; to loathe the grim and ugly expedience of the landlord of tenement houses; to resent virtuously his shrewish daughter, and to sympathize with Mr. Trench, her betrothed, in his romantic and economic perplexities. They were all so human, excepting Cokane, with their everyday blending of the good and the bad. Pleasant, everyday stage coincidences were at hand, also, to remind us that Mr. Shaw is compassionate enough to stoop now and then in his method of play manufacture.

Thus "Widowers' Houses" was not at all the dull and preposterous Socialistic pamphlet that we have heard it called. It was just a sane and candid comedy, with its persons coming and going and talking much in the fashion of people upon the earth. In one scene—that where the termagant Blanche shouted her anger at Trench—the noise was heard in an adjoining room by her father, the first time, probably, that such a natural miracle has occurred in the drama. It was wordy only so far as is necessary to reveal character or further action, and few of its lines could be sacrificed.

With another remark or two to be made of Mr. Goodman's opus, there is time to say but a word this forenoon about the way Mr. B. Iden Payne's company acted in "Widowers' Houses." Miss Mona Limerick has made the character of Blanche the subject of deep study certainly, and it is not for one whose reading of the play was long ago to find fault with it. She was excellent in the first encounter with Trench, luring him on to his proposal delightfully, and in other quiet moments she was similarly gratifying—if you care for her manner of speech. But there is an idea that Blanche is a good deal of a cat, ill tempered and mean, and not a woman of very deep feeling. Yet in the "big scene" with her father, after Trench's revolt, Miss Limerick sounded a decided note of genuine emotion, splendid in its execution but not in consonance with the lady's fiery temperament. It may have been mere hysteria, as I heard it described after it was over, so I let my suggestion go for what it is worth. Mr. Hampden as Trench, Mr. Burke as Sartorius, Mr. Gibson as Cokane, and Mr. Payne in both phases of Lickcheese were as they should have been, and I liked the bit contributed by Miss Maude Leslie as the abused lady's maid.

Returning to "A Game of Chess," it is recalled that it is about Alexis Alexandrovich, governor of a Russian province, and his attempted assassination by Boris Ivanovich Shamrayeff. Both are good conversationalists, expressing their thoughts in the elegant phrases of the minor drama. They sit vis-à-vis with a table between them in the governor's darkened study, the one with a revolver ready, the other placid, unperturbed, and chatty. He prefers to chat, he says, rather than to pray.

The governor's tranquillity is fantastic; even when he announces that he and his intending murderer are foster brothers his voice and demeanor are as calm as the summer sea. He loves his language and uses it well, referring to himself in the third person. They will both die together, by a Chinese toxin, "the draught of final oblivion," and so they drink, discussing amiably the ensuing symptoms. But the governor is immune from the effects of this poison, having made himself so by frequent use of it, especially for a crisis of this kind. So he is alive and well when the terrorist is dead, and he is able to speak thus extemporaneously over the prostrate body: "To the night without stars; to the mists that never lift; to the bottom of nothingness." Thereupon he begins again his interrupted game of chess. The piece was unequivocally effective; it had "good theater" in it, and it was well played by Mr. Hampden as the governor and Mr. Kane as the red peasant.

Shaw Makes Britons Laugh.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Nov. 18.—G. B. Shaw's new playlet, "The Great Catherine," was produced at the Vaudeville theater this evening. It turned out to be a setting for one of Shaw's staple ideas, namely, the utter fatuousness of the superior English person. It is clever and humorous as usual, and kept the audience laughing at the adventures of an Englishman at the court of Catherine the Great. But the playlet is flimsy in construction, and apparently was not intended to be otherwise. It was well acted. Gertrude Kingston played the part of Catherine the Great; Norman McKinnel that of Potemkin, and Edmond Breon was the Englishman.

MISS EVELYN NESBIT-THAW

Curiosity, at Least, Is Satisfied.

If, as in the philosophy of the North Clark street statesman, it doesn't matter what you were but what you are today, Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw may be said to be the star of a vaudeville company appearing this week at the Auditorium theater.

Assisted and admired by Mr. "Jack" Clifford, an agile Pierrot with unguent hair and a tired look in his eyes, Mrs. Thaw dances the imperial tango, imported from the Argentine, and also plays in a pantomime illuminating the adventures which befell Mariette, a leader of the easel set in the Paris of 1830. She is almost as good looking as her photographs and much more vivacious.

It is midway in the performance when Mrs. Thaw slips out from between some royal purple curtains and wigwags the shy Mr. Clifford to follow her. She is in a frock of yellow whose lucidity in the front permits a view of her sturdy calves all bound round with velvet braid, and her black hair hangs loose upon her shoulders. Mr. Clifford has a look of patient disillusionment in his tired orbs as he seizes Mrs. Thaw, but to brisk notes in cadence beating he whirls her about in the magic motion of the maxixe.

They dance very well indeed, from the viewpoint of one who is not proficient in the art. That is, they keep step together with some seemingly definite object in view, and they are graceful, if not airy. Mrs. Thaw, like Mrs. Fezziwig, is one vast, substantial smile. Mr. Clifford's aspect is sacrificial, though distingué. Gymnastics are employed ere the dance is over, and it ends with Mrs. Thaw's arms entwined around her assistant's neck, revolving like a gilded pinwheel.

The libretto is the best part of the pantomime. In Rudolph's studio it opens, and Jules, Paul, and Joseph are engaged in frugal merry-making with their sweethearts, when the Baron, somewhat motheaten, enters to patronize the arts. Falling in love with Mariette (Mrs. Thaw), the Baron proffers her money, and so just for a handful of silver she leaves them, including Rudolph, her roommate, and is next seen in the Café Riche wistfully wearing the silken chains of shame. Mrs. Thaw is not at all an unskillful pantomimist, and when she and the Vampire Lady get together in the last scene and have it out for the baron's favors she leads and counters with good illusion. All the way through the play, in fact, she is there with the noiseless histrionics, and her acting, though perhaps not so good as her tangoing, is much more interesting. There is a quantity of dull dancing by a number of pretty girls in "Mariette," which is as a whole rather calm.

This seems to be a very little to say about the debut upon the stage in Chicago of so eminent a figurante of the first page as Mrs. Thaw. But, as Miss Barrymore used to say, it's all there is; there isn't any more. The accompanying vaudeville is not the jitney outfit which usually surrounds stars of Mrs. Thaw's class, and it includes the Messrs. Bernard and Weston in songs and comics; the Misses Courtney, who act while they sing, and the Arnaud brothers in their grotesque musical offering which was so popular a while ago at White City and elsewhere. There was a large audience, including many payers, at the opening performance yesterday afternoon. Our curiosity, if not their esthetic yearning, seemed to be assuaged.

Gunn Conducts Concert of American Music.

THE average Chicagoan who went forth to Orchestra hall last night to listen to the Chicago Symphony orchestra in the program of American music by American musicians, did so with the feeling of the pioneer. His was to be the delight of discovery; a pilgrimage into the foothills of genius; to the borderland of the future of accomplishment. When he left he realized he had scaled some reasonably tall peaks during the evening and he had climbed up into the present.

The evening of American music and musicians—with the exception of two MacDowell numbers it was really an evening of Chicago music—was arranged and conducted by Glen Dillard Gunn, who in the presentation of the program realized a big ambition.

Mr. Gunn believes in the American musician. It has been his hope to make the American public join him in this belief. A few more sample evenings such as that he gave Chicago last night and he will have fulfilled his desire.

Mr. Gunn presented three novelties: Eric Delamarter's overture, "To a Fantastic Comedy"; George Colburn's symphonic poem, "Spring's Contest," and Leo Sowerby's concerto for violin in G minor. All of the composers are Chicagoans.

The musical world rather agreed that of the three compositions to come to a first hearing the overture by Mr. Delamarter was the most complete. An elfin, tantalizing bit of music it is, a dancing ray of light which coaxes the listener's imagination on and on and then slips off, leaving him to wonder why it left so soon. Only one quarrel may one have with Mr. Delamarter and his overture. It is too short. Modern without being aggressive, rich in its color and harmony and classically clear in its orchestral treatment, the theme will bear greater development than the composer has given it as it now stands.

Mr. Colburn's composition may not claim the imagination of Mr. Delamarter's overture. But it is a music poem, filled with melody, original in its rhythmic structure, modern in that it "abandons the old symmetrical formulæ for patterns somewhat irregular," to quote a musician. The audience liked it last night, no doubt because while being modern it did not forget to waft a message the members of the audience still hovering in the past could understand.

The surprise of the evening, however, came in the composition of Mr. Sowerby, a lad just turned 19, whom Frederick Stock regards a genius. Mr. Sowerby calls his composition (it it a lengthy work) a concerto. In reality it is a fantasy, wonderfully brilliant in its passages, broad in its treatment, ever original—a veritable musical prophecy. It was interpreted last night by Herman Felber Jr., youngest member of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, the son of one of the cellists. The choice of a youth to interpret the music of youth was happy. Mr. Felber is a Chicago product entirely. He has been the pupil of Ludwig Becker, former concert master of the orchestra.

If he came from a land farther beyond Chicago than the suburbs he would be heralded as a prodigy. The audience called bravos upon him last night and recalled him and the youthful, red headed composer (who looked more as if he should be associated with tan and dogs and fishing poles than compositions that promise to live) until they played away a portion of the intermission.

The last half of the program was devoted to MacDowell's compositions with Miss Mae Doelling, a Chicago pianist already famed, as the soloist in the concerto in D minor. The orchestra played all of the new works from manuscript.

Few Things So Profitable as Making Baby Outfits.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

ARE your babies all grown up and do you miss having little mites about? Isn't it a most poignant sadness to realize you'll never have any more wee garments to fashion?

Baby clothes are more fun to make than any other kind of things, aren't they? I shall never forget the joy the stitches gave me when I began to make the tiny lovely things for my baby.

Have you ever thought that perhaps you could make all the baby things you long to make and at the same time be making money? Yes, you can. There is hardly anything that has so much money in it as the making of infants' wear.

Here's a letter that came to me the other day. You'll want to read it, I'm sure. It's a lovely letter, I think.

"I'm not an old woman who has lost all of the joy there is in life and who is trying to make herself keep off the evil days of poverty by trying to do a little sewing. I'm just a middle aged woman whose children are beginning to grow up and who is missing the wonderful joy of having babes about the house. I had only two children and they both were taken from me when they were small, and I've been living for five years wondering what the world had to offer me in the way of happiness when it had taken everything away from me.

"We're rather poor. I've been ill so much we never seemed to be able to get anything ahead, so we've been waiting to adopt a little girl until we should be able to give her a really good home, and to be sure she would be able to have a good education.

"Do you remember some time ago printing a letter from a woman who had been able to adopt a child because she had earned some money for its education, because she had found that she could earn enough money to keep on putting some aside all of the time? That letter gave me the keenest happiness that I have had for a long time. I saved it to read to my husband. When the dishes were all put away and we'd gone into the living room and my husband was settled in his favorite chair, I brought out the piece that I had cut from the paper, and I said to him, 'Why couldn't I do that, too?'

"Of course, he didn't know what I meant at first, until he had read the letter. Then we agreed that perhaps I could.

"Well, I began to make baby outfits. I loved to make them and somehow it gave me a glow of happiness to think that perhaps some time I'd have my dear little girl.

"I have been most successful. I was surprised to find how many women wanted to have little things made for them. My orders have kept mounting up and up and I'm going to have more than I can possibly do for Christmas.

"I am so grateful to you for what you have done for me and to the little worker who wrote that other letter. Without her example I shouldn't have found the work I am enjoying, and I shouldn't have thought of being able to earn the money that will make it possible for us to adopt a little girl of our own."

Isn't that a worth reading letter? Doesn't your heart beat with happiness that she could be able to do what she wanted to do? And can't you just see the big chair by the fire and the little orphan girl that will find a home and a father's and mother's arms and love waiting for her?

Why don't you make some baby things for some one else, for a busy mother who would appreciate your help so much? You will be able to earn much money, and you will be so happy, I'm sure.

There is a booklet that will tell you how a hundred women earned money at home. Wouldn't you like to have it? I'll send it to you if you'll put your name and address on a postcard and send it to me. Will you?

A word to the Christmas shoppers. There are home workers who are taking orders now for Christmas candies. They will make the best old fashioned goodies you ever ate. And if you don't like molasses candy and candy animals and birds they will make the most professional looking French creams for you. One of them makes a specialty of black walnut candies. Don't you want to have your order in early so that you may be sure of having it for Christmas?

Makes Over Old Furs.

A woman of my acquaintance is earning a good income in her own home this winter by making over old furs. She was a dressmaker before her marriage a few years ago and found that she had a knack in handling furs, so she now puts it to excellent use in her own home. A friend of mine took to her an old astrachan coat and this woman made her a beautiful set of furs from it. She charges only $3 to make a muff and about $2 or $2.50 for the collar. I have seen both mink and near seal sets made by her which were wonderful pieces of work. She manages by giving each customer a date and special time for her work, and if she has a vacant day she will take extra work, but does not try to do more than she can easily manage with her household duties.

ANNE PLEASANTS, Menasha, Wis.

Sells at Bazaars.

I am always making aprons—large, small, and medium sized; of gingham, heavy and light weight; of print, and of fancy muslin, ribbon trimmed—suitable for all occasions. I include the novelties, such as clothespin aprons, darning aprons, etc. Whenever I notice by the paper that any church is to have a sale or bazaar I offer an assortment of my stock to be sold on commission, and I attend the sale and keep track of my own handiwork. This advertises my aprons, and a great many women who have promised to give "something" to a future sale will order some aprons from me rather than to make them themselves. People have asked why I do not add bags, jabots, etc., but I content myself with my apron reputation and make a good many dollars each year without having to leave my home often.

MISS JEANNE PRESTON, 1726 N. Nevada-av., Colorado Springs, Colo.

As a Letter Writer.

I paid $5 down on a typewriter, the balance to be paid in three months. This advertisement was then inserted in one of the dailies: "Often you could secure a position if you knew how to write a letter to an employer. Often you wish to write a letter of condolence, congratulation, etc. This is my specialty and of especial value to foreigners. Let me help you write any and all kinds of letters; strictly confidential; prices reasonable." If you have a knack for letter writing you will be surprised to see how you can turn it to account in this way. I got from 50 cents to $2 for my letters.

Heckling a woman is a ticklish sport, especially when the woman is Lady Coryston. And, sure enough, she lifts it to the heights of a battle of ideas, and a fine warrior she is—in the finest story Mrs. Humphry Ward has ever written. This new book is called "The Coryston Family."

THE DESIRED WOMAN

Shaming the woman won't do, and Will N. Harben shows why in his big new novel called "The Desired Woman." It shows what a man can make of his life when no forces but those of his own consciousness are brought to bear. "The Desired Woman" might have been an objectionable story in some hands. But not in his. All Harper books are clean.

THE PASSIONATE FRIENDS

No man's woman would she be, this heroine who is not a mere character, but a living reality in the pages of H. G. Wells's new novel. In it Mr. Wells says some sharp things about our right to live our own lives. He tells us how one man and one woman did it in this new book which is called "The Passionate Friends." It is a good story—and much more.

MRS. VON CLAUSSEN INSANE, SAYS COMMISSION REPORT

Woman Who Threatened to Sue Roosevelt for $1,000,000 Will Have Chance to Contest Alienists' Findings.

New York, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Ida von Claussen, who gained notoriety several years ago by threatening suit against President Roosevelt for $1,000,000 damages for not having her introduced at the court of the King of Sweden, today was declared to be insane in the report of a commission of alienists submitted to Judge Malone in general sessions court.

Upon the receipt of the report Judge Malone rescinded his order allowing Mrs. von Claussen's release on bail of $5,000 in a case pending against her.

He left a handsome brand new gray velour hat on his desk. When the "tango" ... finished the new hat was gone. In its place was an old gray hat, three sizes too small. Now the major is wearing a cap.

Marion Harland's Helping Hand.

Something to Elevate the Mind.

"IT does my heart good to know of so much good being done through the Helping Hand Corner. Some have received many books. I venture to ask if there is not some one who has a few good religious books—something to elevate the mind—that he or she will give to me. If I only could get a few really good books I would be thankful till to the donor and strive to return the good deed. L. D."

You are more likely to get "good books"—that is, those dealing with religious truths—than any others. The true Christian has always the desire to make of others partakers of what has been blessed to his eternal good. We are ever ready to pass on our religious periodicals and books. May I suggest to those to whose hearts this frequent request makes appeal that they save religious papers weekly and send them to the address of our correspondent, making a Monday morning service of the kindly deed? A really good religious weekly is a benediction in any household, and becomes in time a valued friend and counselor.

Magazines and Silk Pieces.

"I have a year's subscription to a family magazine for any one who will pay postage; also a lot of silk pieces. MRS. E. M. I."

We may not name the magazine so generously laid in our hands. Suffice it to say it is worth taking and reading. We accept it gratefully, together with the silk pieces.

Stack of Magazines.

"I am anxious to do a little good, as I have a stack of magazines, last year's. I want to pass them on to some one who has time to read and who will appreciate them. I cannot afford to pay expressage on them to points out of the city. There must be some invalid who longs for reading matter he or she cannot afford. I have been ill for two years, so read a great deal. "A. B. C."

"Stacks of magazines" sounds well. I "rise to explain" at this point, that the rules of the advertising department of the paper forbid the mention of the name of magazines in our "small Corner." Take my word for it, every one of these I may not catalogue will repay you for sending for the address of our member, and then for the postage upon your choice of the "stack."

Truss for Large Man.

"Please offer a truss, single pad, but one that may be adjusted for either side. It is for a large man. The length is about 42 inches. It is in good condition. Mrs. L. M. M."

Our offerings today are notable. Already a breath of the Yuletide is stealing into our great body. It is the precursor of the reign of peace and good will which shall in God's good time cover the whole earth.

Planning a Christmas Tree.

And now for what I would like to make the chief feature of this week's Helping Hand. Will you read it carefully, undismayed by the length? It is eminently seasonable, and the time is short.

"A great many children will be forgotten by Santa Claus this year. For that reason I am planning a Christmas tree for a few of them. So I come asking the Cornerites if they will help me in this work. Dolls, books, hair ribbons, mittens, pictures, toys of any kind—in fact, anything that will make a child happy. Anything that is sent will be appreciated very much. Five of these children are cripples. One, a girl of 16, lost the use of her feet two years ago. She has a sweet voice for singing and longs for a guitar. I shall take pleasure in trying in every possible way to make the event long to be remembered by the little ones, and will thank the Corner from my heart for any help you may give. I am a great sufferer, and my nerves so shattered I can hardly write. Getting ready for the Christmas tree will give me something else to think about, and will help me to be happy. I shall enjoy the work thoroughly. "H. L. H."

I do not envy that woman her want of sensibility who does not catch the spirit of Christmas in perusing the simple, unaffected letter indicating the scheme, blocked out by a semi-invalid, for forgetting her own pain and privations in working for the happiness of the children her great heart has taken to it, as if they were her own. Lose no time in gathering together whatever you can spare that will help furnish the Christmas tree she sees in anticipation. "Freely ye have received, freely give!"

Books Given Away.

"I read an offer of engineering books, and if they have not already been given away I will gladly pay postage. MRS. M. F. K."

The books had gone from us before your letter arrived. We register you for one that may be offered in response to your note.

Help in Church Work.

"I have been appointed a local preacher and I need some helps. Perhaps some dear sister or brother has a Bible dictionary, geography, or commentaries he or she would give away. I am not worthy of such a favor, but I ask it for the Master's sake. T. S. S."

The plea will go whither it is sent without solicitation from me. We have ministers of all denominations among our coworkers. We believe in the fullest meaning of the term, "in the communion of saints." I shall not have to hold this brother's address in vain or long.

Suet Pudding.

One cup finely chopped suet, one cup flour, one teaspoon each salt and baking powder. Mix all together, add one cup raisins and currants, the raisins seeded, the currants cleansed, and both dredged with flour. Moisten with water to make a stiff paste, put in a well floured pudding bag, and boil one hour. Serve with sweet sauce.—Kindness of Mrs. R. L.

Mock Angel Food.

Heat one cup milk to boiling, sift together four times one cup flour, one cup sugar, three teaspoons baking powder; add to these the boiling milk and stir until smooth. Fold in the beaten whites of two eggs and bake in unbreased pan as for angel food.—Kindness of F. W.

Cooings of Contentment.

From penciled notes to her faithful friend, Mrs. S., I extract a few sentences that will interest the Corner in our "child," Lila W.:

"I am ever so much better, but my toes are stiff, and the doctor says I must have them straightened. Thank the children that sent me cards. I liked that lady who called the other day. I wish I could see her again. Thank her for me for the nice things she sent me. I cannot thank you enough for all you have done for me, and for writing to the Corner about me. A kind lady, Mrs. G——, comes every few days to take me auto riding."

Little cooings of contentment that may sound as sweet in other ears as in mine.

Hungarian Goulash.

Cut two pounds lean beef small as for stew; put into a saucepan two tablespoons good drippings and heat; fry meat in this to good brown, stirring often. Add two sliced onions, cook until crisp; add one-half cup vinegar, two tablespoons brown sugar, three bay leaves, four whole black peppers and a few small red peppers, with one large carrot cut into dice. Pour over all one and one-half quarts hot water and simmer gently until all ingredients are tender. When nearly done pour in one can tomatoes, thicken, and season to taste. You can add potatoes if you wish.—Kindness of A. M. E. G.

Fashions Direct from Paris

Weird Results Achieved in Color Combinations.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—Color combination and material combinations seem to be rivaling each other these days to see which can effect the weirdest and most bizarre results. No sooner has one gown been shown revealing a perfect medley of tones and colors than another gown is displayed made up of half a dozen different kinds of material.

One effective afternoon frock of blue serge shown here lately was made up of five different materials and four different colors and yet the general effect was both harmonious and pleasing.

The skirt was plaited in the front extending over a tunic and ending under a girdle of sea green taffeta. This plait as well as the lower part of the corsage was trimmed with red buttons and button loops of the same shade satin. The upper part of the corsage and sleeves were of serge, while the neck and sleeves were edged with narrow bands of soft brown fur. In the neck was white tulle crushed effectively and the ruffings of it run across the front. Altogether the gown was attractive, despite its many colors and fabrics.

Evening gowns are showing quite as many varieties of goods if not as many differences of coloring. Velours de laine is frequently combined with silk, satin, and chiffon and with beaded embroidery trimmings and elaborately brocaded ribbons.

Plaids and plain materials are combined in all sorts of effective ways. One afternoon frock of black velours had a tunic and corsage of green and black silk. The ends of the tunic finished in a drapery in the back with huge sash ends. The collars, cuffs, and girdle were of the black velvet and simply embroidered in green.

One rather startling wrap by Drecoll which has been widely copied with minor diversifications was of rust red colored satin broche bordered by an enormous band of black fox. Lapping far to the left side the fronts and neck were outlined with the same fur. Huge rust red silk cords and tassels fastened ornaments of the same kind at each side of the collar.

The combination of gold gauze and gold brocade is a striking one and at the same time decidedly pleasing to the eye. Evening wraps of this material combined with the pelt of a huge white fox slung over the shoulders in the ultra fashionable and yet primitive style make up into stunningly sumptuous garments.

Fashion Notes.

From all present indications jet in combination with delicate chiffons and laces is to be widely used this coming season. Scarfs of tulle, jet trimmed, and caught about the figure of the woman in evening dress, lend the enchanting air of misty vagueness so popular in the present day silhouette.

Striped satin and silk hats are one of the recent millinery novelties. With this material the wide flaring upturned brim, which is a late accent in the hat world, is used. It is a becoming style to the woman with pretty hair, as it discloses sufficient of the coiffure to render a soft framing for the face.

The "tango" coiffure is the latest in the perfectly coiffed head. It is a decidedly simple effect, and yet at the same time a charming one. Waved hair is combed back straight from the forehead, with a slope upward, and coiled in the prevailing invisible chiffon. Ears are again à la mode, sometimes the lobe exposed or merely the tip glimpsed through curls caught high at the side of the head. There is not any fringe across the front of the forehead, but curls drop at the sides, sometimes in clusters of three and again in one full ringlet falling low. One single ringlet always accompanies the "tango" coiffure, on each side of the face.

Large plaids in three colors and Dame Fashion is insistent that the shades be limited to this number, are being shown in the novelty woolen fabrics. The softer pastel tones are particularly modish just now in these same tri-colored effects, and made up in dresses and suits with plain dark materials.

The artistic effectiveness of the bit of black velvet at the throat keeps it still in vogue, in spite of the fact it is far from novel. Cut steel and jet as well as rhinestones combine with the black velvet in forming a striking neck and wrist ornament.

Dinner frock of white satin, trimmed with Valenciennes and draped with blue tulle. Flaring tunic of blue velvet.

Doris Blake's Advice

By Doris Blake

Marrying Off Your Daughters.

NEXT perhaps in popularity to the mother-in-law as a theme for vaudeville comedians and other alleged humorists is the mother with daughters to marry.

But in spite of the gibes and the puns there is hardly a more responsible act in a mother's whole life than to see that her daughters do marry and marry successfully. There is nothing that means so much to her and to the future of her family. In fact, the successful marrying of her daughters is but the final seal of successful living on the mother's part.

The average mother does not think enough of this thing of marrying off her daughters. Perhaps in no country under the sun are parents so indifferent on this question as in America.

So-called "society people" know the importance of it. They prepare their daughters to win admiration and bring them out in a way to give each young woman in turn her "chance" among young men of her kind.

But not so with the average mothers whose daughters after high school days become wage earners of one kind or another. "Society" for these girls is a most uncertain thing. School days with their associations over, the young men scatter here and there and within three or four years of her commencement day the girl finds herself with hardly an escort and little social life outside of that afforded by church, lodge, woman's club, and the like. And if she has the average home she must work out her own "matrimonial salvation" in sundry remnants of time with no aid from her parents to accelerate the young man's interest.

A mother should dignify her daughter's friendships. She should use her energies to produce attractive conditions under which her daughters may entertain. She should not discourage a man (except for moral reasons) merely because he is not the man she wants for a son-in-law. Where one man is attracted other men will be attracted and out of the number the right one will be found.

Many mothers, on the other hand, ruin the good work by over zeal. They talk of their daughters continually, of their charms, their allurements, and their beauty. No young man enjoys having a young woman (however attractive) crammed down his throat.

Some one has defined the mother as the "commanding general of the family army." A soldier pays the price of the commanding officer's negligence and daughters often pay to the day of their death for a mother's shortsightedness, and in many hearts are secret bitternesses of which complacent mothers little dream.

Successful marriage of your daughters follows successful living. For good attracts good. If you would attract desirable young men, be desirable yourself and give your daughters as desirable surroundings as you can, in all reasonableness, afford.

Shall She Give Him a Ring?

"Dear Miss Blake: Can you help me out on the following: I am engaged to a prince of a young man and he has given me a beautiful diamond ring for my birthday. Is it considered good taste for me to give him a ring as a remembrance, or would it seem too much like an exchange, or can you suggest something more appropriate? He has no ring of any kind and I was wondering if it would be all right to give him one. We are to be married in the spring. VERA."

It would not be good taste for you to give the young man a ring of any sort. But it will be perfectly proper for you to remember his birthday in some way. Isn't there something that he is particularly interested in? Couldn't you find the latest book on that subject? A little leather piece of fine workmanship and artistic beauty would be a nice gift if he is at all fond of beautiful things. The gift that you give him must be unostentatious. That is, you can use much taste in the selection of the gift, but you must not give him anything that appears to be costly.

The number of letters received daily from correspondents who wish to be answered through the columns of "The Tribune" is so large in comparison with the space allotted to those answers that there is necessarily some delay in replying to many of the questions asked of Miss Blake. If you wish a prompt reply inclose in your letter a stamped, addressed envelope.

They "Skip" School.

"Dear Miss Blake: We are two high school girls and we wish to ask you if it is proper to go out with boys during school hours. We are both 17. We also ask if it is proper to go out with boys to dance. We go with boys three years our senior. Do you think they are too old for us? We both love them and we know they love us, as they have told us they did. "CURLY AND DEAR."

It is very dishonest of you to leave your classes to be with boys. You are going to school to study not to be with boys. And it is also improper for you to go to dances at your age. Wait for a year or two until you are old enough to accept the attentions of young men before you begin to worry about how you shall act toward them. You are indiscreet, at the least, to allow young men to tell you that they love you.

He Winks!

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a girl of 21. I have been going with a boy of 25, and I dearly love him, but every time we meet each other he winks at me, and what do you think he means by it? My girl friends tell me that it means that he loves me. How old should a girl be before she goes with the boys?

"BROWN EYES."

There is no meaning to what the young man does, except that he is very rude. Can't you break him of the very unpleasant habit? I think that a girl should be at least 18 before she accepts the attentions of young men.

She Loves Him Dearly.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young girl of 17 and I am very much in love with a young boy about my age. We have been keeping steady company for about two years, with the exception of my foolishness of going with another boy whom I care nothing for now. I love this boy dearly and am sure he cares a great deal for me. I am constantly dreaming of him. Is it right for me to allow him to kiss me? I think we are too young to become engaged, so what shall I do? S. R."

It is not right for you to allow the boy to kiss you. Can't you be good friends without that? Yes, you are too young to become engaged.

Quarreled Over Trifling Matter.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young man of nearly 22. I am considered good looking and am very popular among the girls. About a year ago I began keeping company with a young lady one year my junior. About a month ago we quarreled over a trifling matter and since then she does not seem to notice me. As I love her dearly what can I do to win back her love? It seems I cannot live without her. "JOHN."

Have you tried apologizing to her? Write to her and ask her if she will allow you to see her and make a very humble apology for your share in the disagreement. Make the note brief, but very sincere. She will surely allow you to make your explanations.

Rowing as a Beautifier.

[Copyright: 1913: By Lillian Russell.]

WE have in this country a type of athletic girl whose strength will endure through years to come—the oarswoman. It is generally conceded that physical exercise, especially that which can be taken out of doors, such as rowing, is as essential to the education of girls as any part of the college curriculum. And sports have an additional value in the stimulation of enthusiasm that they provide.

The movement of the body in the action of rowing exercises every muscle. The arms become round and strong; the shoulders, throat, and lungs take on muscle and strength. The eyes become brighter and the brain clearer. The hips and limbs are strong and symmetrical, and the ankles trim and supple.

There is no exercise that seems to get to every muscle at the same time so rapidly as rowing. Girls are fortunate who live near enough to a river or pond to take up that form of exercise.

I have heard women say that they would not permit their daughters to take up rowing as an exercise, for fear that it would make them too muscular. No girl can be too muscular. The muscles of a woman never become prominent by exercise as the muscles of a man do. When a girl becomes too stout, developing the muscles strengthens them, and as they become strong they crowd out the fat, and symmetry takes the place of pugginess. Then when a girl is too thin, developing the muscles by physical exercise rounds out her body and gives her a perfect figure.

If you prefer to have your question answered by individual letter please send stamped envelope.

Nothing should stand in the way of physical development when girls and boys are growing. Putting boys at work before their bodies are developed is almost a crime. At least it is a great injustice, as great as permitting girls to sit indoors, read novels, and do fancy work before they are physically developed.

There are hundreds of ways to develop muscles and secure perfect health, and rowing is one of the best.

Remember: Exercise is absolutely necessary to perfect womanhood. Do not pass by an opportunity to beautify yourself.

Lillian Russell's Answers.

MARGUERITE: Rolling will reduce the hips. To do it to the best advantage, put on a heavy woolen union suit and spread a large rug on the floor. Stretch out upon it, lying flat on your back, with hands clasped lightly across your breast. Roll completely over three times; rest, taking a long deep breath; then roll back three times. At first you will find that this exercise will make you slightly dizzy, but as soon as you have that feeling close your eyes and rest a moment. Do this twenty-five times each way, increasing as you strengthen your flabby muscles, up to 100 times. Do not become discouraged if you are sore at first; this is an indication that the work is effective.

L. E.: I am sorry, but I cannot give you a formula for a face powder. Face powders are extremely hard to make and are usually not so good as you could buy at a drug store. A face powder must be exceedingly fine, and one cannot make them as fine as they should be at home. I do not advise the use of liquid powders or powders in the form of creams or lotions on the face. Sometimes it is necessary to use them on the neck and arms, but it never is advisable to use them on the face.

HELEN B.: I am mailing you full instructions for manicuring. To take sulphur and molasses as a blood purifier, mix two tablespoonfuls of sulphur to one of molasses. Take a tablespoonful of this mixture every morning before breakfast for three mornings, then stop a morning. Repeat for two weeks.

By Jane Eddington.

Extending the Egg.

HAVE you been startled at any time of late by finding that eggs have jumped 8 or 10 cents a dozen and by having the grocer announce that this is not the worst of it, for by the time winter is over they may be up to 75 cents a dozen? Seventy-five cents a dozen sounded like a phenomenal price when we heard it a few years since as that prevailing in the Canadian northwest.

Only a few years ago we considered it economical to use eggs in several ways, if they cost more than 25 cents a dozen, but now we know that fresh eggs, perfectly fresh, may be more economical than some other foods, even when we are paying 50 cents a dozen for them.

It is certainly high time for every buyer of eggs to look into the matter of where his eggs come from and why he has to pay what he is paying.

It is surmised that eggs are being collected in these days for the storage warehouses, and perhaps they are as high now as they will be. But why is it that a little, obscure tradesman is selling "fresh eggs" at 30 cents a dozen while high class grocers are getting anything from twice to three times that amount?

For one thing, the high class man is, nine times out of ten, getting eggs straight from a farmer or hennery, and you may have them when they are but two or three days old. The 30 cent eggs come from cold storage without a doubt.

Beware of the "selected eggs" which men who are careful to sell otherwise respectable goods will sell you at 42 cents a dozen or thereabouts. You will find it far more economical to pay 50 cents for certified eggs, for in many cases four out of the dozen will be bad and you know, in consequence, that the others are not really good.

Try boiling such eggs as these. You will not like the odor when they are opened. There is too much of that sulphur combination, called in its worst form with its worst odor H_2S.

We cannot get along without eggs for the reason that no matter what we use as a substitute it never comes up to them in food value and usually is anything from no value to only about a tenth as valuable. We do not want eggless cakes and puddings.

One good egg or two or three, when they are exceedingly high priced, will give us a good deal more food than anything else of the same bulk. Two or three boiled eggs, cut up in a cream sauce, with a little curry powder perhaps, and served on toast, will make quite a substantial dish for four people, the milk, butter and bread, as well as the egg, being valuable foods. If the whites are chopped and put into the sauce, and then the yolks finally grated over the whole we have "goldenrod eggs."

In many cases where some substitute is sued for eggs it is only for part of them and there is no economy in quantity or quality. Vinegar is sometimes thus used, but a cake made so hardly ever has the bulk, and in quality it is much below one with more eggs. Miss Farmer does not say that this is why she uses vinegar in the following recipe, but it evidently is. To judge from one trial is perhaps not fair, but this cake is not more than two-thirds as large as a five egg sponge cake with the same amount of sugar and flour, and it has a coarser quality, besides being rather gummy.

CHEAP SPONGE CAKE.—"Yolks of three eggs, one cup of sugar, one tablespoon of hot water, one cup of flour, one and a half teaspoons of baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon salt, whites of three eggs, two teaspoons of vinegar. Beat yolks until thick and lemon colored; add sugar gradually and continue beating; then add water, flour mixed and sifted with baking powder and salt, whites of eggs beaten until stiff, and vinegar. Bake thirty-five minutes in a moderate oven in a buttered and floured cake pan."

If every user of eggs would get interested there would no longer be the enormous losses to be paid for by consumers because of deterioration of eggs in transit from producer to consumer on account of crude methods. Forty-five million dollars a year represents this loss, and less than 40 per cent of our eggs are free from deterioration.

MRS. VON CLAUSSEN INSANE, SAYS COMMISSION REPORT.

Woman Who Threatened to Sue Roosevelt for $1,000,000 Will Have Chance to Contest Alienists' Findings.

New York, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Ida von Claussen, who gained notoriety several years ago by threatening suit against President Roosevelt for $1,000,000 dameges for not having her introduced at the court of the King of Sweden, today was declared to be insane in the report of a commission of alienists submitted to Judge Malone in general sessions court.

Upon the receipt of the report Judge Malone rescinded his order allowing Mrs. von Claussen's release on bail of $5,000 in a case pending against her.

BRING BACK THE MAJOR'S HAT!

Whoever Took That Brand New Gray Velour Return It to Second Deputy of Police.

Who stole Maj. Funkhouser's hat?

The second deputy superintendent of police was giving his weekly dancing party yesterday on the tenth floor of the city hall, where investigators are taught which kind of dancing is moral and which is immoral.

He left a handsome brand new gray velour hat on his desk. When the "tango" class descended the new hat was gone. In its place was an old gray hat, three sizes too small. Now the major is wearing a cap.

HAMMERSTEIN LOSES CASE; DAUGHTERS WIN ALLOWANCE.

New York State Court of Appeals Affirms Decision Involving Divorce Decree Granted Wife, Now Dead.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 18.—Oscar Hammerstein, the New York impresario, today lost a case to his daughters in the state Court of Appeals.

Several years ago Mrs. Hammerstein sued him for divorce and they entered into an agreement that he should pay her $200 a week for life and their two daughters $100 each week after her death. He assigned shares of his amusement company stock as security.

When his wife died he refused to pay his daughters and brought a replevin suit to recover the securities. Hammerstein lost in the lower court and then appealed. All the judges concurred in today's opinion.

Answer Shaw!

Bernard Shaw sums up his social satires of thirty years in one bold confession of faith in the December METROPOLITAN, out TO-MORROW. The exposition of his remedy for our economic and social evils touches life where it pulses and treats of love, marriage, money, business, religion, happiness. It will be the most talked-of magazine feature of the month. Yet we believe his logic is vulnerable; we believe some one, maybe you, can answer him.

$500 will be paid for the best answer

In addition to this cash prize we will pay 15 cents a word for every word in the best letter submitted, which is the word rate we paid Mr. Shaw for his article. These men will pick the winning letter:

LINCOLN'S SPEECH TO STIR CHILDREN OF STATE TODAY

Martyred President's Words at Gettysburg to Be Recited in Illinois Schools.

CLUBS PLAN PROGRAMS

Survivors of Events of Civil War Times to Relate Their Experiences.

BOYS AND GIRLS PRACTICE PARTS

The Lincoln Gettysburg address will be read today before schools, clubs, institutes, and settlements.

About 200,000 public school children of Chicago will recite the speech from memory and it probably will be read to about 65,000 more. F. G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction, has issued a bulletin calling on the teachers of every school in Illinois to read the address of Lincoln to their school children. There are 1,003,000 pupils in the state and 29,400 teachers.

The speech will be read at virtually all the evening schools and the social centers which are open tonight.

Says Children Practice.

"Most of the rooms will repeat the address in unison," said Mrs. Ella Flagg Young yesterday. "They have been practicing for some time. In some of the schools where there are large assembly halls the children will be called together. At the schools I have visited during the last week I have heard the children repeating the address in preparation for the Gettysburg celebration, and they have been learning patriotic hymns. It is part of the regular curriculum to learn the address."

The Eugene Field school at Ashland and Division avenues will celebrate by inviting the soldiers of the local Rogers Park post, and by a series of stereopticon slides of the battle" and reunion celebration last July. Capt. Charles Thoms of Kilpatrick's cavalry in the battle of Gettysburg will address the children. He will plant on the school grounds two weeping willow slips sent to Chicago from the battlefield.

At the Hamilton Club.

One of the interesting programs in connection with the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Soldiers' National cemetery, where Lincoln gave the address, will be at the Hamilton club. The principal address will be made by Henry R. Rathbone, whose parents were with President and Mrs. Lincoln in the box at Ford' theater when the president was assassinated. He will speak on "The Last Days of Lincoln."

Other speakers will be Clark E. Carr of Galesburg, said to be the only surviving member of the commission of eighteen in charge of the building of the Gettysburg cemetery; Addison G. Proctor of St. Joseph, Mich., said to be the last surviving delegate to the convention held in the wigwam at Lake and Market streets, Chicago, in 1860, when Lincoln was nominated for president.

Historical Society Plans.

Members of the Loyal Legion and the G. A. R. will participate with the Chicago Historical society in its celebration tonight. The address will be read by Bishop Charles Edward Cheney. Charles A. Kent, principal of the Eugene Field school, will give an illustrated talk showing views from photographs taken while Lincoln was delivering the address.

Howard Elting, president of the Association of Commerce, will open the luncheon of the association today at the Hotel La Salle by reading the Gettysburg address. Among those who will take part in the meeting will be Dr. Frank Gunsaulus, Lorado Taft, and W. M. R. French.

The English department of the Chicago Hebrew Institute will take charge of a celebration there when the speech will be read to about 800 immigrants learning English. The speech will be read and discussed at the debating club of the Henry Booth settlement. Bishop Samuel Fallows read the address to the Meade post of the G. A. R. last night.

Women to Celebrate.

The second meeting of the Woman's Good Roads association will be held today at the Congress hotel to celebrate the Gettysburg anniversary, particularly in connection with the proposal for the Lincoln memorial highway. The sessions are open and the public is invited. Mrs. John Worthy will preside at the morning session, Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout in the afternoon, and Mrs. Charles Henrotin in the evening.

CHICAGO MASTER PLUMBERS REPUDIATE "CLUBS'" WORK

Labor Organizations Are Accused of Regulating Bids on Contracts and Causing Wanton Strikes.

The Chicago Master Plumbers' association yesterday made public its refusal to indorse the various master plumbers' clubs that are accused of regulating bids on contract work. One of these clubs is now being sued for $5,000 damages by Luman J. Mandable, who asserts the defendant organization has interfered with his business because he declined to give it a rakeoff. Among other things Mandable charged the clubs with directing the picketing delegate of the journeymen plumbers to call strikes on the jobs of those who refused to "go along with the graft."

The Chicago Master Plumbers' association, through its president, Charles A. Dreier, has requested the Chicago Journeymen Plumbers' association not to call strikes against jobs on which, because the contracting plumber refuses to join the club. The letter states that the association will continue its business on legitimate lines, and will protect its members by means within its power such members as may be annoyed or disturbed through the opposition."

"WITH MALICE TOWARD NONE WITH CHARITY FOR ALL"

Abraham Lincoln

LINCOLN'S GETTYSBURG SPEECH.
NOVEMBER 19, 1863.

FOURSCORE AND SEVEN YEARS AGO OUR FATHERS BROUGHT FORTH ON THIS CONTINENT A NEW NATION, CONCEIVED IN LIBERTY, AND DEDICATED TO THE PROPOSITION THAT ALL MEN ARE CREATED EQUAL.

NOW WE ARE ENGAGED IN A GREAT CIVIL WAR, TESTING WHETHER THAT NATION, OR ANY NATION SO CONCEIVED AND SO DEDICATED, CAN LONG ENDURE. WE ARE MET ON A GREAT BATTLEFIELD OF THAT WAR. WE HAVE COME TO DEDICATE A PORTION OF THAT FIELD AS A FINAL RESTING-PLACE FOR THOSE WHO GAVE THEIR LIVES THAT THAT NATION MIGHT LIVE. IT IS ALTOGETHER FITTING AND PROPER THAT WE SHOULD DO THIS.

BUT, IN A LARGER SENSE, WE CANNOT DEDICATE—WE CANNOT CONSECRATE—WE CANNOT HALLOW—THIS GROUND. THE BRAVE MEN, LIVING AND DEAD, WHO STRUGGLED HERE, HAVE CONSECRATED IT FAR ABOVE OUR POOR POWER TO ADD OR DETRACT. THE WORLD WILL LITTLE NOTE OR LONG REMEMBER WHAT WE SAY HERE, BUT IT CAN NEVER FORGET WHAT THEY DID HERE. IT IS FOR US, THE LIVING, RATHER, TO BE DEDICATED HERE TO THE UNFINISHED WORK WHICH THEY, WHO FOUGHT HERE, HAVE THUS FAR SO NOBLY ADVANCED. IT IS RATHER FOR US TO BE HERE DEDICATED TO THE GREAT TASK REMAINING BEFORE US—THAT FROM THESE HONORED DEAD WE TAKE INCREASED DEVOTION TO THAT CAUSE FOR WHICH THEY GAVE THE LAST FULL MEASURE OF DEVOTION; THAT WE HERE HIGHLY RESOLVE THAT THESE DEAD SHALL HAVE NOT DIED IN VAIN; THAT THIS NATION, UNDER GOD, SHALL HAVE A NEW BIRTH OF FREEDOM; AND THAT GOVERNMENT OF THE PEOPLE, BY THE PEOPLE, FOR THE PEOPLE, SHALL NOT PERISH FROM THE EARTH.

TREATY WILL AID BRYAN PEACE PLAN

Agreement with Denmark Provides for Arbitration of All Questions.

SENATE MAY FIGHT IT.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The United States is about to negotiate a treaty with Denmark for the arbitration of all questions which may arise between the two countries.

Ordinarily such action would not have serious importance because the relations of the governments are not apt to come into conflict. It appears, however, that the administration intends to negotiate and secure the ratification of this treaty by the senate, and, once having established the precedent, will press similar treaties with the great powers.

In short, Secretary Bryan is prepared to go as far as to agree to the arbitration even of matters affecting the national honor and the vital interests of the American people. If this principle were in force so far as Great Britain is concerned it would compel arbitration of the Panama canal tolls question, and if in force with respect to Japan it would necessitate arbitration of the California anti-Japanese land law.

Plans Further Peace Moves.

While Mr. Bryan has been closely engaged with the Mexican question he has been able to devote some little time to the discussion with foreign representatives of his plan to avert war. This contemplates, it will be recalled, an inquiry pending which neither party to the issue shall make a warlike move. Practically all of Europe, Asia, and Latin America have accepted the Bryan proposal in principle, but the actual reduction of the negotiations to treaty form has not been attempted.

Until such treaties have been negotiated Secretary Bryan does not intend to take any action looking to the limitation of naval armaments, or the holding of a "naval holiday," as it is described in England. He is in sympathy with this program, but regards it as an effect rather than a cause. Remove the chances of war and he holds the armaments will disappear.

The treaty of general arbitration which will be signed with Denmark will be the most comprehensive ever submitted to the senate for approval.

Expects Great Opposition.

Secretary Bryan realizes he will have a fight on his hands in endeavoring to secure ratification of the proposed treaty with Denmark. It is certain to be opposed by all those senators who do not deem it wise to enter into an arrangement which other nations might desire, and which it would be difficult to deny them without offense.

Thaw, Judge Aldrich assenting, whereby an appeal may be taken finally by one side or the other, so the case may progress to the United States Supreme court.

ROGERS TO CLOSE ALLEGED HOSPITAL

Decision Comes After Being Found Guilty of Operating Without License.

JURY FINES HIM $100.

The National Emergency and Maternity hospital at 1428 Wells street may close within a week. Dr. L. D. Rogers, who is most of the hospital and staff, announced yesterday he would close the institution. The announcement came, however, after a jury had fined the hospital secretary $100 and found him guilty of operating without a license.

The institution may close, however, whether Dr. Rogers closes it or not. The health department will station a sufficient number of policemen at the place to keep persons out of it if Rogers doesn't lock the doors. In a letter to Dr. Rogers yesterday Dr. W. K. Murray, chief of the city hospital bureau, ordered the institution closed by Nov. 24. The week's respite was given to permit the removal of a maternity patient in the hospital.

Must Stay Closed.

"If Dr. Rogers doesn't close the place," Dr. Murray said, "I'll put enough policemen there to keep patients out. The place must close and stay closed. Its character is well known and it's a disgrace to a city if it should continue to operate."

The verdict of the jury was far reaching, and Assistant Corporation Counsel George Reker said the conviction of Rogers meant the end of all institutions of questionable character. In the instructions to the jury Municipal Judge Rafferty allowed the instruction, proposed by the defense, that Rogers be found not guilty if the jury believed he had been trying in good faith to obtain a license and operate a legitimate hospital.

With that instruction before them the jury voted that Rogers was guilty of operating his hospital without a license and that he never had tried in good faith to comply with the ordinances to obtain a license.

Changed Name Six Times.

Rogers has been conducting a hospital and medical school at 1428 Wells street for nearly twenty years. The corporation records show that the name of the institution has been changed half a dozen times. The institution has in recent years made a specialty of maternity cases.

The Curran investigating committee of the legislature found Rogers' institution to be the worst of all the Chicago institutions in the "farming" of babies. It took the attorney for the committee two days to find out that no records were kept at Rogers' institution.

The present suit of the city against Dr. Rogers and his National Maternity and Emergency hospital grew out of the finding of a cadaver buried in the rear of the hospital by a reporter for THE TRIBUNE on July 5. An inspection of the hospital by the reporter and investigators from the health department showed a filthy and insanitary condition within and about the hospital building.

Young Refuses License.

Dr. George B. Young, health commissioner, refused to issue a license to Dr. Rogers after he learned of the conditions there. Immediately the city brought a quasi-criminal suit against Rogers for operating without the required license. Assistant Corporation Counsel Reker condemned Rogers' place as "disgustingly insanitary." Photographs of the buildings and surroundings were shown to the jury.

"The verdict is a final blow not only to that particular institution," Mr. Reker said, "but to all other such institutions that run without the semblance of decency."

In connection with his hospital, Dr. Rogers operates an alleged medical college, called the National Medical university. It was from that institution that Sigmund Hirschfield, whose practicing was followed by a man's death, was graduated. The school is not licensed by the state board of health, and its graduates are not permitted to take the examination for a state license.

ARMOUR FAILS TO MEET WILSON

Chicago Packer Discovers Special Trip to Washington Was in Vain.

NO REASON IS GIVEN.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—President Wilson declined today to receive J. Ogden Armour, the Chicago packer, who made a flying visit to Washington for the special purpose of conferring with the executive. After failing in his mission, Mr. Armour returned to Chicago on an afternoon train.

When Mr. Armour departed for Chicago, he left on the scene Attorney Ralph Crews, who will seek an interview tomorrow with Secretary of State Bryan. Whether the secretary will follow the example of the president in declining to receive a representative of "big business" remains to be seen.

Incident Causes Comment.

The failure of Mr. Armour to obtain an audience with the chief magistrate of the republic occasioned much comment here, particularly because of the atmosphere of mystery and secrecy with which the incident was clothed. All the participants in the affair professed ignorance of details explanatory.

It appears that Mr. Armour is not the first trust magnate whom the president has refused to receive. Within the last fortnight several Wall street men, recognized as the powers behind the alleged money trust, have asked for conferences with Mr. Wilson and have met with flat refusals from the White House.

Fails to Leave His Card.

Before leaving Mr. Armour said he had intended calling on the president merely to pay his respects, but he did not leave his card at the White House as is customary when the president is unable to receive callers personally. He did not visit the executive office.

Mr. Armour denied the report he wished to see the president in connection with the investigation of the packers' alleged control of the Argentine meat exportation, which is being conducted by the department of justice. Mr. Armour was credited with a desire to deny personally to the president the authenticity of a recent interview in which the packer was quoted as saying that the government "could go to blazes" in connection with this investigation.

URGE WHEELER FOR MAYOR.

Members of Harmony League Want President of U. S. Chamber of Commerce to Run.

At a Harmony league dinner last evening at the Hotel Morrison, resolutions were passed recommending Harry A. Wheeler, president of the chamber of commerce of the United States of America, for mayor of Chicago in 1915. The resolution stated:

"The accomplishments of Harry A. Wheeler in practical, civic and industrial reforms show him to be the type of man necessary to the cause of good government in Chicago at this time, when the charter convention, public utilities, subway and unification of transportation facilities and other measures are pressing for solution."

A committee, consisting of Thomas L. Stitt, Lin William Price and Harry Swan was appointed to urge upon Mr. Wheeler the serious consideration of such a candidacy.

County Judge John E. Owens, who faces two-sided factional opposition in the Democratic party if he seeks reelection for his present position, is reported to have decided to run for Probate court judge next year. The determination of Congressman A. J. Sabath, chairman of the Hearst-Harrison managing committee, to support his brother, Municipal Judge Joseph Sabath, for the County bench, is said to have moved Judge Owens to look to other fields.

Watchman at Antwerp Diamond Cutting Establishment Tells Story of Two Robbers.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

ANTWERP, Nov. 18.—Diamonds valued at $60,000 were stolen this morning from the cutting establishment of Klippners. A watchman was arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the theft. He said two men entered the building while he was asleep and bound and gagged him.

DARLING'S CASE UP TO GRAND JURY

Held on $2,000 Bail for Selling Fake Dental Questions to "Tribune" Reporter.

DR. DIAMOND A WITNESS.

Joseph C. Darling of Oak Park was held to the grand jury yesterday under $2,000 bonds by Municipal Judge Kearns. Darling made a long explanation of his reasons for selling to a reporter for THE TRIBUNE for $50 a list of examination questions purporting to be those to be asked at the recent state dental examination.

Darling admitted the reporter's version of the conversation which led up to the passing of the $50 was "almost identical" with what he remembered, but he said he had accepted the money as "evidence against a crooked dentist."

Dr. Peter T. Diamond of Evanston, a member of the state board of dental examiners, was called as a witness for the defense.

"Tribune" Men Questioned.

Darling went on the stand after Assistant State's Attorney John K. Murphy had questioned W. T. Stott, assistant city editor, and John L. Lawson and R. F. Webster, reporters for THE TRIBUNE. Mr. Murphy also put Dr. Diamond on the stand for a moment, merely to establish the fact he was a state official and the law relating to bribery would apply. He was recalled later by the defense.

The defendant said during the week previous to the sale of the questions he had seen Dr. Diamond three or four times.

"I discussed with Mr. Diamond a possible position as investigator on the state board," declared Darling. "Dr. Diamond intimated there was something irregular about the last board. He said if I could find out any facts about it it might go a long way toward getting me the position.

How He Explains Bribery.

"I thought I might get something and I began looking up some of the young men. I approached the other fellows with the same proposition. McKay of the Chicago dental college gave me the names. I was offering them something that might be of interest to them—thinking I might get their confidence so they would tell me if there were any irregularities at the last examination."

Judge Kearns exhibited some curiosity about his method of "gaining confidence."

"I understand," said the judge, "that Dr. Diamond told you if you would work up evidence against the former board you might get a position, and that he wanted you to see if there were any doctors practicing without licenses. Did you approach any of the men who previously had taken the examination?"

"No, I did not," said Darling.

"Then you went to five or six men who had been graduated, but who had not taken the examination?"

Admits Sale to Reporter.

"Yes."

"You told the reporter," asked the judge, "that you would give him the questions?"

"Yes, I did."

"Did you tell him they would be of interest to him in the examination?"

"I told him they would be worth $50 to him."

"After you had taken the money did you give him the questions?"

"No, I didn't intend to."

Darling explained he was trying to get evidence on the supposed dentist, and that he intended to take him to Dr. Diamond and "show him up."

"I think," said the judge, "his conduct approaches the crime of obtaining money under false pretenses. I think there is reason that he be held over to the grand jury. The bonds are $2,000."

CHICAGO DOCTORS O. K. QUACKS WAR

Medical Society at Meeting Indorses Campaign to Clear City of Fakers.

OFFERS HELP IN FIGHT.

False Charge Made That "The Tribune" Prints Ads for Lydia Pinkham.

The Chicago Medical society, at a meeting held last night, adopted a resolution indorsing the war upon quacks that has been conducted by THE TRIBUNE.

The services of the society were offered in the fight for the protection of the layman against the charlatans.

The resolution was introduced by Dr. Willis O. Nance, a member of the city council from the Sixth ward, and was indorsed by all except two of the delegates at the meeting of the central body of the society. The action was taken at a dinner at the Hotel Sherman.

The resolution follows:

Resolved, That the Chicago Medical society hereby indorses the crusade against irregular medical practitioners in Chicago and the state of Illinois being carried on by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and hereby tenders the service of the society in this praiseworthy campaign.

False Charge Is Made.

In the course of the discussion over this resolution Dr. William M. Thompson of 512 Wrightwood avenue, one of the delegates, opposed the action, saying THE TRIBUNE, in its issue last Sunday, which contained one of the series of attacks on quack doctors, "published also a quarter page advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's 'remedies.'"

On behalf of THE TRIBUNE, it may be said that Dr. Thompson's charge is unqualifiedly false. THE TRIBUNE for years has not printed any of the advertising of Lydia E. Pinkham.

Dr. George F. Suker was another speaker at the meeting. He objected to Dr. Nance's resolution in that it gave credit to THE TRIBUNE. He said THE TRIBUNE "must have some ax to grind, now that it is taking up the fight," and he intimated this newspaper was carrying medical advertising that was objectionable.

Dr. Suker was asked afterward to specify what advertising he referred to, and he promised to try to do so later.

Dr. Nance Praises Campaign.

Dr. Nance, in urging his resolution at the meeting, said:

"The Chicago Dental society and state societies have indorsed this worthy movement. A newspaper that has the courage to make a campaign for the people against quacks which prey on the unprotected citizens deserves the support of this society. Certainly such support should be encouraged by the reputable physicians of Chicago."

Dr. James Stubbs urged that the resolution should be adopted and the campaign given the support of the Chicago Medical society for the good that it has done the laymen.

"The quacks of Chicago," Dr. Stubbs said, "have injured for life untold numbers of the laymen of this city and state. THE TRIBUNE should be commended for the good it has done the laymen by telling them of the evil practices of the quacks and informing the people where they may obtain honest medical service."

Dr. Vanderslice Has an Amendment.

"This campaign has done a great deal of good for the medical profession, and the resolution should pass," said Dr. G. W. Vanderslice. "It will eliminate quackery for a time, but I suppose it will come back again. However, I want to submit an amendment that the society condemns the printing of quack medicine advertisements in THE TRIBUNE."

Dr. Vanderslice is hereby invited to point out specifically the "quack advertisements" to which he refers.

MASSMEETING AT JOLIET.

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Praise for THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S campaign against the quack doctors and vigorous denunciation of the newspapers and other publications which continue to accept advertising from charlatans was given at a public meeting in the Universalist church here tonight. The principal address was made by R. R. Shuman of the Shuman-Booth company, Chicago, of the national vigilance committee of the Associated Ad clubs of America at a meeting under auspices of the Joliet Ad club.

In another hall the Joliet Medical society was adding its commendation for THE TRIBUNE'S fight.

"THE TRIBUNE has undertaken one of the biggest and most difficult reform movements of the age," said Mr. Shuman. "The success already evidenced as a result of the campaign is one of the biggest encouragements which any reform has had. These quacks should be eliminated and their advertising is one of the first things to eliminate.

"I hold that a publisher has no more right to introduce thieves and lewd characters to my wife and daughter through the columns of his paper than he would have to introduce them in person, knowing their character.

"THE TRIBUNE should be backed up by every publication in the state."

KANE COUNTY M. D.'S ACT.

Elgin, Ill., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The Kane County Medical society in annual session today adopted a resolution commending THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE for its stand against quackery.

NEW COLLEGE OF SURGEONS STIRS UP MEDICAL SOCIETY.

Dr. Koleschire Contends Action in Publishing Names of Chosen 104 Unfair to Other Surgeons.

The American College of Surgeons was attacked at a meeting of the council of the Chicago Medical society at the Hotel Sherman last night. Dr. Gustav Koleschire contended the action of the college in publishing the names of the 104 members was unjust to the other surgeons of Chicago, because the intimation was given that they were not qualified.

Dr. G. W. Vanderslice said the action of the College of Surgeons was equivalent to branding the other surgeons who did not happen to belong to the college as "legalized murderers."

The relations of the College of Surgeons to the medical society will be investigated by a committee from the society.

SEERS' COUNSEL CHARGES HOYNE VIOLATED OATH

Benedict Short Tells Jury the State's Attorney Has Broken Word and the Law.

WAS OUT TO 'GET' M'WEENY?

Declares Defendants Were Offered Immunity to Trap Chief and Halpin.

TOUCHES ON H-H-H COMBINATION

State's Attorney Maclay Hoyne yesterday was called a violator of his word, a violator of the law, and a lawyer whose actions were unprofessional and undignified in the eyes of the bar.

The denunciation of Hoyne came in Attorney Short's address to the jury in Judge Walker's court in the cases of James Ryan, clairvoyant, and Barney Bertsche, who are on trial on charges of operating a confidence game, conspiracy, and larceny.

"Mr. Hoyne violated his word when he allowed his secretary, Ed Flemming, to tell me he would produce my client without being forced by a writ of habeas corpus," said Attorney Short. "He did not produce Ryan as he promised and his appearance had to be secured on a writ.

Charges Violation of Law.

"Mr. Hoyne violated the law when he took the prisoner, Ryan, away from the officer who was bringing him back on a governor's warrant from Montana, and was duty bound to turn him over to the sheriff. The statutes hold that a person guilty of interfering with that representative of the governor in such cases may be fined $500 or given a year's imprisonment.

"Mr. Hoyne disrespected his oath when he made that violation of the laws which he had sworn to uphold.

"Mr. Hoyne was guilty of actions unprofessional and undignified when he tried to persuade Ryan to sign a paper to the effect that he did not want the services of the attorney who had been employed by his friends to defend him.

"Yet with this action to his credit, Mr. Hoyne can attend the banquet of the Chicago Bar association and discourse on the 'Courtesy of the Bar.' Does this trial comply with the flaming lithographs which we read on the billboards during the last campaign—the lithographs that quoted Mr. Hoyne as 'If I am elected state's attorney, the laws will be enforced fairly'?

Might Have Had Immunity.

"Gentlemen of the jury, it was within the option of these defendants whether they should be tried before you. They could be walking the streets free right now or stopping at the county's expense at one of the motels picked out by Mr. Hoyne if they had consented to do one thing the state's attorney of Cook county wanted these men to do.

"The Hearst-Harrison-Hoyne combination wanted to 'get' McWeeny, the chief of police, and they wanted to 'get' Capt. Halpin, head of the detective bureau. I don't know why they wanted to 'get' them unless it was that McWeeny had neglected to bow down to Mr. Harrison in the city hall some day.

Says Police Do Hoyne's Bidding.

"Hoyne is not a policeman. He is a lawyer. He is an officer of this court, but so am I. He has taken the same oath I have. But through the political prestige of his office he can make the police do his bidding.

"Why did he kidnap that returning prisoner from the governor's messenger and take him around over three states, so that his friends could not bring him into court on a writ of habeas corpus? Mr. Hoyne said he was afraid of the press. If Mr. Hoyne is right, what has he got to fear of the press. I am not afraid of the press. I feel that I am doing my duty. He said he wanted to get Ryan away from the press.

"He wanted to influence Ryan to testify against Bertsche, so he could influence Bertsche to testify against McWeeny and Halpin. Is that justice—is that befitting the great office of the state's attorney of Cook county? We—you and I—are paying Hoyne's salary. That office down there is our office and not his office. He is working for us."

Attorney Short expects to close his arguments this morning, after which Assistant State's Attorney John Fleming will make the state's closing address to the jury, and Judge Walker will give his instructions.

MASONS WILL GATHER HERE.

Supreme Council, Scottish Rite, Selects Chicago as Meeting Place for Next September.

At the reunion of Illinois consistory, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite Masons, held at the La Salle hotel yesterday, it was decided to hold the next annual meeting of the supreme council in Chicago next September. Illustrious Grand Commander Barton Smith conferred with Amos Pettibone (thirty-third degree) and Leroy A. Goddard (thirty-third degree), active members of the council, who will make arrangements for the gathering, which is to be held at the Scottish Rite cathedral.

Even the Most Successful Must Guard Against Overplaying the Game

MAROONS AFTER SEAT SCALPERS

Investigate Report That Students Sold Tickets for Football Game.

PRICES TAKE ASCENSION.

Stagg Works Squad at Top Speed to Keep Men on Edge for Clash with Badgers.

BY MAROON.

Authorities at the University of Chicago today will begin an investigation of reports to the effect that students in the Midway university and at Northwestern university were responsible for more than 1,000 tickets to the Chicago-Wisconsin game getting into the hands of scalpers.

Despite the fact that the athletic department of the niversity of Chicago has rigid regulations intended to prevent scalpers from operating at Stagg field, it was learned last night that loop brokers have large blocks of $2 reserved seats which they are offering for $5.

At noon yesterday the ticket office in Bartlett gymnasium had been entirely depleted of seats, and practically all the standing room available on the field had been purchased.

The big demand for tickets has not been equaled in many years. Efforts were made to protect the alumni by reserving seats, but the failure of the old grads to respond quickly enough will force them either to pay double and triple prices to scalpers or forego seeing the final game.

Many Tickets Sold in Blocks.

A report which gained circulation during the day was to the effect that Northwestern students had been employed by the scalpers to evade the university regulations. D. S. Merriam, who has charge of the sale of seats, said Northwestern students producing credentials and stating they were buying for fraternities and other student groups had been sold blocks of reserved seat tickets of thirty and forty in a block. He added that an investigation would be made immediately which will show the truth or falsity of the report.

Several Chicago students obtained small blocks of from five to fifteen tickets and are offering them at scalpers' prices. Several students in the Reynolds club last night were offering seats which they declared they had purchased for themselves at $2 and $3 more than the regular price.

Police Powerless to Act.

"I learned today that students had procured large blocks of seats for scalpers," said Mr. Merriam at night, "and I know of five downtown hotels where seats to the game can be secured. I called up the police department to learn what I could do about it, but discovered that nothing could be done unless the scalpers operate on the campus. We did everything we possibly could to keep the tickets out of the hands of scalpers.

"When a student comes into the ticket office and asks for a large number of seats for himself and friends, the only thing we can do is sell them if the man produces his credentials as a student. It seems unfortunate that university students should take advantage of the privilege, but they have done it."

Although the university rules do not cover such offenses on the part of students, it is probable if the students are apprehended they will be disciplined by the faculty.

Stagg Works for Speed.

Director Stagg is taking every precaution to keep his high speed team from suffering from a reaction before the Badger contest. Scrimmage has been declared permanently off the program for the regulars. The practice sessions are short and snappy, and after the sessions the squad members are sent to the gymnasium basement for physical examinations and treatments. Trainer Johnson is working overtime keeping the Maroons in trim for the last game.

As a prelude to yesterday's session, the second string men suffered a 15 to 0 defeat at the hands of the freshman on Stagg field. Coaches Page and Sauer had drilled the yearlings in Wisconsin plays for several days, and the youngsters had them well assimilated. When the second string men were pitted against the freshmen the Badger open style of attack baffled them, and Carolan and Lee bowled over the chalk line for one touchdown each. Carolan also drop-kicked a difficult goal.

Scrimmage Disappoints Coach.

The scrimmage was a disappointing one for Director Stagg. In the second string back field were Moulton, Coutchs, Kennedy and Boyd, who are considered the eligibles for the lineup in case of injuries to the regulars. Whiting, who would operate at center if Des Jardien were taken out, also was in the lineup. The rest of the line consisted of McConnell and Radmon, guards; Leach and Williams, tackles, and Sparks and McConnell, ends.

Carolan gained through the varsity line almost at will. Yee at full back played the open formations used by Juneau and skirted the ends and passed the varsity back field men for long gains and a final touchdown. Agar at left half also worked through the Maroon line for substantial gains.

Juneau's formations will be drilled into the heads of the Maroons every day until Saturday, and Director Stagg hopes by the process to have his men fully prepared for the Badgers.

The director will be the guest of honor tonight at the annual football dinner of the Chicago Alumni association banquet at the Grand Pacific hotel. The agitation in favor of the renaming of the new athletic field at the university as Stagg field is slated to be opened during the meeting. The team, Coaches Sauer, Page, and Canning, and the veteran director will sit at a special table. Veterans of the old Maroon team will relate historic battles impromptu.

BADGERS ARE GIVEN HARD SCRIMMAGE IN HEAVY RAIN.

Juneau Drives Men in Session with Reserves and Team Work Shows Big Improvement.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Undaunted by a driving rain, Coach Juneau this afternoon drove his players over muddy Camp Randall in a session that did not terminate until long after dark. One ghost ball after another was shot into play to keep things moving with some tone of positiveness. The reserves went up against the regulars in scrimmage and again the Badgers displayed splendid form.

No shifts were made by Juneau. "Germany" Schultz drove the line throughout, and close followers of the situation already declare that result of his effort is manifest.

For the first time since the Minnesota game Capt. Al Tandberg took part in real work.

Tonight Juneau has called the squad members together for a chalk talk. It is expected that tomorrow will witness the final real work in preparation for Saturday's contest. Juneau has turned a deaf ear, as far as can be learned tonight, to the call of supporters of the team for another look. The freshmen probably will furnish the opposition for the varsity tomorrow.

JOY AND SORROW FOR HAWLEY.

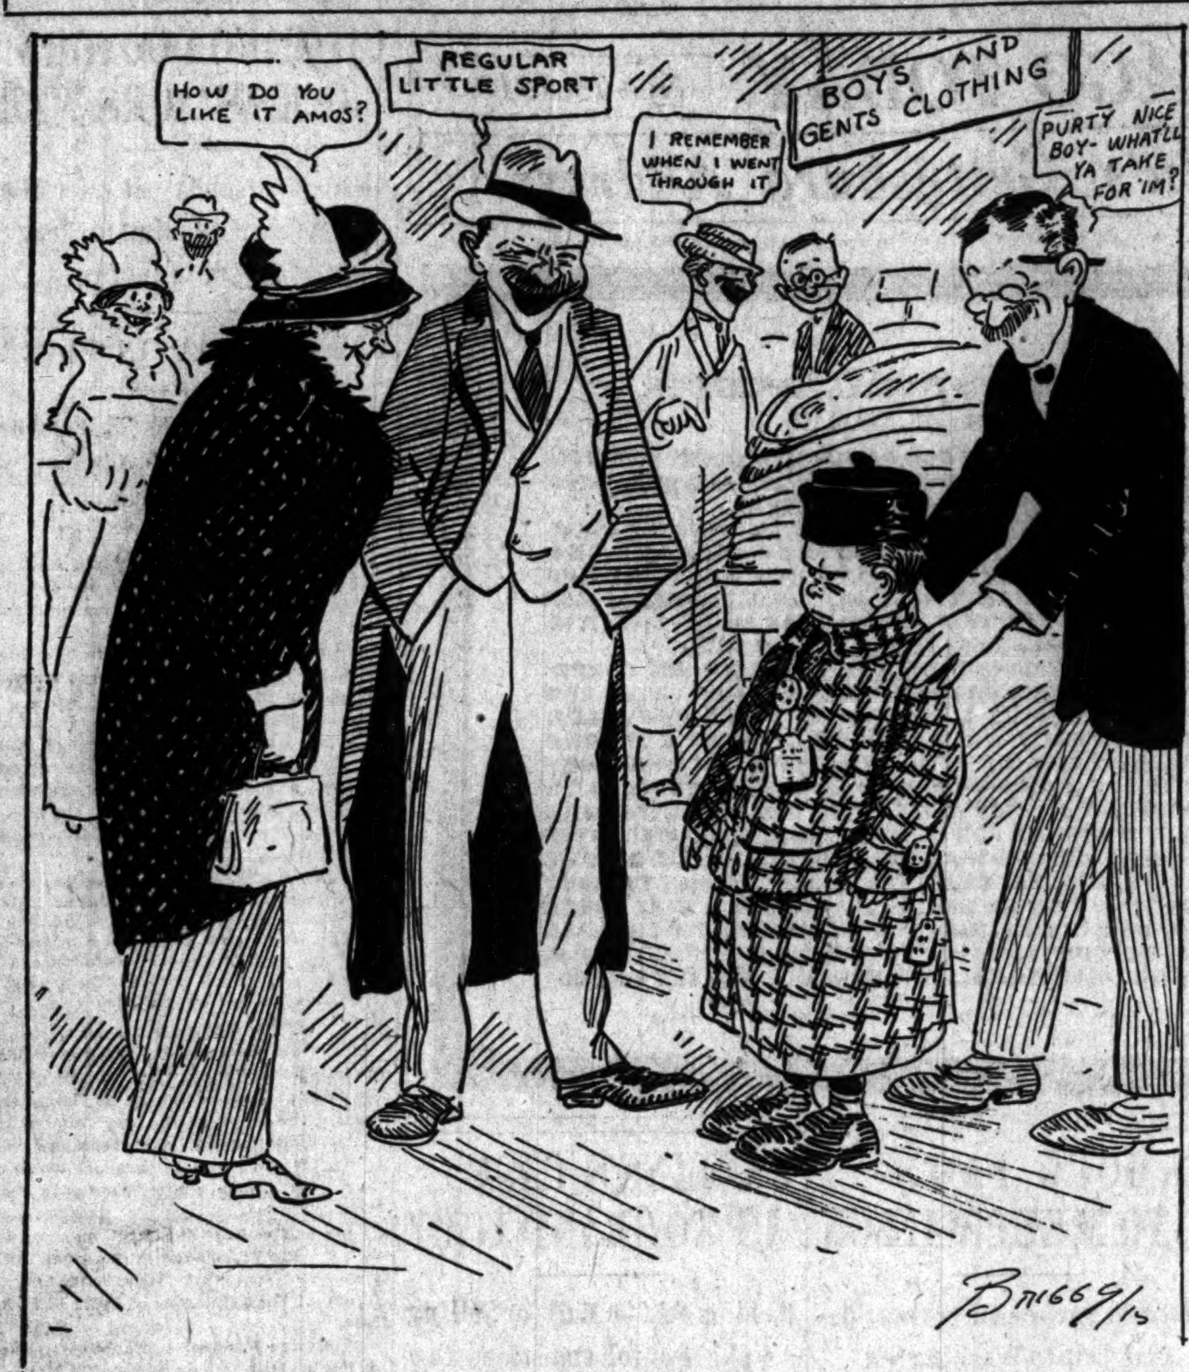

Iowa Coach Pleased at Showing of Team and Pained at Loss of Watch, Chain, and Emblem.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Coach Hawley of the Iowa football team is harboring a double feeling these days. The showing of his eleven since the Chicago game has caused the Hawkeye coach much joy, but the loss of a gold watch and chain with a Dartmouth emblem, now in the possession of a sneak thief, is giving Hawley much pain. He has offered a reward for the return of the stolen articles. The squad was given light practice tonight on a muddy field. Hawley proposes to keep the men in good condition for the Nebraska game on Saturday. Parsons is the only man on the hospital list. Iowa is picked to win.

Piper Wins Skat Tourney.

Charles Piper last night won the monthly skat tournament at the Germania club, Clark street and Germania place, with nineteen games and 609 points to his credit. Other prize winners were H. A. Eschenburg, A. E. Hageman, C. Hunkle, E. Schmid, A. G. Sullivan, and E. Ehman. Nearly 100 contestants took part.

OAK PARK TO PLAY AT TOLEDO

Suburban Champions Will Meet Scott High on Saturday.

OHIO ELEVEN LOOKS STRONG

Has Beaten Leading Teams of Buckeye State and Michigan.

BY PREP.

Oak Park, champion of the Chicago-Suburban High school conference football league, will battle Scott High of Toledo on Saturday in the Ohio city. This contest, which should determine the comparative strength of Ohio and Illinois teams, probably will be the feature clash of central western "prep" football this year.

Oak Park held off as long as it possibly could in the hopes of arranging a game with either Hyde Park or Wendell Phillips, finalists for the Chicago league title. During the afternoon the Toledo manager called up Manager Joe Irish of Oak Park over the long distance telephone, requesting that the game be closed at once, but was told to wait until evening, as word was expected from one of the Chicago teams in regard to a game.

When the Chicago leaguers notified Oak Park that neither would be able to play the suburbanites this Saturday, Oak Park closed the game with Toledo by wire. According to the financial arrangements, Oak Park will receive a guarantee of expenses with an option of 50 per cent of the gate receipts. The champions probably will leave on Friday afternoon in order to secure a night's rest before going into the contest.

Scott High holds an enviable record, having beaten every opponent it has met this season. Among some of the defeated teams are Detroit Central, which is regarded as the champion team of Michigan, and Cleveland High, picked by many as one of the best teams in Ohio. Other games have resulted in victories for the Toledo eleven by wide margins.

Wendell Phillips and Hyde Park, finalists for the Chicago high school major football league championship, will settle their little argument as to the better team by playing at Castle park, Forty-seventh street and California avenue, or the American Giants' baseball grounds. The contest will be decided on Saturday morning, as the lightweight championship is carded for the afternoon.

Hyde Park and University High may advance their annual schedule clash from Nov. 29 to Nov. 26, the day before Thanksgiving day. The University High "preps" refuse to forego their turkey to wait for a game on the following Saturday.

SOUVENIRS FOR M. A. C. SQUAD

Miniature Footballs of Gold to Be Presented Gridiron Players Who Earned Monograms This Season.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—A little gold football will be given every member of the Michigan Agricultural college gridiron team who made his monogram this season. Silver footballs will be given three of the men who failed to earn monograms, but whose work for the team entitled them to special recognition. This announcement was made tonight by Coach Macklin while he was attending the luncheon given by the Detroit M. A. C. Alumni association.

LIGHT DRILL FOR YALE SQUAD.

Coaches Guard Against Physical Slump After Hard Battle with Princeton—New Plays Practiced.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 18.—The Yale football team had its first practice since the Princeton game on Yale field today and the work was of the lightest character. The players were nearly exhausted after the Tiger game and coaches are guarding against a physical slump. Quarter Back Wilson and a few others were sent to the infirmary tonight for rest. The squad practiced new formations in secret. Later the gates were thrown open and the undergraduates saw the team run through signals for half an hour. The players will leave for Auburndale, Mass., on Thursday. A signal drill will be held in the Harvard stadium on Friday.

HARD PRACTICE FOR HARVARD.

Former Crimson Gridiron Stars Fail to Stop Rushes of Varsity in Scrimmage Drill.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 18.—The Harvard varsity eleven went through a hard practice session today. The coaches have abandoned previous plans to give the team only light work prior to the game with Yale on Saturday. For an hour the players were drilled in repeated assaults on a bulky line composed largely of coaches famous for their play in other days. This line, in which were Lothrop Withington, Paul Withington, Crawford Blagden, Leo Leary, and "Ham" Cordett, failed to stop the rushes of the varsity. Bradlee was still out of the lineup this afternoon with a muscle injury and Gilman was excused to rest.

In the Football Camps.

AT MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Capt. Aldsworth of the Minnesota eleven donned his gridiron togs today for the first time in a week. Rosenthal is back in the lineup and Mattern has recovered from his injury. The coach spent considerable time drilling his men in returning punts, forming interference, and in tackling, to remove some of the weaknesses that cropped out in the Chicago game.

AT ILLINOIS.

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Coach Zuppke's reconstructed Illini, fired by their showing against Purdue, worked hard today trying to get into shape to meet Minnesota. "Go for the Gophers" has succeeded "Hammer the Boilermakers" as the campus slogan. Coach Jones' report on Minnesota's strength was anything but reassuring. Coach Zuppke is nursing several players who are on the ragged edge of going stale, but hopes to be able to put his best team in the field with the exception of Pogue.

AT INDIANA.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Coach Sheldon is not taking any chances of having any more of his men injured, and is drilling them on signal work this week. With Capt. Davis back in the lineup the spirit of the rest of the team is showing a decided improvement and fans and team alike are now expecting a close game with the Boilermakers on Saturday.

AT PURDUE.

AVIATOR BEACHY PERFORMS "LOOP THE LOOP" ON COAST

Yankee Imitates Feat of Pegoud, Flying with Head Downward—Exhibition Surpasses That of Frenchman.

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Lincoln Beachy, the aviator, today succeeded in performing the aerial trick which made the Frenchman, Pegoud, famous, when he did the loop the loop in the air. Beachy went even further. He performed evolutions which far outdid those of the Frenchman in their sensational character.

Ascending to an elevation of 3,500 feet at North Island, Beachy turned the head of his machine downward. At the 1,000 foot level he gave his front elevators a lift which brought the machine up with a swoop, and a moment later the aviator was flying with his head downward. The loop was completed at a 300 foot level, but instead of continuing on an even keel Beachy went into the vertical again, and while in that position turned the aeroplane around twice on its own axis.

When Beachy landed he was asked how he did it and just what he did. Beachy could answer neither questions. It was all an experiment, he said.

Two Aerial Loop in Machine.

BUC, France, Nov. 18.—Maurice Chevillard, a French aviator, established a new record today for turning somersaults in the air by carrying a passenger in his machine. He accomplished an aerial loop twice in brilliant fashion, going through the performance apparently with as much ease as if he were alone.

ROBINSON TO LEAD BROOKLYN

Former Giants' Coach Will Succeed William Dahlen.

TAKES IMMEDIATE CHARGE.

Ebbets Hands Out Praise to Ex-Manager for His Past Work.

New York, Nov. 18.—President Charles Ebbets of the Brooklyn National league club announced today that the Dodgers' new manager to succeed William Dahlen would be Wilbert Robinson, until recently a member of the New York Giants. Robinson signed a Brooklyn contract this morning after a talk with Ebbets and will take immediate charge of the playing end of the club.

Robinson earned the reputation of being one of the best catchers of his day as a member of the famous Baltimore Orioles during the years when McGraw was playing third base for that organization. He followed McGraw to the New York club and for some years has been the latter's first assistant on the coaching lines as well as a developer of the recruit pitchers. Robinson recently was given his unconditional release by the New York club.

Dahlen, who was released yesterday, does not retire without praise from President Charles H. Ebbets. Ebbets said that in handling an unconditional release to Dahlen he had performed the most unpleasant duty of his career in baseball, for he had shown wonderful judgment in handling the Brooklyn men.

"He leaves a team," says Ebbets, "which, with the addition of two or three first class men, will be a championship contender in 1914. But in building up the Brooklyn team Dahlen has been unfortunate in finishing in a low position each year. That is the sole reason for his release."

Dahlen became a major league player in 1890 when he played shortstop for Anson's Chicagos. Subsequently he covered this position for the champion Brooklyns of 1899 under Ned Hanlon, and he played with the Giants when they won the world championship from the Athletics. When he retired as a player in 1909 he took charge of the Brooklyn Nationals, since when Brooklyn never has finished in the first division.

CHECK ON RHODES SCHOLARS.

Freshmen and Students Over 24 Years of Age Barred from Athletic Competition.

OXFORD, England, Nov. 18.—A meeting of the Oxford athletic committee was held today to consider the question of Rhodes scholars competing in the freshmen's sports. Two resolutions were adopted. First, that residence at any other time in any other university or similar institution shall disqualify a student from competing in the freshmen sports, and, second, that in the Oxford university athletic club's sports, as distinct from the college sports, no competitor shall be allowed who is over 24 years of age. The resolutions will go into effect next October. They are undoubtedly the outcome of the recent success of the Rhodes scholars in the freshmen's sports, held last October.

It is pointed out that the new rules will in practice extend to the Queen's club sports between Oxford and Cambridge, because the winning competitors in the Oxford university sports are chosen to represent Oxford against Cambridge. The average age of the Rhodes men when they arrive at Oxford is 22 years, and therefore they will be eligible during the first two years of their residence.

SOX BLANK GIANTS AT PORTLAND, 2-0

Callahans Even Series by Bunching Hits Off Fromme in Fifth Round.

SCOTT SCATTERS SWATS.

Umpire Klem Chases Weaver After Dispute in Third; Four Double Plays Feature.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	Won.	Lost.	Tied.	Pct.
White Sox	15	15	1	.500
Giants	15	15	1	.500

Portland, Ore., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Chicago's White Sox made it 15 all today in their games with the New York Giants, winning in the fifth inning by bunching hits on Pitcher Fromme. The score was 2 to 0.

McGraw's squad tapped Scott for seven hits, but the swats were scattered and only once did the Giants threaten. Scott tightened in the pinch and pitched steady ball at all times. Chicago repeatedly drove the ball to Jim Thorpe in right field, but only once did the Indian miss a chance. That was in the fifth, when Speaker dropped a fly which escaped Thorpe when the Indian slipped. Speaker was credited with a hit on what would have been an out on a dry field. Thorpe later redeemed himself by cutting off what looked like a sure double by a good throw to second after trapping a hard drive which bounded off the fence.

Wet Field Handicaps Runners.

Although the field had been covered with canvas for three days the ground was wet and treacherous. This resulted in two outs which might have been stolen bases or runs. In the seventh Schaefer tried to go home on Schalk's hot grounder past third base. Doolan fielded the ball and threw to Wingo. Schaefer was well back toward third before the sphere hit Wingo's glove. Then the runner hit a muddy place in the field, slid clear out of the line, and was called out.

Buck Weaver's verbal feud with Umpire Klem cropped out again today, and Weaver was sent to the clubhouse in the third inning. Klem objected to the player's remarks from the bench.

Merkle and Crawford each got three hits in four times at bat. Four snappy double plays featured.

The only runs of the game were made when Egan hit a hard grounder to right field in the fifth. Rath walked and Speaker singled. Crawford drove home two runs with a hard smash against the center field fence.

Game Draws 6,000 Fans.

Six thousand fans paid admission to the game. Today was Apple day in Oregon and boxes of fruit were tossed to the players from the grandstand and bleachers.

Al Kilgore, who yesterday walked fourteen miles through a drenching rainstorm, fording two swollen streams, to see Christy Mathewson pitch, accompanied the team to Portland. White Sox players contributed to the fund for Kilgore's railroad fare between Portland and Medford and Comiskey gave the old man a ticket to the game. Kilgore is a pioneer of Oregon and lives in an isolated country fourteen miles from Medford. He had not heard that Mathewson left the tourists in California. Kilgore is past 70 years old.

The women in the tourists' party were entertained with automobile rides about the city and a theater party tonight. Mrs. Fielder Jones, wife of the former Chicago manager, and Mrs. Walter McCredie, wife of the Pacific Coast league manager, were hostesses.

Tourists Guests at Banquet.

Following the game the players and others accompanying the party attended a banquet as guests of Portland baseball enthusiasts. The affair was informal and 200 attended. Score:

ON TUESDAY.

Among those working here there be
Some clever guys, but Lord,
There's none makes such a hit with me
As dear old Mister Ward.

Once upon a time there was a baseball manager named Bill Dahlen. The baseball writers released him 150 times every year for three years. Bill's boss frequently read of Bill's release, but didn't believe it. Finally, one morning, while perusing the ancient story, the boss thought to himself: "Surely there must be something to this or they wouldn't print it so often. It must be true. He must be released." So he was.

Several experts were thinking of honoring Pogue with a place on the second all-conference team until they learned that his first name was Harold.

Mr. Ebbets would be perfectly willing to give Fielder Jones a chance if the latter would go back to Brooklyn for the salary he was getting when he left there.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 18.—Some of the members of the Yale football squad were put to the trouble of attending their classes today.

WILLARD LOSES MORRIS BOUT; GEORGE RODEL SUBSTITUTED.

Boer Picked for Contest at Gotham on Dec. 2 After Cowboy's Weak Showing at Milwaukee.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

The failure of Jess Willard, the Kansas heavyweight, to defeat George Rodel, the South African, at Milwaukee Monday night not only lost for him a lot of prestige, but it cost him a match with Carl Morris.

Jimmy Johnson, manager of the Boer fighter, yesterday received a communication from New York promoters informing him that Rodel had been substituted for Willard to meet Morris in Madison Square garden on Dec. 2. There was considerable opposition to the Willard-Morris fight in the eastern metropolis and the promoters undoubtedly jumped at Willard's poor showing as an excuse for the substitution of Rodel.

Local fight fans who saw the bout in the Cream city were severe in their criticism of the cowboy. Some believed the death of "Bull" Young recently as a result of one of Willard's punches had something to do with the big fellow's showing, but the general impression was that Jess is far from a championship possibility.

Jack White has gone back to his old manager, Fred Gilmore, and the pair have buried the hatchet. Gilmore is seeking matches with Matty McCue and Cal Delaney or any of the other 128 pounders for White.

Nate Lewis, manager of Charley White, who knocked out "Kid" Kansas in the fifth round of a scheduled twelve session contest at Canton, O., last Monday, returned to Chicago yesterday. Lewis says Charley had all the better of the mill, but considers Kansas a tough fighter. White will return to Chicago today and will leave tomorrow for New Orleans, where he is scheduled to box ten rounds with Johnny Dundee on Thanksgiving.

Efforts are being made to match Jimmy Murphy, the local Italian lightweight, with Matty McCue, the bout to be staged at Racine on Dec. 10. Murphy's manager is willing to allow his fighter to make 130 pounds for the Racine battler, and the match may be closed within a few days.

Packey McFarland and Manager Emil Thiry left yesterday for Waterbury, Conn., where Packey will box ten rounds with "Kid" Alberts tomorrow.

Joe Mandot is training at Lewis' gymnasium in preparation for his eight round bout with Patsy Drouillard at Windsor, Can., on Dec. 10.

A large number of entries already has been made. Mr. Fisher, who is president of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, is promoting the project.

LONG SEASON FOR TROJAN MANAGER

Evers Will Start Work with Recruits and Hurlers at Tampa About Feb. 9.

OTHERS FOLLOW LATER

Kavanagh, Former 'Fed' Bought by Sox, Presents Queer Claim to Commission.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Manager Evers of the Cubs will put in a long season on the job next year if the plans he has in mind work out satisfactorily. He is meditating beginning his own spring training along with that of a bunch of Cub recruits and pitchers as early as Feb. 9, although that date has not been definitely fixed.

The Trojan's idea is to start the young players and all the pitchers getting into condition at Tampa a fortnight in advance of the rest of the team, consequently the date of inaugurating the Florida training camp depends on when it is thought best to get the whole roster together.

Evers thinks a little later start than last spring's will do for the regulars, and that if the whole squad is in camp about Washington's birthday it will allow time enough in Tampa before starting north. In that case the youngsters ought to start work on Feb. 9, which would necessitate leaving Chicago as early as Feb. 6.

Wants Chance to Study Recruits.

Evers' reason for wanting a fortnight's advance work for the youngsters is to give them a chance to show him what they can do, also an incentive to do it. Hitherto, when all players reported at once, the veterans have started slowly and have felt more or less sure of their positions, and the youngsters have copied the pace of the older players and have not let themselves out. In consequence it has been difficult to determine their worth in the short time allotted to looking them over. Besides, keeping an eye on thirty-five players at once is a good deal like trying to watch a four ring circus, according to Evers.

The Trojan thinks it will be soon enough for the older players to start from Chicago on Feb. 14, which will be five days later than their 1913 getaway. If the youngsters and veteran pitchers are in Tampa on Feb. 9 they will be able to get two weeks of good work, which will put them in good shape for the exhibition games with the Philadelphia and St. Louis American league teams.

Queer Case for Commission.

At the Columbus meeting of the minor league board of arbitration a queer case came up involving the American, Wisconsin-Illinois, and Federal leagues. The board promptly sidestepped it and referred it to the national commission. The case is that of outfielder Kavanagh, a Chicago lad. He signed with the Green Bay team of the Wisconsin-Illinois league, passed up his contract to play with the Chicago Federal league team last season, was injured and released, then went to the White Sox by the Green Bay team, to which he never reported, and now claims one-fourth of the purchase price paid to the Green Bay club. The national board took one slant at the different angles and passed it up to the supreme court immediately.

Here are some of the tangles. Kavanagh claims the contract with Green Bay, which was not binding on him, since he refused to report and live up to it, is binding on the Green Bay club, because it contained a clause whereby he was to receive one-fourth of any coin received for his purchase or draft. Comiskey paid $2,500 for the player and Kavanagh's claim is for $625. Although claiming that part of the contract valid, Kavanagh does not claim any salary from the Green Bay club under the salary clause of the same document. He was paid by the Federal league team for a few weeks after he was hurt, then released.

"Pig in Poke" for Commy.

The player automatically became ineligible when he failed to report to Green Bay, and his standing in organized baseball until he has applied for and received a reinstatement, which has not been done. The Green Bay club sold to Comiskey a player who was ineligible and not in its service, and for that offense is liable for a fine. Comiskey purchased a "pig in a poke," and never has paid anything for his $2,500.

President Johnson of the American league, who is a member of the national commission, yesterday said he had heard nothing of Kavanagh's claim, but it probably would come to him in the regular course of commission business. He said: "At present the player has no standing before the national commission or the board of arbitration and must apply for reinstatement."

A report which gained some credence concerned the name of Mordecai Brown with the management of the Chicago Federal league team for next season. It is stated Brown had the promise of his release from Cincinnati if he could better himself by securing a managerial berth. Brown is in Michigan on a hunting trip and President Gilmore of the local Federal league club was noncommital on the subject, although admitting he would like to secure the three fingered star to handle his team.

LONG SEASON FOR TROJAN MANAGER

OTHERS FOLLOW LATER

Kavanagh, Former 'Fed' Bought by Sox, Presents Queer Claim to Commission.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Manager Evers of the Cubs will put a long season on the job next year if the plans he has in mind work out satisfactorily. He is meditating beginning his own spring training along with that of a bunch of Cub recruits and pitchers as early as Feb. 9, although that date has not been definitely fixed.

The Trojan's idea is to start the young players and all the pitchers getting into condition at Tampa a fortnight in advance of the rest of the team, consequently the date of inaugurating the Florida training camp depends on when it is thought best to get the whole roster together.

Evers thinks a little later start than last spring's will do for the regulars, and that if the whole squad is in camp about Washington's birthday it will allow time enough at Tampa before starting north. In that case the youngsters ought to start work on Feb. 9, which would necessitate leaving Chicago as early as Feb. 6.

Wants Chance to Study Recruits.

Evers' reason for wanting a fortnight of advance work for the youngsters is to give them a chance to show him what they can do and also an incentive to do it. Hitherto, when all the players reported at once, the veterans have started slowly and have felt more or less sure of their positions, and the youngsters have copied the methods of the older players and have not let themselves out. In consequence it has been difficult to determine their worth in the short time allotted to looking them over. Besides, keeping an eye on thirty-five players at once is a good deal like trying to watch a four ring circus, according to Evers.

The Trojan thinks it will be soon enough for the older players to start from Chicago on Feb. [illegible], which will be five days later than their 1913 getaway. If the youngsters and veteran pitchers are in Tampa on Feb. 9 they will be able to get two weeks of good work, which will put them in good shape for the exhibition games with the Philadelphia and St. Louis American league teams.

Queer Case for Commission.

At the Columbus meeting of the minor league board of arbitration a queer case came up involving the American, Wisconsin-Illinois, and Federal leagues. The board promptly sidestepped it and referred it to the national commission. The case is that of outfielder Kavanagh, a Chicago lad. He signed with the Green Bay team of the Wisconsin-Illinois league, passed up his contract to play with the Chicago Federal league team last season, was injured and released, then sold to the White Sox by the Green Bay team, to whom he never reported, and now claims one quarter of the purchase price paid to the Green Bay club. The national board took one slant at the different angles and passed it up to the supreme court immediately.

Here are some of the tangles. Kavanagh claims the contract with Green Bay, which was not binding on him, since he refused to report and live up to it, is binding on the Green Bay club, because it contained a clause whereby he was to receive one-fourth of any coin received for his purchase or draft. Comiskey paid $2,500 for the player, so Kavanagh's claim is for $625. Although claiming that part of the contract valid, Kavanagh does not claim any salary from the Green Bay club under the salary clause of the same document. He was paid by the Federal league team for a few weeks after he was hurt, then released.

"Pig in Poke" for Commy.

The player automatically became ineligible when he failed to report to Green Bay, and lost his standing in organized baseball until he has applied for and received a reinstatement, which has not been done. The Green Bay club sold to Comiskey a player who was ineligible and not in its service and for that offense is liable for a fine. Comiskey purchased a "pig in a poke," and never has had anything for his $2,500.

President Johnson of the American league, as a member of the national commission, yesterday said he had heard nothing of Kavanagh's claim, but it probably would come to him in the regular course of commission business. He said: "At present the player has no standing before the national commission or the board of arbitration and must apply for reinstatement."

A report which gained some credence connected the name of Mordecai Brown with the management of the Chicago Federal league team for next season. It is stated Brown had the promise of his release from Cincinnati if he could better himself by securing a managerial berth. Brown is in Michigan on a hunting trip and President Gilmore of the local Federal league club was noncommittal on the subject, although admitting he would like to secure the three fingered star to handle his team.

CHRIS KAAD GETS HIGHEST BOWLING MARK OF SEASON

Anchor of Silver Team in Northwest League Averages 243 1-3, Beating Record of Walter Scully.

Chris Kaad set a new season's bowling record last night when he anchored the Silvers of the Northwest league for 243 1-3. HOGS GO LOWER; RECEIPTS HEAVY Market Recedes 10@15 Cents Under Pressure of 28,000 Head.

CATTLE TRADE STAGNANT

Liberal Midweek Run Forecast and Buyers Hesitate; Muttons Slump.

Hog prices at Chicago yesterday continued to slide downward, making fresh recessions of 10@15c. The average price for the day was $7.66, against $7.77 Monday, and only a few selected hogs reached the high mark of $8.00. Excessive receipts again were the cause of the reduction in prices, the run being placed at 28,000 head, against expectations of 24,000 or less. Pigs were 25@50c lower for the day.

Cattle trade was stagnant. Advanced railroad reports indicated a liberal run of stock in sight for the midweek market and buyers evinced little interest in the day's offerings of 6,000 head. Prices were largely 15@25c lower than at the close last week, but little business was consummated at the figures. Calves sold at a decline of 25@50c, with prime vealers at $10.75.

Sheep and lamb market rallied 15@25c from Monday's sharp break. The opening trade was slow, but the demand developed aggressiveness as the session progressed and the market closed firm at the upturn. Many loads of lambs topped at $7.00 and one lot reached $7.05.

BUTTER TRADE UNCHANGED.

Creamery Grades Firm, Cheaper Stock Neglected; Potatoes Steady.

Egg market at Chicago yesterday, quoted at the highest prices ever touched at this time of the year, acted decidedly top heavy, and dealers appeared apprehensive of an impending collapse. Cold storage eggs were urged on sale at a decline of ½c a dozen and weakness pervaded the market for fresh offerings, although values were not lowered. Receipts were 2,939 cases.

Conditions in the market for butter remained unchanged. Best grades of creamery make were in fair demand at fair prices, but buyers neglected the cheaper grades and liberal offerings of the latter had to be carried over unsold. Receipts were 7,358 tubs, showing a fair increase over recent arrivals.

Live geese sold at a decline of ½c a pound and were in excessive supply at the reduction. Other descriptions of live poultry were without change and in fair demand, with total receipts of 10 cars and 1,835 coops.

Potato market held on a steady basis. Receipts were 55 cars and the trade was fairly active, with sales at 70@75c a bu on track.

Wisconsin Supreme Court Rules for Answer on $240,000 Fee Claimed by the State.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—The Wisconsin Supreme court today granted the attorney general a writ of mandamus to compel the Northern Pacific Railway company to show cause why it should not be compelled to file in the office of the secretary of state amendments to its articles of incorporation increasing its capital stock from $10,000,000 to $250,000,000.

A filing fee of $240,000, alleged to be due the state, is involved.

The merits of the state's claim against the railway company will now be tried by mandamus proceedings in the Supreme court in January.

CHICAGO STOCKS TRAIL NEW YORK

Peoples Gas Shares Decline in Both Markets; Distribution Prevails.

NEW ISSUE AN INFLUENCE

Not All Holders Wish to Add Securities, So Sell Purchase Rights.

The local market conditions were influenced largely by the New York situation. Peoples Gas was a feature following the decline on the eastern exchange. There the stock dropped from a previous day's close of 120 to a low price of 118½. The last quotation was ¼ better. Locally sales closed at 119¼, against the previous day's close at 120⅛.

Owing to unusual activity that prevailed about six weeks ago there was a wide distribution of speculative holdings. Brokerage houses have considerable lines of the stock and generally are wondering why the price has fallen away 11 and 12 points.

While various special reasons have been suggested it is considered probable that the new issue of stock is in part responsible for selling orders. Not all holders of the shares desire to increase their investment, and rather than make provision for purchasing 10 per cent more than they now have, either sell their rights or a portion of their holdings.

Selling Orders Dominate Situation.

This situation keeps continued offerings on the market, and with an absence of support the selling orders dominate the situation. The stock has just been put on an 8 per cent basis and by all ordinary calculations should be selling higher if there were not a current belief that the market will sag still further. A few trades were made in the rights at 1⅝.

Sears-Roebuck common was moderately active. It is now understood that a distribution of stock or a dividend "melon" next year is improbable. Net earnings for 1913 will be better than the previous year, but not sufficiently so to excite enthusiasm in the market. Union Carbide was fairly steady around 200, with not much doing.

Commonwealth Edison dropped off another point to 129. Transactions were rather small. Diamond Match was steady at 93. There was nothing of consequence doing in the bond department.

Local Money Steady.

The local money market opens the week with no special change. The commercial banks sold to a 6 per cent minimum, while some of the trust companies are lending sparingly at 5½.

The general demand is reported good. The banks are not predicting much change in rates until after the turn of the year. Then with the acknowledged recession in business and some further disquietude that is anticipated, the market may or may not work considerably lower. Business conditions suggest lower rates at that time.

Standard Oil Shares Active.

Trading in Standard Oil shares on the New York curb was reported large and the volume of investment buying as great as during the rise which took place last year. The leaders show advances during the last few weeks of from 25 to 150 points. Vacuum oil has risen 20 points in two days and is quoted at 192@193.

Standard Oil of New York is firm around 158½ on expectations of early dividends. Atlantic refining jumped 50 points in two weeks and is strong at 720. A "melon" is anticipated.

Inquiries for Assets Realization.

There were no sales of Assets Realization stock. The bid price reported was 40 and the asked price 60. There developed some local inquiry for the shares, being the first noted in weeks. The bidders, however, were not willing to pay the price asked.

Dividends Declared.

The National Transit company has declared a dividend of 75 cents a share, payable Dec. 15 to holders of record Nov. 20.

The Atlantic Coast Line railroad company has declared a dividend of 3½ per cent on its common stock, payable Jan. 10. Books close Dec. 10, reopen Jan. 12.

LATEST WALL STREET GOSSIP.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Hearings before the interstate commerce commission in connection with the application of the eastern roads for a 5 per cent increase in freight rates begin next Monday. It is a matter of some satisfaction to people who have been following the fortunes of the railroads closely that the railroads will have the opportunity of presenting their side of the case first. Since the case ultimately will be decided by public opinion, the railroads will gain what advantage there lies in being able to present the main features of their case, while public interest in the matter is keenest.

The interstate commerce commission has requested that the committee representing the railroads have some one make an introductory address in the way of a broad statement covering all the points that the roads will attempt to prove. This will not be in the nature of an argument so much as a summary of the questions involved and the points to be taken up.

Trading in the former Standard Oil subsidiaries probably is on a larger scale at the present time than it ever was even in the early days of the independent existence of these companies when prices all along the line had their first sensational rise. As illustrating the character of the market that prevails in these shares, it is reported that one house did as much as 2,000 shares on Monday in one of the highest priced stocks.

During the last few weeks prices have advanced all along the line from 25 to 150 points. This weakening of activity in the oil shares is all the more interesting because the market for them probably has changed radically in the last year and now is on an altogether different basis.

For one thing the process of assembling the fractional parts of the shares has been accomplished. The market for this group has broadened out enormously from the restricted one which prevailed at first. Detailed information regarding the affairs of the various properties still is relatively incomplete, but investment and speculation in the oil shares by what may be called "outsiders" is on a larger scale than most people probably believe.

There is no doubt that the extraordinary appreciation in the prices of the stocks of the former Standard Oil subsidiaries has taken a firm hold on the imagination of the public. Investment houses report a larger number of inquiries regarding these shares from their customers in all parts of the country than in any other group of stocks. It is unquestionable that the last year has seen a larger distribution of these shares than those who have not been in touch with the market are aware.

It is interesting to recall a constantly recurring rumor in the years preceding the dissolution of the old Standard Oil organization, which was that the capital stock of the corporation one day would be greatly increased and the par value scaled down to a point where the stock would prove attractive to the public. It would seem as if by a different method some such process of popularization of the securities of the oil company now is under way.

Some people prophesy that in the not far distant future what was supposed to be contemplated by the old company will be carried out in the case of many or all of the present oil shares, and that they will be listed on the stock exchange with the possibility eventually of a big public market in them.

DULLNESS MARKS NEW YORK STOCKS

Quotations at Closing, However, Remain Close to Top Figures of Rise.

NEW HAVEN TAKES JUMP.

Quiet Trading Indicates General Market Is in a Sold Out Condition.

New York, Nov. 18.—A firm undertone prevailed throughout today's trading in stocks. It was one of the dullest days of the year. After a display of moderate activity in the first hour, during which prices were sent up as much as a point in some cases, the market dropped off into the same somnolent condition as yesterday.

In spite of the virtual cessation of buying, stocks were held close to the top figures of the opening rise. It was evident that the market was in a sold out condition.

New Haven Gains 2 Points.

New Haven, whose steady decline has been in progress so long that its frequent new low records have attracted little attention recently, was the strong feature of the railroad list today. The quotation was marked up about two points to a level nearly five points above the low record recently established.

Some of the specialties were weak. There was a drop of 5¾ in International Steam Pump preferred to 18, a low mark for the year. The common sold down to 5⅛, also the year's bottom figure.

Aside from depressing reports from the steel trade, indicating a still further falling off in new business and additional price reductions the day passed without developments. Time money was somewhat easier, and the decline in speculation was reflected in call money, of which there was an oversupply.

Bonds Move Uncertainly.

Bonds moved uncertainly with some inactive lines falling severely. Virginia debt certificates, after rising 3 points yesterday, advanced strongly today, touching 59, as compared with 53 at the opening of the week. The rise was based on expectation of an agreement between Virginia and West Virginia for adjustment of the debt. Total sales of bonds [par value], $2,050,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Call money easier; 2¼@3 per cent; ruling rate, 3 per cent; closing bid, 2½@2¾. Time loans weaker; 60 days, 5 per cent, and 90 days, 4¾@5 per cent; six months, 4¾@5 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5¾@6 per cent. Sterling exchange steady at 4.81 for 60 days and 4.8540 for demand. Commercial bills, 4.80¾. Bar silver, 59¾c. Mexican dollars, 46c. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds irregular.

DAYTON WANTS GOETHALS' AID.

Ohio City Sends Message to Canal Builder Asking Him to Become Manager.

Dayton, O., Nov. 18.—A telegram was sent today to Col. George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, offering him the city managership of Dayton under the new commission form of government.

The city commissioners told Col. Goethals in their telegram that "Dayton wants the best equipped man in America" and assured him that that city was "willing to pay a larger salary than the federal government pays its army officers."

There is no assurance that Col. Goethals will consider the offer.

SAYS BEET SUGAR INDUSTRY WILL BE KILLED BY 1916.

Sentiment Expressed at National Gathering Is That Tariff Will Wipe Out Business.

Beet sugar as an industry in the United States will be practically wiped out after March, 1916, by provisions of the new tariff which makes this a free beet sugar country after that date, according to sentiment expressed at the annual meeting of the United States Beet Sugar Industry, which was held at the Congress hotel yesterday.

"With the enforcement of the present tariff on beet sugar," said C. C. Hamlin of Colorado Springs, Colo., secretary of the association, "beet sugar as an industry in the United States is wiped out, for the free tariff provisions will send the manufactured article into this country from Germany, Russia, and Cuba almost as cheap as it can be grown here."

The officers chosen for 1914 are: President, John L. Howard, San Francisco; secretary and treasurer, Truman G. Palmer, Chicago; directors, John L. Howard, San Francisco, Cal.; John R. Cutler, Salt Lake City, Utah; Chester S. Morey, Denver, Colo.; C. C. Hamlin, Colorado Springs, Colo.; C. N. Smith, Bay City, Mich.; John McCormick, Menominee, Mich.

WHEAT SUFFERS SHARP SETBACK

Longs Liquidate on More Favorable Argentine Reports; Buying Scattered.

EXPORTERS BUY FREELY.

Coarse Grains Close Lower; Corn Acceptances Are Light in the Country.

Wheat prices showed a little firmness right at the start yesterday, shorts covering on the change in the visible making the increase only 3,665,000 bu, instead of 4,702,000 bu, as reported the previous day. Later the selling pressure increased, more encouraging advices from the Argentine stimulating selling. Local longs sold out freely and there was more aggressive work on the part of the bears. Liverpool closed weak and ½d off, which added to the bearish sentiment prevailing. Final prices were ⅛ to ⅝@¾c off.

Rankin, Hellman, Skillen, and other local longs were credited with selling, and there was commission house selling led by Jackson Bros, Fitch, Armour, Kidston, and Colvin. Barrett was a heavy seller at times throughout the session. Bartlett-Frazier sold early, but later were buyers. The outside buying demand was light.

Cash Sales Are Liberal.

Reports of sales of 200,000 bu No. 2 hard winter to go all rail to Baltimore failed to check the selling. Some of this wheat sold at least was not sold to go abroad, eastern houses buying to get the storage charges. At Buffalo there was a better milling demand, and Duluth No. 1 northern was said to be close to an export basis. Total sales here were 240,000 bu.

World's stocks made a bearish showing, increasing 9,500,000 bu for the week, compared to a gain a year ago of 8,600,000 bu. The European visible increased 3,072,000 bu and Canadian stocks gained 1,575,000 bu. Winnipeg reported the cash demand less urgent, and prices at Minneapolis were a shade lower relatively for cash wheat. Flour sales were reported light northwest, but local millers said there was a good trade.

Foreign News Is Mixed.

Foreign news was mixed. Crop conditions are not entirely satisfactory in western Europe, and wheat holders are inclined to hold their wheat, and there is no change in the attitude of Russian holders. In France seeding has been delayed by wet weather. Argentine weather conditions were more favorable, although reports were not all of an optimistic tenor. In northern Argentina the weather is now hot and muggy.

Paris was ⅛@1⅛c higher; Antwerp, ⅝c up; Berlin, ¼c up; and Budapest, ⅜c up. Clearances of wheat and flour for the day were 739,000 bu. Primary arrivals were 1,754,000 bu, compared to 2,606,000 bu, and receipts posted at Chicago include some of the Duluth wheat recently shipped here. Northwest cars were 543, against 1,167 cars a year ago. Winnipeg cars were 1,033, compared to 877 cars a year ago.

Corn Has Weaker Tone.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

Broomhall's weekly crop summary said: "France—Continued wet weather is preventing the finishing of seeding and the resumption of threshing, except on a very limited scale. Early sown shows a favorable outlook. Offers of native wheat are light but increased offers are expected shortly.

"Germany—The weather is wet and this is favorable for the new crops. Offering of native wheat continues on a moderate scale and therefore there is a good business doing in foreign wheat and the demand is increasing, especially in southern regions, where the yield and quality is bad.

"Russia—The crop outlook is favorable except in the southwest. The weather generally is favorable. Growers are still holding.

"India—There is very little improvement in the outlook and drought continues. In the central and upper regions dryness is very severe. Natives are holding firmly."

Sales of cash wheat here yesterday included 200,000 bu No. 2 hard for shipment all rail to Baltimore. In regard to part of the wheat sold, it was said that the grain was bought by eastern houses for storage and had not been sold for export. Wheat at Buffalo was in good demand from mills, all the domestic grades being wanted. Duluth No. 1 northern wheat is close to export basis and it is said there has been some business done the last few days. Total sales from Chicago were 240,000 bu. Kansas City, Omaha, and St. Louis reported a slow demand for wheat. Offerings at winter wheat points were moderate.

Cash corn here was ½@½c off for old and ½@⅝c off for new corn. Offerings were reported smaller than the previous day from the country. The shipping demand was not urgent. Kansas City was ½@1c lower for corn with the demand less urgent, and Omaha was ½@2½c off. St. Louis prices declined ½@1c off. At Peoria old corn was unchanged with new unchanged to ½c higher. Oats were ½c lower here with a fair demand. Local shipping sales were 100,000 bu corn and 130,000 bu oats.

Argentine cables were mostly of a more bearish tenor. The weather has cleared up in the north to some extent, and in the south it is now claimed the damage was overestimated, the rains having improved conditions materially. Broomhall's advices were less pessimistic and the more favorable outlook influenced considerable selling at Liverpool. Late cables said the weather in the north was now hot and muggy.

"A few ribs will now be made, but those made from these light and medium hogs will be of desirable averages and will find a ready sale in the south long before they are cured, as the south can use partly cured meat at this season,' said Barrell & Co. "Both the spot and future lard market is in a healthy position and should attract investors on any moderate depression."

Indiana reports to Bartlett-Frazier: Acton—Bad weather for gathering corn, which is yielding less than expected. Lowell—Corn husking 10 to 15 bu less than expected. Algiers—Most of the corn is being shredded and rain is damaging it. Warsaw—Large part of the corn still in the fields. Wheat looking fine. Salem—Wheat in fine shape. Corn crop short.

Logan-Bryan had the following from Kansas City: "Our wheat stock increased 207,000 bu last week, now 8,566,000 bu. Exporters say we are 3@4c out of line with comparatively light receipts. Stocks still increasing. Looks like we will have to drop to an export basis to cut stock down materially before spring."

The visible supply of wheat in Europe this week amounts to 84,160,000 bu, against 81,088,000 bu, thus showing an increase of 3,072,000 bu. Last week there was an increase of 3,892,000 bu and last year an increase of 300,000 bu, when the total amounted to 88,100,000 bu.

The directors yesterday elected the following to membership: Otto Keusch, C. B. Barbee, C. A. Rasche, C. A. Nash, and A. H. Smith. The hearing in regard to the application of Mark Bates for reinstatement was deferred for one week.

Frank Sissler, who has been for some time with the Western Union, has gone to work for the Armour Grain company. As assistant manager for the Western Union, he has made many friends among the members of the board of trade.

John F. Barrett was back on the floor yesterday after a six weeks' stay at Eureka Springs, Ark. He was one of the principal sellers of wheat in the pit yesterday.

Estimated receipts for today: Wheat, 31 cars; corn, 65 cars; oats, 84 cars; rye, 9 cars; barley, 61 cars; hogs, 44,000 head.

Winnipeg wires: "No pronounced selling here, principally local. Cash demand less urgent."

Bernard W. Lewis has made application for membership on the board of trade.

Minneapolis wheat stocks increased 200,000 bu for three days.

Sales of 350,000 bu oats to go to store were reported.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Money and discount rates were firm today, despite the probability of the Bank of England getting most of the $3,750,000 new gold offerings in the open market. The stock market opened cheerful with Mexican and home rails leading a moderate advance. Some weakness which developed at noon disappeared later and the market closed generally firm and higher. Home rails were prominent leaders in the afternoon and rubber shares were helped by the higher auction prices. Kaffirs were weak on Paris selling and the labor troubles in South Africa. American securities opened steady and advanced on fair buying during the first hour. Prices sagged under realizing in the early afternoon, but New York buying rallied the list in the late trading and the close was firm.

MAY REPORT TAX BY FISCAL YEAR

Corporations Given Option of Filing Income Schedules Two Ways.

CAN FIX OWN PERIODS.

Current Year to Rule Unless Other Election Is Made; Regulations Out.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—[Special.]—Regulations for the filing of income tax schedules by corporations which elect to account for their profits by fiscal instead of the calendar year were issued today by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborn.

It is expected nearly all corporations will prefer to take advantage of this change in the assessment of the corporation tax, most of them filing returns for the fiscal year ending June 30.

Phases of New Regulations.

The regulations follow:

"Any corporation, joint stock company or association, or any insurance company subject to the tax imposed by this act may at its option have the tax payable by it computed upon the basis of the income received (accrued) from all sources during its fiscal year, provided that it shall designate the last day of the month selected as the month in which its fiscal year shall close as the day of the closing of its fiscal year, and shall, not less than thirty days prior to the date upon which its annual return is to be filed, give notice in writing to the collector of internal revenue of the district in which its principal place of business is located of the day it has thus designated as the closing of its fiscal year.

Explains Fiscal Year Method.

"In pursuance of this provision, a corporation or like organization subject to this tax may, for example, designate the thirtieth day of September as the day for the closing of its fiscal year, whereupon its return of annual net income shall be filed with the collector of internal revenue of the district in which its principal place of business is located not later than sixty days after the close of its said proposed fiscal year—that is to say, on or before the twenty-ninth day of November next succeeding.

"The date of the closing of the fiscal year having been designated, notice thereof must be given to the collector not less than thirty days prior to the last day of the sixty day period. In the case just instanced the notice must be given not later than Oct. 31.

Year Broken Into Two Periods.

"If such designation (Sept. 30, 1913) had been made and notice given as hereinbefore indicated, as to the closing of the fiscal year 1913, the corporation would be authorized to make its return and have the tax payable by it computed upon the basis of the net income received (accrued) by it during the period from Jan. 1 to Sept. 30, 1913, both dates inclusive.

"In the absence of such designation and notice of the closing of the fiscal year, corporations and like organizations subject to this tax will be required to make their returns and have the tax computed upon the basis of the net income for the calendar year.

Course of Collectors Indicated.

"Collectors of internal revenue receiving notices of the selection and designation of the 'fiscal years,' as above indicated, will make record of the same, recording (A) the name of the corporation or like organization; (B) the date when the notice was given; (C) the day designated for the closing of the fiscal year, and (D) the date when the return under such designation must be filed, which must be, as above stated, not later than the last day of the sixty day period next following the day designated as the close of the fiscal year.

"If it shall appear that for the current year the notice was given within the prescribed time, that is, within thirty days of the last day of the sixty day period, the 1913 return may be made as of the fiscal year so established; otherwise it will be made on the basis of the calendar year until such time as the designation shall be duly made and notice thereof properly given.

Notice Cannot Be Retroactive.

"The designation and notice cannot be retroactive, that is to say, if a corporation now designates April 30, 1914, as the date of the closing of its fiscal year and gives notice of such designation it would not be authorized to make a return for the four months ended April 30, 1913, and then for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1914, nor would it be authorized to make a return covering the entire sixteen months ended April 30, 1914. In the case of such corporation the return for the current year must be made for the calendar year ended Dec. 3, 1913, and then, assuming that designation and notice had been properly made and given, it may make a return for the four months ended April 30, 1914, and thereafter the return will be made on the basis of the fiscal year so established.

Calendar Year Other Alternative.

"In all cases where a fiscal year is not established as above prescribed, returns must be made on the basis of the calendar year, in which case such returns must be filed on or before the first day of March next succeeding such calendar year.

"Such returns, for the period covered, must be true and accurate, definite and complete and in as far as consistent with the provisions of the law, must conform to the showing made by the books of the company and must be certified under oath or affirmation of its president or other principal officer, and its treasurer or assistant treasurer; that is to say, by two different persons acting in the official capacity indicated.

"If it shall appear in any case that returns have been made to the collector on the basis of a fiscal year not designated, as above indicated, the corporations making such returns will be advised that such returns cannot be accepted, but must be made to cover the business of the calendar year.

Official Forms for Reports.

"Returns made under this act and pursuant to the instructions must be made on the new forms prescribed by this department.

"The forms heretofore in use under the special excise tax law cannot be used for making returns for either the fiscal or calendar year 1913.

"If returns of such corporations as have properly established a fiscal year are due to be made before the new forms are available, the collector will be authorized to grant an extension of time to such corporations, not exceeding thirty (30) days, for the filing of such returns, by which time the new forms prescribed will be available for distribution."

Will Investigate Fire.

Battalion Chief Michael Kerwin has asked the fire attorney to investigate the origin of a blaze which destroyed the interior of a one story brick building at 230 South Halsted street, occupied by the clothing store of Silverman Brothers yesterday.

CHECK ON CASH STRINGENCY

Both Factions of Senate Committee Amend Currency Measures.

CHANGE RESERVE PLANS.

Wilson Forces Reinstate "Lawful Money" in Redemption Clause.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—Measures of protecting the country against any financial stringency when the proposed new currency system goes into effect were considered today by both the Democratic and Republican wings of the senate banking and currency committee.

The Democrats adopted a change that would permit local banks to deposit half of the required reserve in the regional bank in the form of commercial paper instead of requiring the entire deposit to be in cash. Another amendment would authorize the federal reserve board to make the new treasury notes and the present bank notes eligible for use as part of the reserves to relieve embarrassment during the transition period.

Change in Reserve Provision.

The Republicans and Senator Hitchcock, continuing their work on a draft of the bill, adopted a more radical change, providing that banks need deposit only a 1 per cent reserve when the new system becomes effective, an additional 1 per cent to be deposited each six months until the entire reserve of 5 per cent has been provided for.

President Wilson let the Democratic senators know in positive terms today that he was opposed to the movement, now under way, to secure an adjournment of congress for the week prior to the opening of the regular December session.

Reinstates "Lawful Money" Clause.

The administration forces once more reinstated the disputed "lawful money" provision. The clause provides that the new currency shall be payable in gold at the treasury in Washington, but shall be payable in "gold or lawful money" at each regional bank. In this connection the committee strengthened the gold redemption fund requirements.

RECEIVER FOR HART BROS., OLD TIME CLOTHING FIRM.

Three Creditors File Petitions in Bankruptcy, Alleging Liabilities Are $300,000—Blame Tight Money.

Hart Bros., the oldest manufacturers and wholesalers of men's furnishing goods in Chicago and one of the oldest firms of its kind in the United States, yesterday went into the hands of a receiver. The firm has been in continuous business in Chicago for sixty years.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against the firm in the United States District court by three creditors with claims totaling $8,500. According to Attorney Jacob Newman, counsel for the petitioners, the liabilities are in excess of $300,000. The assets, it was said, are below that figure. The firm's place of business is at 560 South Fifth avenue.

A tight money market and a consequent inability to make collections on hundreds of outstanding accounts were advanced as reasons for the petition. On the recommendation of Attorney Newman Judge Mack appointed Hiram J. Halle receiver, whose bond was fixed at $50,000. Plans for reorganizing the corporation are under way.

The petition lays stress on the fact the company has on hand a large stock of fall and winter merchandise, which, unless it is sold immediately, will greatly depreciate in value.

Merwin M. Hart, attorney for Hart Bros., said:

"We attribute our difficulties to the stringency of the money market and the difficulty in making collections, together with the general unsettled state of affairs in the localities where we do our heaviest business.

"We believe that with the assistance of our creditors we shall effect a reorganization at an early date.

SEES CO-OPERATIVE INDUSTRY AS LABOR TROUBLE PANACEA.

Victor S. Yarros Writes in American Journal of Sociology on "Social Science and Labor's Wants."

"Society is moving toward coöperative industry and gradually displacing the capitalistic or wage system with its inevitable division of employers and employed into hostile camps."

This view is stated by Victor S. Yarros, who writes in the current issue of the American Journal of Sociology, issued yesterday by the University of Chicago Press.

Mr. Yarros writes on "Social Science and What Labor Wants." He points out that coöperation and profit sharing is the issue of the day and that the labor unionist will not be content until coöperative industry is established.

"The modern unionist," he writes, "has not modified his views materially in twenty-five years. He is no revolutionist; he does not dream of overthrowing the social order. He constantly strives to secure better wages, to shorten his workday, to improve the conditions under which he works. Labor unions never will have enough. They always will be demanding more pay, shorter hours, and safer and healthier conditions of work.

"The modifications of the economic and political conditions will not be the work of syndicalism alone. Trade unionism, socialism, individualistic opposition to state or bureaucratic despotism will severally contribute to the same general result.

SAYS 18 PER CENT RESERVE TOO HIGH

G. M. Reynolds Believes Provision in Currency Measure Should Be 15.

MOULTON OPPOSES BILL.

E. D. Hulbert Lacks Sympathy with Hostile Spirit Expressed in East.

Continued ill feeling by some of the eastern bankers against the reserve provision in the pending currency bill is shared to only a slight extent by Chicago bankers. There is a feeling here that the 18 per cent reserve demanded of city banks as against only 12 per cent by the country banks is too great.

"I should prefer to have it set at 15 per cent," said George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial bank, "but I don't wish to appear too critical. It is only a personal opinion.

"The point is that by the ultimate compulsion of all banks to carry the specified reserve, either in their own vaults or those of the regional banks of the system, distinction between city and country banks has been swept away. Yet there is this marked difference in reserve requirements.

No Fixed Percentage.

"The scientific, economic principle would be to have no fixed percentage for all banks, owing to the differing conditions in different parts of the country. That is the case abroad save in the central banks of the various countries. I'm perfectly aware such a plan would not be considered in the United States, but I repeat it is the scientific plan.

"The argument of the far greater proportion of demand deposits in the city banks is hardly potent, because their securities are far more liquid. Commercial paper is much more liquid than is the farmers' paper of the country banks, and in that lies the ample protection against deposits."

D. A. Moulton, vice president of the Corn Exchange National bank, confesses he still is opposed to the currency bill in many of its features and expressed satisfaction with present high requirements.

Says Allowance Is Temporary.

E. D. Hulbert, vice president of the Merchants' Loan and Trust company, whose counsel was sought in devising the amended bill, was not inclined to sympathize with the hostile spirit expressed in the east.

"The allowance to the country banks to leave 4 of the 12 per cent with the reserve city correspondents is of course temporary," he said, "and after three years all must be in vault or with the regional bank. But that does not mean the country banks will not continue to carry extensive accounts with city correspondents, for they will whether it counts as reserve or not.

"Perhaps it is not generally understood that the 18 per cent applies only to demand deposits. Only 5 per cent must be held against time deposits.

"I don't think there is any general objection to the 18 per cent minimum. On the contrary, I think most of the city banks would carry that amount anyway. I don't think it at all onerous."

URGES COTTON CONTRACT TAX TO HALT GAMBLING IN FUTURES.

Ex-Senator McLaurin of South Carolina Tells Gotham Committee Option Plan Should Be Amended.

New York, Nov. 18.—Ex-Senator J. L. McLaurin of South Carolina proposed a plan for ending objectionable gambling in cotton futures in an address today to a committee from the New York cotton exchange which is considering changes in the rules to meet criticisms directed against present methods.

Mr. McLaurin said the present system was objectionable because cotton prices made on the New York exchange was based upon the supply of cotton in New York warehouses. As this stock of cotton is only a comparatively small part of the total, he said, it was possible for speculators to manipulate prices for gambling purposes in a way which would not otherwise be possible.

Mr. McLaurin suggested that the plan for a tax on cotton options which was considered recently by congress be amended to provide for a heavy tax on all contracts made through all exchanges in the United States, provided that cotton delivered in the state in which it is grown be exempt from the tax.

"What would you do then?" he said. "Your New York stock of cotton would be absolutely valueless for the purpose of inflating or depressing prices."

Wisconsin Decisions Upheld.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 18.—Board of trade dealings in futures constitute gambling and are legally void, the state Supreme court held today in upholding the decision of the Milwaukee civil and circuit courts in a case involving a Milwaukee commission firm and a customer.

Will You Take a Chance?

I am in touch with a zinc mining proposition near Joplin, Mo., where quite a sum of money has been spent in developing the property by drilling it and by the sinking of two shafts. The ore is struck at 150 feet; the ground is soft and easily worked. About $7100 worth of ore has been produced from the present shaft. This ore was milled off the ground. The owner of the 20 acres will lease the ground on a 10% Royalty basis. From ten to twelve thousand dollars, wisely spent in further drilling and development work, might yield a return of $5,000 a month gross for the next 15 years.

I want a few men to join me in the leasing of this property and the handling of it. We will control the whole thing. I will put up my money along with yours. I charge nothing for the lease. It will be an open game. A little money spent will tell whether we can make a fortune or lose what we put into it.

If you have $100 or $500 to gamble with, here is a good chance. Will you take that chance?

AUTOMOBILES—GASOLINE

COME AND RIDE IN "THE MIGHTY MICHIGAN," TODAY—RIGHT NOW.

The car they are all talking about; the car that has caused the biggest kind of a stir in the motor world; the high grade car that has never before been sold by any motor car company anywhere for such a low price. Come today for a spin over the boulevards in "The Mighty Michigan." Examine this splendid car—one of the finest ever constructed; test it for yourself; compare it to other high grade cars; then consider the price. Has any motor car company—even ourselves—ever equaled it? Most certainly not.

FULLY EQUIPPED. $990.

We mean just what we say—"The Mighty Michigan" is worth more than twice what we are selling it for. Again we challenge any motor car expert to find a car equal to "The Mighty Michigan" that is being sold for less than $1,800. Could we stand behind a challenge like this if we did not know that our claim is the truth? Surely not.

HOW CAN WE SELL FOR $990 THIS SPLENDID CAR?

It would be impossible if we had not struck the most fortunate business deal in our history. The circumstances were such that a large amount of money—paid in cash—secured a limited number of "Mighty Michigans" at a price so low that we ourselves were astonished. Our great buying power and our quick action made it possible for us to sell this beautiful high grade car at a price we ourselves would have said was impossible. Send for our bulletin. Everything for an automobile at half price.

Women's, Misses' and Children's Outfitters

Two Styles in Chemise-Pantalon
Specially Priced at $1.95

These attractive garments, our own special design, have grown tremendously in popularity since first introduced, due no doubt to their many advantages, especially with the present mode of dress.

They are particularly suited to the straight lines of the natural figure, and for wear over tights without a petticoat.

At left is illustrated a dainty model of sheer nainsook, trimmed with Normany Val. lace and having ribbon straps over the shoulders. Specially priced at $1.95.

At right, a dainty garment of sheer batiste, embroidered and trimmed with insets of crochet medallions. Special, $1.95.

UNDERMUSLINS EXTRAORDINARY—French princess slips, all hand-made and beautifully hand embroidered, originally priced at $7.50, $11.50, $13.50, $15 and $25, are now marked at exactly one half these prices, which means some wonderful values.

Two New Redfern Models
$3.00 and $6.00

Designed to meet the needs of two entirely different types of figures.

The model at left is cut on lines especially adapted to the needs of a tall, full figure. It has a low, full bust, with long, broad front steel and is firmly boned over the front, flattening a full abdomen. The long skirt has elastic bands which control the flesh of the limbs and add to the comfort of the wearer when seated. In sizes up to 36; price $6.00.

The model at right is especially designed for medium and slender figures; the back is made very flat and the spacing of the steels prevents the pressure over the hip bones. Made in batiste, sizes 19 to 24, and in coutil, sizes 25 to 30. An unusually good value, price $3.00.

CORSETS EXTRAORDINARY—One big lot of Corsets composed of Steevens' Special and Steevecco models, formerly sold at $7.50, now just half price, or $3.75.

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & CO.
